Question of Issues and Vice Presidential Candidate of Little Concern.

JESTS ABOUT PARTY PLANKS

By CHESTER D. POTTER.
(Staff Correspondent.)
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Louis, July 5.—"Platforms are like sausages, we sometimes respect them less when we know how they are made."

Ex-Senator David B. Hill of New York, made this statement to The Gazette correspondent this evening in answer to several inquiries submitted to him relative to the financial feature of the platform, which will be adopted by the Democratic national convention. Senator Hill is a judge of platforms. He has had a life-long acquaintance with Democratic platforms. He knows how little and how much they mean. It is also possible that he has a speaking acquaintance with sausage. That, however, is a matter which need not be passed upon here. The subject is political and not gastronomic. Not since his famous utterance, "I am a Democrat," which has clung to Mr. Hill for so many years, has he summarized a situation so graphically and with so pat an epigram as he did tonight.

With the certainty of Judge Parker's nomination, Senator Hill seems disposed to permit the convention to pass upon some of the material questions within the environment of its official responsibility. He tonight informed the writer that the question of who would act as permanent chairman of the convention as well as who would be selected for chairmanship of the committee on resolutions, would not be definitely decided until tomorrow. There is but little question that when the right time comes Hill will not only have platform and chairmanship views but that he will also have the elective strength to compel their adoption.

Hill Holds the Whip.

At this time it wouldn't be policy for the Parker manager to assume the position of dictator. He is sufficiently tactical and diplomatic to understand that it will be more profitable to crack the whip after the states have caucused and Mr. Parker's nomination on the first ballot has been assured beyond all peradventure.

This afternoon Senator Dubois of Idaho, who has been leading the movement for the vice presidential nomination of George E. Turner of Washington, said that Mr. Turner would accept the nomination provided the platform adopted was one upon which he could consistently stand. When asked if Mr. Bryan would bolt providing the platform was of the Mississippi type, also if Mr. Parker were nominated, Senator Dubois said that Mr. Bryan would not find it possible to repudiate any platform or any action acceptable to Mr. Turner.

Turner has, since Mr. Bryan became a factor in 1896, been regarded as one of his followers. He has not evidenced the same insane idiosyncrasies which have characterized the public expressions of the Nebraskan, yet, nevertheless, he has been regarded as one of those fundamentally in sympathy with the apostle of 16 to 1.

Since Parker's name was projected into the field of eligibles, ex-Senator Turner has evidenced a warm regard for the New Yorker's opportunity. Possibly he also thought that in the mix-up he might himself stand in the shadow of the chief reorganization leader's shadow. That, however, is a matter of selfish consideration, one that should not be charged to any Democrat. As they explain it, all of the representatives of the party are here in support of principle and not of individual preferment. No doubt Mr. Turner should be so classified.

Only Interested in Parker.

When I asked Senator Hill what he though of Mr. Turner's chances, the answer was: "My only interest has been,

BRYAN SINKS INTO OBLIVION

Once Leader of Democracy Is but a Futile Character.

HE IS KICKED ABOUT

Conservatives in the Saddle Have No Generosity for Their Former Chief.

PREDICAMENT IS PATHETIC

By L. W. STRAYER.
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Louis, July 5.—How are the mighty fallen! Here is Bryan, who eight years ago sprang into the arena of Democratic politics and at one bound took a place as the leader of the party, which he has managed to retain ever since, now one of the futile characters in attendance at this convention. He is like a general without an army. His power is nil and his influence so small that it is not reckoned with.

Ever since his arrival in St. Louis he has amused himself and the leaders of the party with his manifestoes, his predictions and his threats. They have let him cavort around and induce himself to believe that he is still a factor to be reckoned with. But developments thus far have shown that his influence has gone and there are indications that soon nothing will remain of Bryan as a Democratic leader but a memory, and an unpleasant one at that.

In the seesaw of the political game Bryan and his followers are on the lowest end of the teeter board, and it is evident that they will soon touch the ground with a hard bump. On the other end of the board are the conservative wing of the party and as they go further up they become more conscious of their power and more disgusted with the radicals. Everybody seems to be standing for a chance to give Bryan a kick and the big Democrats are whisking around and each of them select the most vulnerable patch on the Nebraskan's trousers to administer his special greeting.

Made Mysterious Shift.

In some respects it is really pathetic. When this condition of affairs is contrasted with that which prevailed eight years ago and again but four years back. It is not easy to appreciate the change of feeling that has come over the Democratic party. Their love for free silver and its apostle has grown cold and in this great revulsion many prominent Democrats have turned even to Grover Cleveland for success. Four years ago Cleveland's name was hissed in the Chicago convention. Within the past week he loomed up as a strong possibility for the nomination for president. Tammany Hall, which hated Cleveland with a fervor that almost surpassed human understanding, would have been glad of the oportunity to turn the New York delegation over to him this time. Queer things happen in politics as they do in the other activities of life.

It is reported that Bryan intends to make a speech in the convention denouncing the nomination of Parker as the triumph of graft, and practically reading himself out of the party. The conservative leaders hope he will not do this, because they realize that he still has some following in the party and they know they will need every vote they can get this year. Nevertheless, if Bryan should threaten openly to follow such a course it is not believed that it would make a particle of change in the program. The band wagon will start at the appointed time and if Mr. Bryan refuses to get out of the way he must take the consequences.

Hill Is the Driver.

The driver of the Parker band wagon is ex-Senator David B. Hill of New York. Hill is playing the greatest political game of his life—a life that has been full of exciting incidents and replete with political battles. Standing modestly in the background, Hill pulls the wires that bring results, and he is now enjoying the experience of seeing his plans reach fruition. The New Yorker talks as though he fully expected that Bryan and his followers would go along with the Parker procession, but it is believed that it would be a joyful experience for Hill to be

GUFFEY WILL BE REWARDED

Can Have What He Wants Within the Gift of the Democrats.

WISHES ARE MODEST

Would Decline All Other Honors to Be the Pennsylvania Leader.

IS THANKED BY PARKERITES

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Louis, July 5.—Col. J. M. Guffey can have the chairmanship of the National Democratic committee if it is not probable that he will accept. In the event of his refusal, he may name Senator W. J. Stone of Missouri, in his stead. Pennsylvania can have anything that the Parker people have to give. The state is away in the front of the procession since it turned its 68 votes over to the New York judge.

Tammany and the Bryan people are doing a good deal of growling and claiming that Guffey broke faith with them by declaring for Parker, but the Keystone people are not paying any attention to the envious mutterings and are walking about with their chests thrown out, thinking about the possible pie in case Parker is able to win the presidency.

When Guffey was not attending the meetings of the national committee today his rooms were packed with enthusiastic Parker men, who wanted to thank him for the action of Pennsylvania. August Belmont called upon the colonel shortly after midnight to express his pleasure over the result of the caucus. He told the colonel that there was no longer any doubt about the nomination of Parker.

This morning ex-Senator David B. Hill, Perry Belmont and William Sheehan visited Col. Guffey. They told him that they had called to personally thank him for making certain the nomination of Judge Parker. Senator Hill complimented him on his wise political generalship in delivering the delegation just at the time when its adhesion was of the greatest possible benefit.

Guffey Can Have Anything.

Guffey felt greatly relieved today in having the presidential preference of the state delegation settled. For weeks the various leaders have been pulling and hauling at him and since his arrival in St. Louis life has been almost unbearable until today. It has been a long time since Pennsylvania has played such an important role in the making of a presidential candidate. One hears all kinds of positions figured out for the colonel in case Parker is able to control a majority of the electoral college. The gossips are fixing him up with a cabinet office and some are planning to make him ambassador to the court of St. James.

The colonel will probably tell them that he will be satisfied to distribute the pie for Pennsylvania and continue to hold membership in the king-making class. Guffey can be chairman of the national committee if he wants the place, but it is not likely that he will accept. It has been understood for some time that the colonel was the choice of the Parkerites. Since August Belmont came here he has said that they would be glad to have the Pittsburgher manage the fight if Parker is the nominee. It is probable that if Guffey does not accept he will be allowed to name the chairman. In that event he will no doubt suggest Senator Stone of Missouri.

Candidate for Vice President.

There has been no decision about where the Pennsylvania delegates will stand on the vice presidency. They will, of course, support the man that the Parker leaders decide upon. Col. Guffey said tonight that the men who are prominently mentioned are Gov. Dockery of Missouri, Senator Gibson of Montana, Senator Carmack of Tennessee, Gen. John Black of Illinois and C. Wall of Wisconsin. Effort will be made to placate the Bryan crowd by naming one of their number.

The Pennsylvanians are watching the platform-building. They want a strong conservative declaration of party principles. George W. Guthrie said tonight that from what he could learn the platform would be highly satisfactory to the Democracy of Pennsylvania. Robert E. Wright and William J. Brennen will have some planks to deliver to Gov. Pattison, the state representative on the committee on resolutions. They favor a platform that will pretty generally follow the lines of the Mississippi platform.

Thrice Russians Charge, but Fail to Dislodge Japanese from Their Positions.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Liao-Yang, July 5.—The latest reports of the Russian casualties in the reconnoissance made by Lieut.-Gen. Count Keller, between Mo-Tien and Fen-Shui passes July 4, to ascertain the Japanese columns, advance force moving on Liao-Yang, show that 14 officers were wounded, 273 men killed and 101 prisoners taken. It is persistently reported that a large section of the Japanese southern army has moved to the eastward, notwithstanding the rain, with the object of cutting its way through the Russian left during the absence of Gen. Kuropatkin at Ta-Tche-Kiao.

St. Petersburg, July 5.—The general staff has received the following dispatch from Lieut.-Gen. Bakahroff, the chief of staff of Gen. Kuropatkin, dated July 4:

On July 3 the advance guard of the Russian forces operating east of Liao-Yang occupied a position at Lang-Tse pass. Toward evening the same day our scouts ascertained that a detachment of the enemy's advance guard, 1,000 strong, had occupied the villages of Ekhavuan and Teha-Kamei-Sen on our front, the main force having remained in Fen-Shui and Mo-Tien passes. At this moment we discovered the movement of a Japanese detachment, consisting of a battalion of infantry, to turn our left flank positions in the Yang-Tse pass, in the direction of Lian-Dian-Sian. In order to check this movement a force constatin- of five companies of infantry, two detachments of mounted hussars and half a company of Cossacks, was sent forward in the direction of the threatened point.

In order to learn the strength of the enemy's position in front of Yang-Tse pass the commander of the detachment ordered out was reinforced and a reconnoitering party of 10 companies was sent in the direction of Ekhavuan under command of Col. Letschitsky.

Japanese Are Dislodged.

With the view of making a demonstration insuring the return of Letschitsky's detachment, three companies under Lieut. Col. Garnitsky marched to Maboumiaza, about a mile and a half south of Ekhavuan, to the cross-

LIGHTNING PLAYS HAVOC IN BOSTON

Causes Loss of Two Lives and Nearly Million Dollars Worth of Property.

MANY PERSONS ARE INJURED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Boston, July 5.—A bolt of lightning struck the Wilson steamship line freight shed on Mystic wharf, Charlestown, during the thunderstorm this afternoon, passed along the ridge of the two immense freight sheds, occupied by the Allan and Hamburg-American line, to a large Boston & Maine railroad grain elevator, and started a fire, which caused the destruction of nearly $1,000,000 worth of property, the loss of two lives and the injury of between 20 and 30 persons.

So quickly did the flames spread that most of the crew of the Allan line steamer Austrian, which was lying near the elevator, had to jump into the harbor to save their lives. Others who were injured, including Capt. August J. Peters, had to remain on board the Austrian until they were rescued by the crew of the tug Metropolitan.

The Austrian, ablaze from stem to stern, was towed into the stream, where, after her upper works had been destroyed, fireboats succeeded in extinguishing the flames.

Men employed in the elevator and freight sheds managed to reach places of safety, but some of them were burned by flying cinders as they made their escape.

Half a dozen street cars, laden with passengers bound to the suburban districts were in front of the elevator when the lightning struck, and before the cars reached a bridge, 200 feet away, the elevator and freight sheds were in flames.

When the men on the Austrian saw the flames rushing down on them they rushed from the wharf, but were driven back. Within a minute the steamer was on fire and her crew were leaping into the water. Before the firemen arrived, they found a corps of surgeons from the United States marines in Chelsea, which is near by, treating injured men from the Austrian, who had been taken from the water by men in boats and launches.

Capt. Peters and eight of the crew who

Croatians and Servians Fight Over Nationality of Ferguson Murderers.

ONE DEAD; SEVERAL DYING

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Monessen, Pa., July 5.—Last night at Wireton, a suburb of Monessen, a race war broke out between the Croatians and Servians. The fight lasted about 20 minutes until broken up by the Monessen police. The fight is said to have started over the nationality of the two men convicted of the murder of Contractor Ferguson, at Middletown. The Croations contended that the criminals were Servians. Steve Jurchich, Croatian, was almost disembowled by a knife in the hands of Milovar Nicksic and is lying at the point of death.

When the police arrived all the Servians fled to the hills. This morning Milovan Sudcevic, a boarding boss, was seen carrying food to the fugitives and Chief of Police Cooper was notified. The Servians were armed and threatened to kill anyone who attempted to arrest them. The chief deputized half a dozen citizens who, with a few Croatians, succeeded in rounding up two of the gang, one of whom was Nicksic, who is accused of doing the cutting.

Cooper deputized more men who are now scouring the hills above Wireton. The excitement of this riot had hardly subsided when another broke loose within a square of the first fight. This time it was the Poles. In the fight several were badly cut up and one man was shot dead. No arrests have been made.

While this was going on in Wireton a fight broke out in a boarding house in the lower end of the city. Two Slavs went into a boarding house and attacked the proprietress. Another woman came to her rescue, dealing blow after blow with a club. She floored the two men and it required two physicians to dress their wounds. Both men are in jail here.

BANK TELLER FOUND SHORT

Makes a Written Confession That He Had Embezzled $15,000.

TARENTUM SHOCKED

Everybody in the Town Knew and Liked Genial James H. Ekas.

BONDS COVER DEFALCATION

Because he was a "good fellow" James H. Ekas, the young teller and bookkeeper of the Tarentum National bank, is under arrest for embezzlement. J. W. Hemphill, president of the bank, is the reluctant prosecutor and shares with the entire community the regret that Ekas has been proved dishonest.

Two accountants of the Pittsburgh Audit company have discovered defalcations amounting to about $2,500, covering a period of two years. In a letter to Cashier O. C. Camp, Ekas confesses that during the last 10 years he has been stealing sums ranging from $1c to $100. It will be a week or more before the audit is completed and the total sum of the peculations determined. In his letter Ekas says that his thefts may aggregate $15,000.

As the bank is protected by a $30,000 bond, the institution will lose little or nothing. Nothing else was talked of yesterday in Tarentum, but the confidence of the depositors was manifested in that there was no disposition on the part of any of them to withdraw their accounts.

All Sorry for Jim Ekas.

There is but one note of emotion expressed by the bank officials and the residents of the little town, and that is sorrow that "Jim" Ekas, as he is known to everyone, has been found unworthy of his trust. His wife, a member of one of the most prominent families in the Allegheny valley, has closed their pretty little home in Wood street and, with her three little ones, refuses to see anyone but her relatives.

W. H. Muncey, head of the Muncey detective agency, arrested Ekas yesterday afternoon in his home. Ekas offered no resistance and seemed prepared to face the penalty of his wrongs.

President Hemphill of the bank said yesterday he had heard that Ekas gambled a little and was a frequent visitor to the city at nights. His faithfulness to his work and the general esteem in which he was held disarmed any suspicion that might have resulted from such stories.

Dishonesty Was Not Suspected.

According to the bank directors and officers, the audit that resulted in the discovery of Ekas' dishonesty was not started with that end. Since its establishment, in 1890, the bank has been examined each quarter by the United States bank examiners and by the auditing committee of the board of directors. In all these audits Ekas was an assistant and succeeded, through remembering the amounts of his thefts, in calling off figures from the individual ledger that corresponded in the totals with the figures in the general books. His method was to raise the figures in his individual books, and although he has been doing this for a decade, no discovery of it was made until the recent audit started, several weeks ago.

Directors Still Believed in Ekas.

Even when numerous discrepancies were found and reported to the board of directors none of those interested in the institution would believe that Ekas had intentionally done wrong. Error, rather than dishonesty, was assigned as the reason for the disappearance of these sums.

Ekas worked last Wednesday and that night went to the home of some of his relatives in Ekastown, Butler county. Before going he wrote the following letter to Cashier Camp, confessing his guilt and explaining the method by which he had extracted the money:

Tarentum, Pa., June 29, 1904.

Mr. O. C. Camp:

Dear Sir—I wish to make the following confession:

I am a defaulter in your bank to upwards of $15,000. Have been taking sums from $10 to $100. My method was to increase total on check journal and carry same to ledger, taking a like amount off the counter, making cash appear to balance. Am going away for a few days. Will return to my brother-in-law's (Mr. S. G. Storey). Kindly accept my resignation, to take effect at once. Yours with sad heart. J. H. EKAS.

Made Statement After Arrest.

At the office of Detective W. H. Muncey, 424 Fourth avenue, Ekas made the following statement last night:

I started to work in the National Bank of Tarentum when I was 17 and received $15 a month salary. Up until two years ago my salary was increased till I was receiving $60 a month. It was then raised to $75 a month, and I have been receiving that salary since. All the money I took from the bank was used entirely for the living expenses of my family and myself.

Ekas stated that he belonged to the Masons and Elks, but denied that he was a member of any clubs. He acknowledged that he gambled and drank, but stated that in neither case had he done it to excess.

Ekas was not committed to jail last night, but remained under guard at the Hotel Griswold. He will be given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner William T. Lindsey this morning, when his friends expect him to be able to furnish bail, which will probably be placed at $25,000, as is usual in such cases.

Plenty of Money in Bank.

The officers of the National bank of Tarentum do not expect a run on the bank as a result of Ekas' defalcations, but yesterday prepared for an emergency and placed $140,000 in its vaults, where the money was guarded last night by an officer from the Muncey detective agency.

President Hemphill was as much astounded at the discovery of Ekas' dishonesty as he would have been had a son of his been the guilty one. He said:

My position is a most unpleasant one. I have known Jim Ekas since he was a boy. He has always been a faithful worker and

BRYAN SAYS PARKER HAS MADE NO SUBSTANTIAL GAINS

Nebraskan Declares the Opposition to the New York Judge Is Aggressive, Though Not Centralized on a Candidate.

By CHESTER D. POTTER.
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—W. J. Bryan tonight gave the following statement to The Gazette:

"There is nothing to add to the statement that I made yesterday which described the situation then and which still exists. Judge Parker has made no substantial gains from those which were counted as against him, and the opposition has become better crystalized. Insofar as there is any enthusiasm for Mr. Parker it is due to the belief that being the choice of New York he can carry that state and with the state the country.

"This confidence is being overcome by the protest of the Democrats of that part of New York which is expected to furnish the Democratic votes.

"While the opposition is not centralized upon an particular candidate it is an aggressive opposition and likely to be recruited by accession from the instructed states when it is seen that Mr. Parker cannot be nominated. The Hearst delegates form the largest element of the opposition, Missouri, Ohio, Wisconsin, Massachusetts and Delaware have canvassed their votes to find them with it and it will doubtless have some scattering outside support.

"The Illinois contest, while it was decided for the Hopkins ticket, was really a victory of the contestant because it was decided on questions of jurisdiction, and the contestants now have behind them the unanimous report which declares, in fact, that frauds were practiced in the state convention.

"There is absolutely nothing in the Harmon story and consequently I don't want to discuss it. It has been reported of me that I am going to nominate four different men in the convention. They will be getting me embarrassed directly for I will have to say that each one of the four is better than the others and that will make trouble."

Former Senator from Utah.

WEST VIRGINIA DELEGATION IS DIVIDED AGAINST ITSELF

Twelve Votes Will Be Cast for Parker and Two for Hearst—Will Support McCorkle for Vice President.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—West Virginia will cast 20 votes for Parker and two for Hearst. This was found to be the way the delegation divided today when the caucus was held. There were no attempts to give formal instructions for any candidate. When it was learned that Senator Gorman of Maryland would not allow the use of his name the delegates with the two exceptions were anxious to crawl on the Parker band wagon.

While the delegation has not been instructed to vote for ex-Gov. W. A. McCorkle for vice president, the delegates say that it is their intention to give him a complimentary vote at least and if the opportunity presents itself efforts will be made to secure him the nomination.

John D. Alderson was chosen chairman of the delegation. John T. McGraw was elected a member of the national committee. These committee assignments were made by the caucus. Ex-Senator H. G. Davis, resolutions; A. S. McKinney, credentials; J. W. Davis, organization; H. R. Wilson, rules; ex-Gov. McCorkle, to notify the presidential nominee; C. H. Tenney, to notify the vice presidential nominee; A. J. Wilkison, honorary secretary.

Warren Hays and H. P. Wilson are the two delegates who will support Hearst for the presidential nomination.

Dutch Troops Show No Mercy in Sumatra—Over Thousand Killed.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

AMSTERDAM, July 5.—A dispatch from Batavia, capital of the Dutch Indias, says that the commander of the expedition to North Achin (Northern Sumatra) attacked Likat on June 20. The Achinese losses were 432 killed, including 281 women and 88 children, and 54 wounded. Seventeen prisoners were taken. The Dutch casualities included the commander, a lieutenant, two sergeants and 18 soldiers wounded.

On June 3 the Dutch troops attacked Langatbara, when the Achinese losses were 654 killed, including 186 women and 130 children and 49 wounded. Twenty-eight prisoners were taken. The Dutch losses were a captain, 22 soldiers and six coolies wounded.

really was valuable to the bank, not only because of his duties, but because of his genial manner and popularity. He is a young man who has been of undoubted ability and has the confidence of everyone that knew him. As president of the bank I was compelled to prefer this charge against him. My position demanded it, but it hurts me more than anyone knows. The loss to the bank will not be felt to any serious extent, but loss in the confidence we had in Jim Oaks is a sad blow.

Depositors Are Not Alarmed.

We do not fear a run on the bank. Our surplus and undivided profits, besides our paid-in capital stock, are more than sufficient to pay off every dollar on deposit. This is known to our depositors and we fear no trouble.

It is not known when Oaks informed his wife of the plight he is in, but it was probably on Sunday evening. At that time he left the Butler county relatives and went to where his wife was visiting friends near Aspinwall. On Monday night he took his wife and children to their home in Wood street and remained with them until taken away yesterday by Detective Muncey. Mrs. Oaks was asked yesterday evening if she had anything to say.

"No, I can say nothing," she replied. The United States bank examiner of this district has been notified.

CAPT. HODGMAN HOLDS HOPE FOR KENT LOOMIS

Commander of Kaiser Wilhelm II. Makes Statement Upon His Arrival in New York.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 5.—On the arrival of the North German Lloyd steamer, Kaiser Wilhelm II. today, an investigation was begun by the steamship company of the mysterious disappearance of Kent Loomis, brother of Assistant Secretary of State Francis Loomis, from the steamer on her last trip to Europe.

At whose request or at whose the order the investigation was begun, Capt. Hodgman, who was in command of the steamer when Loomis disappeared, would not say. He merely said he had been asked to hand over a report concerning the mysterious disappearance of the special messenger of the United States government to Abyssinia.

Hardly had the steamer been made fast to the dock in Hoboken, when a well-dressed man sought admission to the captain's quarters. Who the man was, no one about the dock could tell. He had made anxious inquiries about Kent Loomis. The captain referred the man who was making the inquiries to the company's office.

Although the story told by Capt Hogeman about the Loomis disappearance seems to indicate that the man was drowned, yet in an statement tonight, the captain holds out hope for the relatives of the missing man. He said:

"It was just 2:15 o'clock a. m., when we reached Plymouth. Chief Steward Rabin and myself were at the gangplank while the passengers were departing from the ship. Not knowing of the disappearance of Loomis at that time, we were not watching for him. It was not until we were about to dock at Cherbourg that I was informed of Loomis' mysterious disappearance.

"I am confident that if there was anything the matter with the young man's mind, or if he had any object in leaving his friend Ellis, that he left us at Plymouth and will turn up somewhere."

Chief Steward Rabin said that he had known Loomis quite well and that he felt sure that he did not leave Plymouth.

KUROKI SENDS FORCE TO CAPTURE LIAO-YANG

Kuropatkin Leaves Only Small Detachment There and Position Is in Grave Danger.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, July 5.—Today's news from the far east sheds very little light on the general movements of the contending armies, yet two or three reports of a more or less startling nature have come through from widely separated points.

A dispatch from Shang-Hai-Kwan says Gen. Kuroki has sent a strong detachment against Liao-Yang, which is said to be now only a small garrison at present, the bulk of the Russian forces having moved south to repel the Japanese movement which threatened to isolate the whole Liao-Yang peninsula and menaced the Russian positions at Kai-Ping, Hai-Cheng and Niuchwang.

Gen. Kuropatkin is said to have detached a strong force to the relief of Liao-Yang, which is at the present time of vastly great importance than Port Arthur, as it is the base of all military operations in Manchuria. The Shang-Hai-Kwan report states that the great road leading through the Motien pass to Liao-Yang is in fair condition despite the heavy rains. If this is true it may be expected that the Japanese will make use of this road during the rainy season to prevent the strengthening or reorganizing of Kuropatkin's army, which was expected to be carried on during the rainy season.

Operations in southern Manchuria are still shrouded in mystery, the reports being so confusing and misleading that no clear idea of the progress of events to that quarter can be formed.

Reports from Port Arthur indicate that the Japanese have pushed their line of investment to within rifle shot of the last line of Russian defenses, but this is not taken to indicate that the fortress will be forced to capitulate in the near future as the latest reports of the conditions of the garrison and defenses go to show that the fortress is prepared to stand a prolonged siege.

COURT RULES IN FAVOR OF MRS. BENJ. HARRISON

Son and Daughter of Late President Lose Suit to Cut Down Widow's Allowance.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., July 5.—Russell Harrison and Mrs. Mary Harrison McKee, son and daughter of the late President Benjamin Harrison, lost their case against their stepmother, Mrs. Mary Lord Harrison by a decision rendered today by Judge Allen of the circuit court.

The complainants accepted to the report of the Union Trust Company, executors of their father's estate, charging that as trustee under the will it had set aside securities in excess of the amount designed by the testator. Mr. Harrison provided in his will for a trust fund for the widow of $125,000.

Mr. Harrison and Mrs. McKee charged that the securities on which Mrs. Harrison was drawing interest and dividends, though originally costing $125,000 had greatly increased in value and that she was thus receiving more than the will provided.

KENTUCKY IS LIKELY TO LOSE ITS ARMAMENT

Has Majority of Delegation. Tom L. Johnson Suffers a Defeat.

THE BUCKEYE COMMITTEEMEN

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, MO., July 5.—The Ohio delegation after battling for three and one-half hours tonight adjourned without giving instructions on the presidential preference. A poll of the delegation showed the following result: Parker, 23; Harmon, 6; McClellan, 6; Hearst, 4; Olney, 2; Folk, 1; not voting, 2. This gives Parker a majority of two out of the 46 delegates and undoubtedly insures him the support of Ohio.

Effort was first made to instruct for George B. McClellan. An amendment was made to this to give the instructions to Parker. Finally both propositions were tabled. After a long wrangle John McMahon of Dayton succeeded in getting through a resolution to allow the delegates to vote their presidential preference with the understanding that the vote would not be binding. The result was the vote given above.

When the caucus opened an invitation was extended to Judge Bolger of New York to address the delegates. He spoke for Parker and described him as a man as good as God is making men nowadays. He said that Parker could not talk with propriety but assured the delegates that if the judge is elected president he will take great pride in building a great Democratic organization.

John J. Defiency, a Tammany orator, was admitted to the floor to reply to Bolger. He said that Parker could not carry New York without the help of Tammany and cautioned the delegates not to assist in his nomination.

Tom L. Johnson was defeated for member of the committee on resolutions by John A. McMahon of Dayton by a vote of 28 to 19.

In the contest for member of the national committeeman John R. McLean won over Judge Lewis Brucker of Mansfield by a vote of 27 to 16.

The other committee assignments follow: W. D. Yaple, credentials; Harlan Cleveland, organization; Wellington Stillwell, rules; John H. Clark, to notify the president; M. M. Padgett, to notify the vice president.

W. S. Thomas of Springfield was chosen chairman of the delegation.

remained on board were so badly burned that they were hurried to the Boston Relief hospital. James Haselton, one of the 50 stevedores, who reached the street some of them with their clothing on fire, says flames enveloped a third of a mile of buildings a minute after he saw the lightning strike the elevator.

A furious wind was blowing and but for most strenuous work by Boston's entire fire department, assisted by that of Chelsea, millions worth more of property would have been destroyed.

At midnight the police had found one body, that of James Flynn, 50 years old, donkeyman of the Austrian, and Charles Olsen, boatswain's mate, and a sailor are missing.

BROTHERS GET TOGETHER.

Had Not Seen Each Other for 40 Years and Each Thought Other Dead.

WINSTED, CONN., July 5.—(Special.)—Eben S. Gibbs, 72 years old, of Des Moines, Ia., is visiting his brother, Wesley Gibbs, who is 62, and whom he has not seen in 43 years. Each brother had believed the other dead.

Eben came east on a visit to relatives last week and there learned that his brother was alive. When they met they did not recognize each other. It took many hours for each to relate the interesting features of their lives since the day when Eben left the village of Sharon for the growing west.

They have another brother, who went to China in the sixties, and neither of them has heard from him since.

WANTS TO SEE WORLD; TAKES BUMPER ROUTE

WILKESBARRE, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—After riding from Buffalo to this city upon the bumpers of an engine, Stanley Wichter, a 14-year-old boy, who said he lived at 1339 Broadway, Buffalo, was arrested this morning. He said he wanted to see the world and was trying to reach New York.

a sub-committee of the national committee today. At first the committee was not inclined to give them a hearing. Finally J. Burwood Daly was allowed to present the case. This regular delegates made no reply and the contest was decided against the Independence party crowd.

John Garman was asked today why he voted against the Parker instructions last night. He replied that he would not be opposed to the New Yorker, but thought that the delegation should have withheld the indorsement for the present. Garman was anxious to help Bryan in his scheme to raid the convention. Ex-State Chairman John S. Rilling of Erie, in commenting upon Garman's action, said:

"No one ever knows where Garman is."

There is a large representation here from Pennsylvania and the question of supplying a sufficient number of tickets is a difficult one to handle. When the allotment for Pennsylvania was sent to Col. Guffey tonight it was found to be less than the number promised. The Pittsburgher started on the war path and expects to get his full share, and then some. N. A. Bendel of Pittsburgh and Dick Bryant of Philadelphia have been appointed doorkeepers, and every Keystone man will find a welcome at their entrance in the Thirteenth street side of the convention hall. James A. Sweeney of Hazelton is to be a sergeant-at-arms.

State Chairman J. K. P. Hall is predicting that Parker will be nominated on the first ballot. He expects that some of the states that have "favorite sons" will change their votes before the call of the states is completed.

Thomas B. Alcorn of Pittsburgh was asked why the five Pennsylvania delegates had refused to vote for Parker in the caucus last night. He replied:

"I guess that they think he is the Pierpont Morgan-August Belmont-Wall street candidate. There are quite a number of Democrats of the same opinion."

MORE HARD FIGHTING AT PASS OF MO-TIEN

ing of the roads leading to Sin-Kai and the Lok river passes.

Firing began at 2:30 p. m. July 4. Garnitsky's column reached the crossroads and dislodged the Japanese company advanced guard, which was almost annihilated. Simultaneously Letschitsky's column dislodged the enemy's flanking force, killing one and a shot and approached the foot of the heights, which were surmounted by a temple. The temple is less than a mile east of Sikhavian, where, although exposed to a heavy frontal and flank fire, our troops pushed forward and dislodged the Japanese from their entrenchments and occupied the pass. As the enemy were preparing to deliver a frontal and flank attack, our column threw forward, as previously instructed. Three companies of Garnitsky's force occupied the position which they had been ordered to secure.

When the column's force began to withdraw the enemy opened a heavy fire from the heights. In spite of this the column retired in perfect order. Brave Letschitsky remained continuously under the hottest fire and officers of the column with remarkable ability and courage. He was the last to retire, with his chief of staff and adjutant.

Garnitsky's column executed with equal brilliancy and coolness, carrying out their task with no sign of agitation.

Our casualties were: Letschitsky bruised and wounded; Col. Pospelow, Lieut.-Col. Trakhomirow, Capt. Sobieff, Lieuts. Mayhoff, Latkins, Bobrolsavsky and Kozins, Second Captain Paly and several other officers wounded and 250 soldiers killed or wounded.

I observed the fighting with my glasses from the Ikhaouan tower, and I can personally testify to the conduct of the troops. I cannot rave in silence the remarkable devotion of the surgeons and of the chaplain who attended the wounded under a heavy fire, and even helped to carry them off the field. All the wounded were removed.

On the night of July 3 our reinforcements occupied Liao-Dian Shan. One soldier was killed during the fighting. The same afternoon a detachment of the enemy, consisting of two battalions and six squadrons with six machine guns, advanced also attacked our outposts, lying south of the valleys of the river Kho, who retreated under the vigorous fire from the enemy. The other commanding our advance cavalry advanced at 2:30 p. m. with a detachment, and at the same time the enemy placed machine guns on the height northwest of Dun-Seih-Hedja, and their infantry occupied the outskirts of the village. The other four guns of the battery retreated on the position at Daoshenja, near the railroad, being covered by mounted dragoons and frontier guards. Under the fire of our artillery and rifles the enemy quickly evacuated their position and retreated toward Senu-Chen. Our cavalry pursued them until they reached an entrenched position occupied by a strong force of the enemy.

The enemy's principal army of the present is concentrating at Vandiapudze, in the direction of Yai-Cheng and at Schikouyo, about 10 miles west of Sin-Ten, on the road to Kai-Chen.

Reconnaissance July 3 discovered that the enemy is fortifying Ta pass.

The fact that Lieut.-Gen Sakhaleroff, chief of the staff to Gen. Kuropatkin, witnessed the fighting near Mo-Tien pass, is taken here to indicate that he is in command of the forces east of Liao-Yang, which include the army corps under Lieut.-Gen. Count Keller.

The fighting around Senu-Chen shows that the Japanese are determined to hold the ground to the south as well as Dalin pass until a favorable opportunity presents itself for an advance on Yin-Kow (the port of Naichang).

It is believed that another army corps will be mobilized for the far east, but it has not yet been decided what corps will be selected.

The foreign office has no official information bearing out the charges of mutilation against the Japanese, and no action will be taken in the absence of complete confirmation.

TOKIO, July 4.—3 p. m. (delayed)—Gen. Kuroki reports that two battalions of Russians attacked the Japanese outposts at Mo-Tien pass at dawn on July 4, under cover of a dense fog. The Russians were repulsed, but they returned and charged three times before they were finally driven away. The Japanese pursued them for three miles to westward of Mao-tien pass. The Russians left 30 dead and 50 wounded on the field. The Japanese lost 15 killed and 30 wounded.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 5.—The Russian volunteer fleet steamers St. Petersburg and Sevastopol passed through the Bosphorous from the Black sea this morning. The Sevastopol was flying the Red Cross flag and her hull was painted white. The vessels took on board a quantity of stores and remained in the harbor until this evening.

PARKER FIRST; THEN PLATFORM

thus far, to secure the nomination of Judge Parker. The other matters will adjust themselves. You are safe in saying that the leaders will not tonight agree upon any man for the vice presidential nomination, for the permanent chairmanship of the convention, or for the chairmanship of the resolutions committee."

"But, what have you to say about the statement of Senator Dubois that Mr. Turner's acceptance will depend upon the character of the platform, and that any platform upon which Mr. Turner can stand will be one from which Mr. Bryan cannot avert his gaze?"

Mr. Hill's reply was the sausage smile quoted above. I then asked him the significance of the gold plank submitted by the Tammany leaders at this morning's caucus of the New York delegation.

"Everyone understands," said Mr. Hill, "the purpose of that resolution. It was a mountebank play merely in the interest of an effort to embarrass Judge Parker's friends. It was defeated by a vote of 50 to 23 and referred to me. I still have it under consideration," this with a smile so expansive and comprehensive that even a New York skyscraper would dip with proper obeisance.

Beyond this the senator's explanation did not extend. He appeared to be perfectly satisfied with the situation, as he was not looking for bridges to cross until the presidential Rubicon has been passed. It would seem to the outsider that, having insured the nomination of Judge Parker upon a gold platform, bound and banded by golden strands, would be the next step in the program of the "reorganizers."

Will Make Concessions.

Sub-surface indications, however, inspire the thought that Mr. Parker's friends are willing to make a great many concessions relative to the second place on the ticket as well as in the draft of the platform. This may be merely pretense in the interest of holding the radical gathering of votes and later on they will insist upon their "pound of flesh" and repudiate every tentative concession. This theory would seem to be the logical one.

Mr. Parker certainly would have no chance of success in the November election as the candidate of a compromise platform. While it might give Mr. Bryan an excuse for supporting the ticket, it would provoke a majority of the conservatives into a rebellion so serious that disaster would inevitably follow, and the men behind Parker are practical men. They know that they have eliminated Mr. Bryan, that his voice is no longer potential, so far as this convention is concerned, and for this reason it is believed that they will not lose their advantage in the later stages of the game.

Bryan, himself, seems to know that he has been counted out. He did not participate today as yesterday in the deliberations of the national committee. He returned to the Nebraska committeeman the proxy given him. Mr. Dahlman was present in person. Bryan was outside trying to find an easy place to light. Having failed to concentrate the Parker opposition upon either Gorman of Maryland, or Pattison of Pennsylvania he today took up Judge Harmon of Ohio. Mr. Bryan informed Mr. Harmon's friends that he would write him a letter to the effect that he, Harmon, supported Bryan in 1896, he would throw the Bryan influence to the Ohioan in this convention. Bryan will probably hear from Harmon tomorrow. If he does, he will be informed that while Judge Harmon supported him in 1900, he did not do so in 1896, and that he gave what strength he had to the cause which was opposed to Mr. Bryan.

Letter Will Come Too Late.

But this will be a post mortem explanation. Long before Bryan receives Judge Harmon's letter the last vestige of material opposition to Judge Parker will have disappeared. Ohio, West Virginia and Maryland will have taken their seats in the Parker band wagon, and the stragglers will be few. Nothing that Bryan can say or do can stop Parker now.

It is reported, and upon good authority, that Mr. Bryan has another string to his bow. In a conference today with Murphy and Sheehan of Tammany, he is alleged to have agreed not only to support Mayor McClellan of New York, for the presidential nomination, but to have volunteered to make the nominating speech. If this be true, it will be Mr. Bryan's opportunity to unload the disappointment, to arraign his enemies and to announce his future course. That he will do this there is no doubt, the only question being whether it will be in a nominating speech, or in platform debate.

The Parker program tonight is the New Yorker's nomination on the first ballot. The names of the favorite sons, Hearst of New York, Cockrell of Missouri, Olney of Massachusetts, Gray of Delaware, Harmon of Ohio and Wall of Wisconsin will be presented upon the call of the states and withdrawn when the roll is called. The delegations instructed for these men, it is said, will vote for Parker.

Although Turner of Washington seems to have the lead, so far as the vice presidential nomination is concerned, it is possible that some of the presidential candidates may be contented to accept second place. Opposition to Mr. Turner is based not only upon the supposition that he is tinctured with Bryan sophistries, but it is claimed that his state (Washington), the northwest checker in the American constellation, is too far removed from the scene of political activity.

Senator Dubois disagrees with the suggestion. He thinks that Washington's recognition would be most agreeable to the Pacific coast states as well as to the middle western states in which Bryanism and Populism still have somewhat of a hold.

Bryan Conceals Intentions.

Wall of Wisconsin has a strong support, the Democrats believing that, because of the Republican factional troubles in that state, they have a chance of carrying it. For this reason there are grounds for the presumption that Wisconsin will be recognized. It will either be given the vice presidential nomination or the chairmanship of the committee on resolutions.

During the day Mr. Bryan was vainly solicited to give a forecast of his intentions. He said that he would make no statement outlining his purposes until the convention met. He was importuned by newspaper men, by his friends and by visiting delegates, but to all of them he remarked that "the situation was unchanged," and beyond this he would not go.

One little incident of human interest occurred at Mr. Bryan's room this afternoon. A rough, unkempt looking fellow walked up to the door and asked:

"Is the colonel here?"

"Do you know him," asked the doorkeeper.

"Better than anybody. I was in his regiment. I have done duty in front of his headquarters many a day and many a night, and when I was not on duty I just used to hang around the tent and watch him. I liked him so well. My name is "Mike" Kinney. I live up at Lincoln."

When Bryan was told of the man outside he directed that he be admitted at once. There was a hearty handshake, after which the Nebraskan asked Kinney what he could do for him.

Kinney explained that he was "broke" and that he wanted the colonel to give him a letter to President Francis of the exposition so that he could get a $2 a day job until the fair was over.

"You shall have it Mike," said Bryan, and he sat down and wrote a letter which covered a full sheet and which Mike says he will keep until he cashes in his checks finally.

While Bryan was doing this his anteroom and the corridor were filled with waiting visitors, anxious to know who he wanted nominated for president, and the kind of platform that should be adopted. It was a pretty little incident, exemplifying the thought that, regardless of political strife, of public and personal interest, all men are human, that all have hearts which respond to the pressure of friendship.

TAMMANY RENEWS ITS FIGHT ON PARKER

One of the Braves Declares That the Opposition Has 400 Votes.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—Tammany furnished one of the few sensational incidents of the day by swiftly back-tracking on a semi-official announcement that it had dropped its opposition to Parker. During the forenoon the organization allowed it to become known through some of its most prominent representatives that it had decided to join the Parker ranks. After a period of silence and apparent political idleness, late this afternoon they renewed their warfare against his candidacy and Senator Victor Dowling, Charles A. Towne, Bird S. Coler and Bourke Cockran started to poll delegations and ask for instructions.

Senator Dowling, on behalf of Charles F. Murphy, made this statement:

"Judge Parker cannot be nominated. We have 400, more than one-third of the convention, pledged against him. He cannot be nominated. Only this afternoon we won three new states for our cause."

"Will you give a list of your states?" was asked.

"I can't do that," said the Murphy representative.

"Will you say what new states were gained today?"

"I cannot tell you. I can only say that we have 400 votes."

"Will the Bryan people assist you after this morning's attempt on your part, through Mr. Cockran, to secure the adoption of a gold standard plank?"

"It was simply an effort to compel Senator Hill and those who support him to show their hand," replied Senator Dowling. The Bryan people understand it and will not antagonize us."

"Who is Tammany's candidate?" was then asked.

"I cannot say. We are instructed for Parker."

It was said, however, by other Tammany men that the real object of the fight was for McClellan, but Senator Dowling protested that Tammany was simply against Parker. Closing his interview, he said, significantly: "You'll see a very hard fight on the platform."

GORMAN DOESN'T WANT HIS NAME PRESENTED

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—The nearest approach to a definite statement from Senator Gorman as to his attitude before the convention was made tonight by his intimate friend, former Senator Davis of West Virginia. It came after a day of constant pressure upon Mr. Davis from his own delegation to secure a definition of Mr. Gorman's attitude and was very brief. He merely said: "It is understood that Mr. Gorman does not desire that his name should be presented to the convention."

SHOT TWO WOMEN; THEN KILLED HIMSELF

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—Charles Ludwics, a Lithuanian living in the southeastern section of the city, in a fit of jealousy tonight probably fatally shot his sister-in-law, Pauline, and slightly wounded his sweetheart, Margie Erich. Ludwics then killed himself with the revolver. Ludwics wanted to marry the Erich girl, but she refused because she liked another man. The sister-in-law heard Ludwics shoot the Erich girl and, rushing into the room, received three bullets in the breast.

FIGHT NARROWED DOWN TO PARKER

New York Judge Will Win Handily at the St. Louis Convention.

CONSERVATIVES TO DOMINATE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—On the eve of the Democratic national convention, by which the struggle for the nomination for president has been a free-for-all contest, the prospect is that Judge Alton B. Parker of New York, the candidate of the conservative forces will win handily.

Where a week ago were doubt, uncertainty, sparring for position, parleying for time, factional screaming and manipulating to overthrow the favorite, is now the foregone conclusion that the field will come in a pour second.

Not only does it appear that the control of the nomination for first place on the ticket will be in the hands of those Democrats who were in the minority in 1896 and again in 1900, but that they will select the nominee's running mate and dominate the platform on which the race will be made. In defiance of such handicaps as were created by the ambitious friends of Gorman, Cleveland, Gray, Olney, McClellan and favorite sons who had followings that divided the conservative columns, this element which advances the claims of Democratic rehabilitation struggle against the combined opposition of Bryan, representing the ruling Democratic force in the last two presidential contests and the personal campaign conducted by William Randolph Hearst.

Parker Forces Increased.

Throughout the week the Parker forces received material accessions, one candidate after another who threatened to sap the strength of the conservatives being eliminated, until the opposition is now confessedly in the minority and seemingly too unorganized to present a fighting front. The band wagon seats are in such demand that a nomination is confidently predicted on the second ballot and the surprise would be small if the first was decisive.

Though the result of the contest for the presidential nomination seems to be as good as settled that spirit which moves factions to war against each other has not been so far removed that the convention will be lacking in enthusiasm or interest. The changed positions of those who are in power now and those who controlled four and eight years ago is attracting wide attention from delegates and persons who are assembled as spectators.

Tammany pursued its fight in attempting to foster the favorite son campaign and tonight was claiming 400 votes pledged against Parker. This number is more than the one-third which would prevent a nomination. The Parker forces displayed no alarm at the report that votes were uniting in opposition to the New York candidate.

Little Interest in Platform.

Around the hotel lobbies there is little platform talk, yet the leaders have never ceased to give it their attention. But it is in spectacular form for the masses like. The making of presidential candidates is their role, while platforms are left to the men of letters.

Likewise the nomination for vice president has not been taken up seriously. It has been talked of in the lobbies, but no expression has been received from the real leaders, and until some indication comes from that quarter the talk will not center for long on any possibility. It appears to make no difference to the motel lobby ticket makers that many of the persons suggested have eliminated themselves from discussion.

It is certain that no convention in years will be more largely attended than that which opens tomorrow.

Seats are in great demand and unprocurable. The supply has been exhausted and almost any premium would be accepted by such persons as always find some of the much sought cards for the purpose of speculation. Several of the state delegations today appointed committees to visit the national committee in order to get increased supplies of admissions. Most of the applications availed nothing.

MILITIA CAN CHECK IT.

Strike Trouble at Sydney Is Considered Critical—New Danger Feared.

SYDNEY, B. C., July 5.—The strike situation here is critical but the city officials express the opinion that the militia now on duty will be able to hold the disorderly element in check. The Sydney field battery and a detachment from the 94th Highland regiment are patrolling the Dominion Iron and Steel Company's property.

A new danger which confronts this section is the possible extension of the strike of the colliers of the Dominion Coal Company, a corporation which, although controlled by the interests which own the steel works has not been brought into the difficulty up to this time.

Yesterday's disorders were precipitated by the attempt of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company to start a portion of the plant with non-union men, most of whom are foreigners.

RAIN PUT OUT CHURCH FIRE.

A Terrific Electrical and Thunderstorm Sweeps Over Wilkesbarre.

WILKESBARRE, PA., July 5.—A terrific rainstorm, accompanied by a severe electrical display, broke over this city and and valley tonight. It was the heaviest thunderstorm of the year. The streets here were flooded for a time. On the west side of the Susquehanna river telephone and electric light systems were put out of commission for some hours. The Bennett Street Presbyterian church, in Luzerne borough, was struck by lightning and the tower set on fire, but the rain extinguished the flames before any serious damage was done.

Fort Necessity Celebration.

UNIONTOWN, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—Ewing Hair of Brownsdale, who attended the Fort Necessity celebration, July 4, 1854, was also present yesterday and said: "There were about 400 or 500 here 50 years ago compared with 8,000 and 7,000 this year." Others who attended both celebrations were Elijah Hutchinson of South Union township and Jonathan West of North Union township.

Capt. Slade Found Dead.

CANAL DOVER, O., July 5.—Capt. Samma Slade, one of the best known veterans of the civil war in this vicinity, was found at his home in Port Washington dead in bed this morning. Heart failure was the cause of death. Capt. Slade enlisted in the United States army in 1861 as a private, and served through the four years of the war.

More Cadets at Annapolis.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., July 5.—Twenty additional candidates for admission to the naval academy have passed the physical examination, making 96 in all who have passed both mental and physical tests. To this number 40 youths have been sworn in as midshipmen.

Commendation Significant.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 5.—The Russian press commendations of the gracious act of Great Britain in offering to police and protect the seal fisheries of Kommandor and Copper Islands, off Kamatchs, during the war are regarded as highly significant.

obliged to drive the band wagon horizontally across Bryan's prostrate form; and he will do it, too, if the occasion requires.

Benign of countenance and mild of speech, Hill does not talk of war, but it is a case of mailed fist in a silk glove. Opposition must give way or there will be trouble. Hill is prepared for what may come, since he is conscious of his strength and knows what the outcome of a contest will be. The most striking thing about Hill is his extreme modesty. He is apparently doing all he can to efface his personality in this convention. Here is another evidence of his shrewdness. Ever since the Albany convention the howl has been raised that Hill is the man behind the throne and that he it is who will control the politics of the Parker administration if the Democratic ticket should win. Thus Hill sees that he must not be too conspicuous in the convention, and he is inclined to credit the Parker success to an purloining of the people.

Really Believes Himself.

When congratulated upon the action of the Pennsylvania delegation, Hill declined the honor, and said:

You must not give me credit for bringing this about; I really had nothing to do with it. Judge Parker's strength in this convention comes from the people, who believe that he is the man that should be nominated."

And the sage of Wolfert's Roost spoke as though he really believed what he said.

One of the most interesting characters in the Democratic party is Senator William Joel Stone of Missouri. That is his official title, but in politics he is familiarly known as "Gum Shoe Bill." When the Pennsylvania delegation went on record for Parker last night Senator Stone was left in company with ex-Senator Smith of New Jersey and Charles F. Murphy of Tammany on rather high ground. In fact, it looked as if he were stranded and would not be able to get a seat in the band wagon if he didn't hurry. But those who know "Gum Shoe Bill" have no fear but that he will find a way out all right.

His sobriquet was earned by his quiet methods in politics. He is a master at the game and there are none shrewder in Missouri and few better in the country. He uses the dark lantern and jimmy and does his work principally under cover. When he has a plan in mind his opponents seldom learn anything about it until he is ready for them to know, and thus he has earned the title of "Gum Shoe Bill."

Character from Kentucky.

Another interesting figure here is Ollie James of Kentucky. He is a representative in congress and, though a young man, is one of the leaders of Kentucky. James was one of the attorneys who assisted in the prosecution or Youtsey for the murder of Gov. Goebel. During these troublesome times down in Kentucky James led a strenuous life. It is said that he has been covered by a gun so often that it doesn't even thrill him any more. Threats have been made against his life, but in spite of them he is still alive and healthy. The only thing he is shy of is hair, and, although he is not yet 35 years old, his pate is as smooth as a billiard ball. He is six feet six inches tall and weighs about 225 pounds; so it is apparent that the assassin who tries to get him will do well to try it at long range.

Pennsylvania has sent two veteran delegates to this convention. They are Hugh M. North of Columbia, Lancaster county, and John D. Gottwalts of Pottstown, Montgomery county. North's first national convention was at Charleston, S. C., 40 years ago. Gottwalts helped nominate Tilden in this city in 1876. In speaking of the Charleston convention Mr. North said:

"The final outcome after a three weeks' convention at Charleston was the inability of Douglas to secure two-thirds of the delegates and then came the adjournment to Baltimore in July. At Baltimore we met in a school house, where every man had a desk to himself. The feeling was so bitter that every now and then when a man was seen to put his hand upon his hip pocket we all bid our heads beneath the desks.

Cockran Disturbed by Snoring.

"After nearly a week's session at Baltimore the delegates who were opposed to Douglas seceded from the convention. Chairman Cushing left the chair and it was assumed by ex-Gov. Todd of Ohio, who was elected chairman by the Douglas men who remained. I was one of the 17½ voting aginst Douglas and I left with the others. We nominated John C. Breckenridge and Joe Lane of Oregon. Douglas and Hershal V. Johnson of Georgia were named on the other ticket."

The Hon. Bourke Cockran, the Tammany orator, changed his quarters from the Southern hotel after the first night. It was no fault of the hotel management that Mr. Cockran declined to honor that house further with his patronage, but it was due solely to the snoring habit of John J. Delaney, corporation counsel of New York. Mr. Cockran and Mr. Delaney had adjoining rooms and the latter snored so loudly during the first night that Mr. Cockran packed his grip in the morning and sought other quarters. When he appeared in the lobby with his satchel he was surrounded by New York delegates who were surprised to see him leaving.

"You are not going home, are you?" anxiously they inquired. "Oh, no, I'm not going home," said Cockran, "but I'm going out to find a place where I can sleep. I think if I can get a room up on Twelfth street I will not be able to hear more than the echo of Delaney's powerful piccolo. He certainly can make more noise in his sleep than any other man I know of."

Didn't Miss a Note.

But Mr. Cockran's complaint had no such grounds as that of the man who occupied the room with Delaney. His disgust is tempered by admiration. Said he:

"Why that man Delaney while snoring like a tornado, thrust his hand into the pocket of his pajamas and pulled out a handkerchief, mopped his brow, put the handkerchief back and never woke up or missed a note the entire performance. I tell you I saw and heard him do all of this and I know what I am talking about."

The handling of the press seats in the Kansas City convention four years ago was marked by more kicking than was ever known at a national convention. Nobody was satisfied, not even the Hon. G. W. Hitchcock of Omaha, who had the distribution of the seats. Mr. Hitchcock is an editor and was supposed to be able to understand the needs of the press, but he failed. This time he again undertook the task, evidently with the hope of squaring himself, but up to date he has not retrieved his lost reputation.

Tickets were to have been at the Jefferson hotel during the day but when correspondents worked through the crowd to the room they found a notice posted that the issuing of tickets would not take place before 7. On applying again in the evening the door was found tightly locked, but it was reported that the tickets had not yet been sorted and issue had been postponed until 9 o'clock. Mr. Hitchcock may get them into the hands of newspaper men before the convention opens, but there is no doubt but that at the next convention there will be a general appeal to have this duty assigned to another man. Mr. Hitchcock will not do.

ITALY AND AUSTRIA SHARPEN THEIR KNIVES

Pushing Preparations on Frontier as Though Expecting War in Near Future.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, July 5.—Dispatches from both Vienna and Rome indicate that there is a growing distrust between Italy and Austria and that these two countries, though forming parts of the triple alliance, are actually preparing for a possible war which may come in the near future.

All Austrian fortifications along the Italian border have during the last year been strongly fortified and large supplies of ammunition and military stores have been put in. Italy on her side, has been equally busy, and at present a commission of officers of the general staff are engaged in thoroughly studying the Tonalo passes on the Italian-Austrian frontier.

It is the intention of the Italian government to build a large fort at this place. This is made more significant as Austria has just finished her forts on the Austrian side of the frontier at the same place.

CONTROL IS NOW IN OTHER HANDS

Election Results in Upheaval in the Directorate of the South Side Hospital.

OTHER CHANGES EXPECTED

Five new directors of the South Side hospital were elected yesterday afternoon at the annual contributors' election and a complete change in the personnel of the institution will probably follow.

Those elected yesterday were John Gray, John Henry Sorg, William B. Sankey, J. H. Vitchestaln and the Rev. William Surdival. Of the 169 contributors to the institution, 158 cast ballots, being 60 more votes than were ever polled during a contributors' election. All the successful candidates, excepting J. H. Vitchestaln, received the full 158 votes while the latter received 156, two votes going to Dr. Charles Hertzog.

The institution has three electoral bodies—the South Side Hospital Ladies' Aid society, the South Side Hospital Contributors and the South Side Medical society. Each elects five directors annually to the board of 15 directors.

Factional differences reached a climax last winter when Sister Superior Dunlavy was chosen superintendent of the hospital, there being eight directors in favor of her incumbancy and seven opposed. Later the election was reconsidered and F. A. Creamer was elected superintendent.

Five of the directors who voted for Sister Superior Dunlavy were deposed by yesterday's election—Dr. W. H. Weber, Dr. Charles Hertzog, Dr. J. P. Kerr, William A. Larimer and John J. McTierney. Those elected are favorable to the opposite faction, and the former majority of 8 to 7 has now been reversed to a majority of 12 to 3 on the other side.

The board will meet for reorganization in the hospital next Tuesday evening. Dr. W. H. Weber, A. J. Barchfeld, J. P. Kerr, C. C. Hersman and William Kirk are expected to resign from the hospital staff, and other changes among the officers, staff and employes of the institution are promised. While there was a report that Supt. Creamer is to be succeeded, the Ladies' Aid society, which is a strong factor in the management of the institution, held a meeting yesterday afternoon and indorsed the present superintendent to succeed himself, while John L. Lewis, who was active in leading the opposition in the selection of Sister Superior Dunlavy, is said to have declared himself in favor of retaining Mr. Creamer. There are some directors, however, who are advocating a "fresh beginning" and who favor new officials in every department, including the superintendency, and this matter promises to become the most interesting to come before the directors.

An amendment to the constitution is also proposed, wherein, no member of the board of directors is eligible to membership on the hospital staff. It is alleged that it is from this dual incumbancy that the worst friction among the directors was due. If the amendment passes it may affect Drs. A. J. Barchfeld, C. C. Hersman and William Kirk, who at present hold both positions, but who, it is thought, will resign from the hospital staff before the next meeting of the board of directors.

TO OPEN LIBRARY BIDS.

Successful Contractor for $5,000,000 Job May Be Selected by Committee Today.

The contractors' bids for erecting the additions to the Carnegie library building will be opened today at noon in the office of Alden & Harlow, architects, in the Farmers Deposit National Bank building. A meeting of the building committee has been called for that hour, and if a quorum of the committee is present the bids will be opened.

A number of representatives of contracting firms in other cities arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday, especially from Cleveland, Chicago and New York. Among those who came were K. E. Ofil and George A. Flack of Cleveland, Oswald Speyer, E. Wells and W. C. Dredge of New York and Vrag W. Alling, C. A. Reim and R. S. Halderman of Chicago. It is estimated the contract price will be $4,750,000. The $250,000 architect's commission will make the cost an even $5,000,000. The specifications cover 129 typewritten pages. The successful contractor is required to have the buildings finished by September 1, 1905, and must give a bond insuring the fulfillment of the work by that time. The bond will be at least $2,000,000.

Only those contractors who were invited to bid will be considered. Among the Pittsburgh firms invited are the George A. Fuller company, A. & S. Wilson company, Henry Shenk company, John H. Trimble & Bro., William Miller & Sons and H. L. Kreusler.

SOME NEW ATTRACTIONS.

At the South Side Labor Carnival There Will be a Few Free Acts Added.

The attendance at the Building Trades council carnival, yesterday, was somewhat smaller than usual, due largely to the rain. The grounds were in good condition, the rain having little effect. The committee will put on several additional free attractions.

The two hybrids born Sunday midnight will be placed on exhibition today. They were able yesterday to walk about the steel cage. There are only four hybrids in the world of half lion and half leopard and these are with the Ferari Bros. shows.

The Duquesne Grays, who were to have given a sham battle last night, postponed that feature until Friday evening. They gave a dress parade.

BARBER WITH TRICK KNIFE CHARGED WITH LARCENY

Harry Ward, a barber of Cadiz, O., is under arrest charged with a peculiar form of larceny. He possesses a trick knife which cannot be opened without knowing the combination. It is alleged that, with the aid of a negro confederate, he won $25 from a traveling man at the Baltimore & Ohio depot.

PUBLIC IS INTERESTED.

News of the Forthcoming Sale of the Gusky Stock at Kaufmann's Store Is Eagerly Awaited.

The importance of the purchase by Kaufmann Bros. of the entire Gusky stock is becoming more and more generally recognized by the public, and a great deal of interest is being manifested in the forthcoming sale.

No other mercantile transaction of such magnitude ever took place in Pittsburgh. And although the proprietors of the "Big Store" have always been quick to see and as quick to act when desirable stocks of merchandise have been offered on the market through legal processes or otherwise, never before did they make a purchase so advantageous to their customers as this will prove.

The great task of preparing for the sale is going forward smoothly but rapidly, and in a few days Gusky's entire stock, comprising absolutely everything in men's, women's and children's ready-to-wear clothing will be placed on sale at Kaufmann's store at prices that would ruin the manufacturers if they had to duplicate the goods for the same money.

BUILDING A HANDSOMER HOME

The New Alinda Preparatory School As It Will Look When Erected.

ALINDA SCHOOL'S NEW QUARTERS

Contract Awarded for a Fireproof Structure, With All the Latest Conveniences.

FEATURES OF THE BUILDING

Architects Muller & East have awarded to Constable Brothers of Erie the contract for the new Alinda Preparatory school, conducted by Miss Ella G. Stuart, at Fifth avenue and Craig street. The new home of the school will be on the north side of Fifth avenue, between Neville and Clyde streets, two squares east of the present location. It will cost approximately $50,000 and will be erected by the Fifth Avenue Land Company, which owns the site.

The building will be a fireproof structure of brick and terra cotta and two stories high. In the basement will be a large gymnasium, with shower baths, a music room, dining room, kitchen and such room. The last will have two large open fireplaces. The first floor will be occupied by the general offices of the school, the library, the faculty room and the academic department quarters. Besides these rooms there will be a balcony for the gymnasium, which will seat 400 persons, and a handsome reception hall. The intermediate department will have its quarters on the second floor. These include recitation rooms, a manual training room for the primary classes and a big sand room for the kindergarten. The walls of the second story are so planned that a third story can be built on at any time without serious inconvenience.

The building will have hot water heat and gas and electric lights. A special system of ventilation has been arranged, so the every room will receive fresh air and will have its foul air let out through vents. Special attention has been given to the needs of the primary pupils, and their rooms will be provided with bay windows for the study of flowers and nature history. The laboratories will also be of the latest pattern and equipped with the best apparatus and running water. All the rooms will be finished in hard wood and the stairs will be of electro-plated bronze to make them absolutely fireproof. Work on the building will be started at once.

The building will not be completed when the school year opens, so the Alinda school will resume its classes in September in the old building in Fifth avenue and Craig street, Reflected. The Alinda school prepares girls for Bryn Mawr, Smith, Wellesley, Vassar and all other colleges for women, and it offers as well a broad and thorough course of study for those who do not intend entering college. It has been a very fashionable school, and among its students have been the daughters of Mrs. Thomas Morrison Carnegie and others who are prominent in East End and Shadyside society. At the commencement in May of this year three young girls graduated to enter college in the fall, Miss Helen Smith to go to Bryn Mawr, Miss Jeannette Leatherman to become a student at Wells and Miss Elizabeth Fiscusto to become a freshman in Smith. The school has a kindergarten, primary, intermediate, academic and finishing course.

In conjunction with the Alinda Preparatory school Miss Stuart founded a school in Sewickley, of which Miss M. A. Munson is principal, the two schools to follow exactly the same courses, the Sewickley institution, however, being a boarding school as well as a day school. People in Sewickley who come up to Pittsburgh to spend the winter, and whose daughters are entered in Miss Stuart's school in Sewickley, transfer them without charge in their course of study to the Alinda school, while those Pittsburgh families who have summer homes in Sewickley or wish to spend any portion of the year there or who are traveling and wish to leave their daughters in school, send them from the Alinda to the school in Sewickley.

TWO TRIED SUICIDE.

One Used a Blank Cartridge and the Other Said Farewell Before He Took Poison.

"Father is after me with a lot of policemen. I can't stand this kind of life, and guess I'll end it here," cried William Goetmann, aged 20, as he rushed into the home of H. E. Marshall, 48 Brighton place, Allegheny, at 6 o'clock last evening. Goetmann hurried to the cellar, and before any one could reach him fired a revolver and fell to the ground. Examination showed, however, that the boy had used a blank cartridge, and in case suicide was intended, the attempt was far from successful. The shot neither left a mark nor tore the man's clothing.

Neighbors rushed in and helped to carry Goetmann up stairs. His relatives were notified and Dr. W. S. Evans, Fremont street, was called. Marshall is a close friend of Goetmann's and that is how he happened to go there. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Goetmann, 1939 Irwin avenue, Allegheny, and is employed by Smith Bros., bakers in East street. The boy admitted that the shooting was a bluff to scare his friends.

After bidding his brother and sister good-bye, an telling them that he was going to kill himself, Joe Scurbuskl, a Russian, of 2404 Fifth avenue, tried to drink laudanum last night, but was prevented. Officer William C. White was notified of the act and locked him up as a suspicious person. He is believed to be demented.

Farmer Fined for Cruelty.

Frank Keberlein, a well-to-do farmer living back of Etna, paid $20 and costs to Alderman Oyer yesterday for abusing Marcella Zehfuss, aged 16. The girl was taken out of St. Joseph's orphan asylum by Keberlein's father three years ago. Recently the old man died, and since that time, the neighbors say, the youngster man has abused the girl almost continually. The girl will be returned to the asylum.

FATHER USED HIS BABY AS SHIELD FROM BULLETS

Held Off a Constable in the Middle of River by Using Child as Protection, but He Finally Abandoned the Infant.

Holding his 11-months-old child in front of him as a shield while out on the Monongahela river in a skiff, Lester Rodgers, a resident of Camden last night defied Constable Henry Harper of Glassport to fire the revolver which the officer aimed. Then dropping the child into the boat, Rodgers escaped at the other side of the river, where the child was abandoned. It was secured by the officer and returned to its frantic mother, whom the father had threatened to kill. Such was the story brought out at the office of Justice of the Peace G. T. Pastre of Glassport yesterday when Mrs. Rodgers appeared to make information against her husband.

According to her story, Rodgers turned her out of the house, and she went to the home of relatives in Glassport with the baby. She had barely arrived there when her husband forced his way into the house with a knife in his hand and threatened to kill her and the child. A struggle for possession of the child took place, the husband finally wresting it from the mother's arms. He then started with it toward the river, the child thrown over his shoulder.

Constable Harper was notified and gave chase. Rodgers had a good start and after pretending to throw the child under a freight car he reached the river and jumped into a skiff. He was pulling away when the officer arrived. He was captured later and locked up for a hearing.

The child is none the worse for its rough experience, with the exception of a bruise.

TWO MEN INJURED AND HORSE KILLED

Express Traction Car Hits Wagon and Cuts a Horse's Legs Off.

In a collision between an express traction car and a wagon on Liberty avenue, near Seventeenth street, last night, two men were injured and a horse had all his legs cut off and another was hurt. The men injured were:

CHARLES WISE, motorman of the car, cut by flying glass.

D. W. WILLIAMS of Washington avenue, Allegheny, scalp badly cut by being thrown from the wagon.

Four horses were drawing the wagon, which is owned by the Rickard Transfer Company of 834 Wasington avenue, Allegheny. The car was westbound and the team was going in the opposite direction. When the collision occurred the horses were all thrown down and the one next to the car went under the wheels and had its legs cut off. It was killed by Policeman John Kornbauer. The front of the car was smashed. D. S. McCowan, the driver, was also thrown from the wagon, but escaped injury. After Wise and Williams had their injuries dressed they went home.

LOOKING FOR MISSING MEN.

Detectives Asked to Find George McCollough and Charles Flinn.

The city detectives were yesterday asked to find George McCullough, aged 30, 1306 Poplar street, Allegheny, and Charles Flinn, aged 29, 1526 Center avenue. McCollough disappeared from his home June 30 and Flinn on July 2. McCullough was employed in the shipping department of the United Presbyterian Book Publishing Company. He left the office in the afternoon with $150 to buy some postage for the firm. He did not return to the office that evening and the last seen of him was by J. Eckert of 1502 Monterey street, Allegheny. Eckert alleges he saw McCollough with some rough characters in a barber shop in Ninth street. McCollough is married and he wore a $400 diamond stud when he left the store.

Flinn is thought to be suffering from overstudy. He was graduated from the Pittsburgh High school in June last year. He was of a retired disposition and rarely ventured from home. Saturday his mother told him to go out for a walk.

Three Victims of Cupid in City Hall

Cupid is a frequent visitor to the Pittsburgh city hall these days. The little god has led three well-known city officials to renounce bachelorhood in the past few days and it is said to have several more on his lists. Charles A. Finley, superintendent of the bureau of surveys, quietly married a Westmoreland county girl a few days ago, the news of the wedding coming as a surprise to his friends in the city hall. He is on his wedding trip. Councilman W. A. Martin of the Sixteenth ward made his disappearance a few days ago and the next heard of him was that he had wedded in Cincinnati. Harvey F. Davis, assistant city clerk, was married yesterday in Flat Lick, Knox county, Kentucky, to a belle of the feud district.

PLANS FOR LABOR DAY.

General Executive Committee Will Elect Chief Marshal Next Tuesday.

The general committee of the Labor day celebration met last night in the Union Workingmen's association rooms, 210 Fourth avenue. The various subcommittees appointed by the executive officials discussed plans for celebrating Labor day.

The question of appointing a chief marshal was one of the principal subjects under consideration. As stated in The Gazette, the election will be made next Tuesday. There are four candidates for the honor, namely, Frank Curran of the painters; E. F. Welsh of the plumbers; Henry G. Legleitner of the housesmiths and A. M. Swaltz of the carpenters.

The Clearance of Millinery Continues Today.

The clearance of millinery is to be a most radical one. Nothing is to be spared. Trimmed hats from abroad, from New York, from our own workrooms, untrimmed hats, flowers and feathers and laces and velvets, and all the other appurtenances that milliners use for beautifying hats and bonnets and toques—all have been marked down and again marked down until prices approach the ridiculous.

Yesterday, despite the ugly weather, hundreds of women crowded this department all day, yet with the enormous stock and the lines which have been added, the opportunities today are practically as good as they were yesterday.

For 5c, Women's untrimmed Straw Hats that were very good value at 50c.
For 15, Women's Untrimmed Straw Hats, all colors, hats which sold all alone for 75c.
For 25c, Women's and Children's Untrimmed Straw Hats, including white and black Tuscan shapes, regular $1.00 grades.
For 35c, Women's and Children's Untrimmed Hats including Lockorns and Tuscans, Panamas and fancy Straws. These sold for $1.25 each.
For 50c, Women's and Children's Untrimmed Hats, white, black and all colors, including Italian straws, hats that were good value at $1.50.
For 50c, Women's Trimmed Hats and Toques—these sold early in the season at $2.25.
For $1.75, Women's and Children's Trimmed Hats, ready to wear, marked down from $2.50, $3.50 and $4.00.
For 95c, Women's Velvet Hats and Toques, that sold for $1.00, $1.50 and $2.50, together with Women's and Misses' Trimmed Sailors that sold for $3.50 and $4.00.
For $2.25, Women's Run-about and Golf Hats, Trimmed ready to wear—these sold for $3.00, $4.50 and $5.00.
For $1.50, Children's broad brimmed Tuscan and Lace Braid White Hats, formerly $3.00 and $4.00.
For $3.50 from $10.00, for $5.00 from $12.50, for $7.50 from $18.00, for $10.00 from $22.00—Women's Trimmed Hats and Toques, all made on wire frames.
For $12.00 from $28.00, for $15.00 from $35.00, for $30.00 from $45.00, fine French model Hats and Toques.
For $8.50 from $25.00, for $12.00 from $35.00, for $18.00 from $45.00, Mourning Millinery including English Crepe Bonnets and Veils, Toques and Hats.
For 59c, Broad brim Beaver Hats, best quality, black, navy, tan and brown, suitable for autumn wear, worth $3.50, $4.00 and $4.50.
For 5c from 25c, for 15c from 50c, for 25c from $1.00, for 35c from $1.50, for 75c from $2.00 Artificial Flowers for trimming hats—these are imported flowers and the variety is extraordinary.
For 15c from 35c and 40c, for 25c from 50c and 75c for 35c from $1.00 and $1.25, for 50c from $1.50 and $2.00, Birds Wings, Breasts, Quills and fancy Feathers of all descriptions.

Materials for making hats and bonnets, either for Summer or Autumn wear, including Buckles, Braids, Nets, Velvets, Crepes, Straw Ornaments, etc., for one-eighth of original prices.

The July Clearance of Draperies.

All sorts of odds and ends of draperies may be bought in Fourth Floor today for the smallest of prices—tapestries, laces, pongees, cords, etc.

For instance, there is a lot of short ends of swisses, tapestry, laces and pongee cords for 2c each.

Another lot is made up of larger pieces of the same goods—these will be sold for 5c each.

Still another lot, including goods that sold for as much as $1.50 and $2.00 a yard, these pieces will be sold for 10c each.

Cretonnes—

We have gone over our prices and lowered them all along the line of this clearance event. They read now as follows:

25c Cretonnes, 15c yard. | 75c Cretonnes, 50c yard.
35c Cretonnes, 25c yard. | 80c Cretonnes, 50c yard.
65c Cretonnes, 50c yard. | 90c Cretonnes, 60c yard.

And so on up to $1.60, $1.75 and $2.00 cretonnes, which will be sold for $1.00 a yard.

Short ends of drapery silks, fine tapestries, denims, sateens and other like materials have all been marked to half of regular prices.

Clearance of Rustic Porch Furniture.

In yesterday evening's papers we gave a large list of clearance prices on furniture for the interior of the house. This morning we add a few numbers in furniture for out-of-doors. Plenty of time to use porch furniture this season, and prices cannot get any lower than these we name today.

The following pieces are of Adirondack silver birch, in rustic style, suitable for either porch or lawn—

Davenport, was $12.50—take it for $9.00.
Rocking Settee, was $10.00—take it for $6.50.
Double Bench, was $2.50—take it for $1.50.
Single Bench, was $2.00—take it for $1.35.
Rockers, large, were $6.00—take them for $4.00.
Arm Chair, large, was $5.00—take it for $4.00.
Rocker, small, was $5.00—take it for $3.50.
Side Chair, was $2.50—take it for $1.50.
Child's Rocker, was $1.50—take it for $1.00.
Child's Arm Chair, was $1.50—take it for $1.00.

Below we give a few items in Maple Porch Furniture—these have double reed seats and backs—

Settees that were $10.00 to be cleared at $6.50.
Rockers that were $6.50 to be cleared at $4.75.
Arm Chairs that were $5.50 to be cleared at $4.00.
200 Large Porch Rockers, splint seats and woven backs, very comfortable—regularly $3.00 each, to be cleared at $2.25 each.

Clearance of Finest French Fancy Handkerchiefs.

By fancy we mean that they are both colored and embroidered. To begin with, they are the sheerest of fine linen—the colors are the daintiest, lavender, pink, pale green, pale blue—here an all-over bow knot design, there a dainty border formed of a garland of color artistically blended with an embroidered border. Others have French dots worked all over them. Many other designs, both as to embroidery and color effects, in all cases the embroidery being in white, and, of course, strictly hand-wrought, but in many cases the design being a beautiful blending of the colored printing and the embroidery.

The clearance prices are as follows: $1.50 and $2.00 Handkerchiefs 50c each; $1.00 ones 25c each.

July Clearance of Brushes.

As we are desirous of reducing our stock of brushes we have put out the following goods to be sold for one-third less than their regular prices. The prices marked on the brushes are the regular prices. The clearance prices will figure just one-third less:

Hair Brushes—50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.35, $1.75, $2.00, $2.50, $2.75. One-third less.
Military Brushes—$1.00, $2.00, $3.00, $4.50 a pair. One-third less.
Hat Brushes—75c. One-third less.
Cloth Brushes—$1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.50. One-third less.
Bath Brushes—$1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75. One-third less.
Nail Brushes—25c, 40c, 75c, 85c, $1.00, $1.25. One-third less.

It was interesting to see how eagerly the crowds of women entered into the sale of knitted underwear yesterday. They seemed surprised to get such fine garments for so little money. For today we put on sale the following new lines—

At 18c each—High or low neck Vests with short sleeves; low neck Vests, plain and fancy trimmed.
At 25c each—Low neck fancy Vests; low neck plain vests, knee drawers; high or low neck vests with short sleeves.
At 35c each—Umbrella Union Suits; umbrella drawers; fancy and plain vests.
At 50c—Umbrella Drawers, Umbrella Union Suits, fancy and plain vests, light Knee Drawers.
At 75c each—Fancy silk mixed Vests; silk mixed Bodices; Umbrella Drawers; fancy lisle Vests; Union Suits.

Clearance Prices for Art Needlework.

Our usual low prices have been lowered for the July clearance sales. It is really wonderful for what a small amount women can buy artistic things in this department. Specimens—

Finished Handkerchief Pillow Slips with lace trimmed ruffles—all kinds of floral and polka dot designs—pink, blue, yellow and red, for 35c each, regularly 65c.

Dress Trimmings 25c a Bunch.

These bundles of trimmings are made up of different kinds of trimmings, all styles and grades. Sold regularly any of the bundles would bring 75c, $1.00 to $1.50. So much for clearance prices.

White Cotton Novelty Braid, sells regularly for 10c, 15c 20c a piece, to be cleared out at 5c a piece of 6 yards.

Today at the Candy Counter.

We give you three numbers by which you may judge our entire line of fine candies and prices. How much more would you pay an exclusive confectioner for these identical sweets?

Chocolate covered Marshmallows, 40c lb.
Scotch Kisses, 35c lb.
Cream Almonds, 35c lb.

The following refreshing draughts await comers to the Soda Fountain—

Fresh Peach Sundae. | Red Raspberry Sundae.
Grape Rickeys. | Mint Limeade.

Wednesday, July 6, 1904.

The Gazette desires to call the attention of those of its readers who contemplate summer trips to the announcements of the many summer resort hotels published on page 14 of this issue.

On the eve of the Democratic convention there is no change in the situation. Contests have been thrown out by the national committee, and the conservative element is in absolute control. The indications all point to the nomination of Judge Alton Brooks Parker for president, and the vice presidential nomination is nebulous. To-day's meeting can hardly develop the man for the place as Temporary Chairman John Sharp Williams will be the whole show, but the conferences on the outside may lead to results.

Traffic Manager Joyce of the Pennsylvania system declares the volume of business on his company's lines to be fully equal to that of 1902 and increasing. The economies recently introduced, says Mr. Joyce, are for the purpose of bringing operating costs down near the 1902 basis. Without revoking the advance in wages made at the beginning of last year this is not easy to do. Mr. Joyce sees inspiration in the fact that traffic is increasing at this time, which he takes as an augury of the speedy restoration of the conditions prevailing early last year. There is probably no better indicator of business in the east than Pennsylvania railroad shipments, and it is encouraging to know they are increasing.

In confirming the appointment of Prince Obolenski as governor general of Finland, the czar of Russia expressed himself as being favorable to giving that country autonomous government. In the opinion of the czar the Finns can legislate for themselves better than Russia may legislate for them, and that is a wise opinion. The Finns are a civilized people with a literature and culture that are older than Russia. They were a self-governing nation. They submitted gracefully to Russian sovereignty while they were permitted to retain their own language and manage their own affairs. The trouble began when all privileges were taken from them. Czar Nicholas' heart, we believe, is in the right place, but he is at the head of a wrong system.

Meat dealers and consumers have given an illustration of the power of the people to resist arbitrary advances in the prices of commodities. There was no good reason for pushing up the price of dressed beef two weeks ago—except the possible plea that the combined packers "needed the money." Refusal to pay the price has reduced the ordinary consumption of meat for some people, but they have probably not suffered any in health on that account. Fruit and vegetables are generally recommended by the doctors as a summer diet, but whether or not one agrees with the dictum, it is worth while to apply it in a case like this to bring the purveyors to their senses. The people have power in greater or less degree to regulate the price of every commodity.

All arrangements have been made for the first excursion of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, which will start for West Virginia next Tuesday, the itinerary calling for four days' visiting in the towns of the war born state. The association has made a good selection of territory for its first tour. West Virginia has been developing with tremendous rapidity during the past fifteen years. Its natural affiliation is with Pittsburgh, but for many years its transportation lines led to Baltimore. Now there are direct connections with Pittsburgh and it needs only good acquaintance to direct the trade of the prosperous, growing towns of Morgantown, Fairmont, Clarksburg, Mannington, New Martinsville, Sistersville and Parkersburg to this city. There is plenty of material in that territory for four weeks of cultivation by the Pittsburgh business men and they will find genial hosts in the men of affairs of the towns named.

Reports of the fighting in Sumatra indicate a most revolting state of affairs. The casualty lists sent to Holland contain a very large proportion of women and children—far more than it is conceivable could be killed by accident in the stress of battle. Admitting the Achinese to be unspeakably recalcitrant and unruly is no excuse for the deliberate slaughter of women and children. Assuming that these classes are not, strictly speaking, non-combatant, in the case of the Achinese it is outrageous that they should be shot down in large numbers by the Dutch troops. Holland owes an explanation to the civilized world of its casualty lists from Sumatra, and if the conditions are really as they appear, it may be necessary to take the authorities before the tribunal at their own Hague for judgment. It is surprising that the Dutch should jeopard their reputation for humanity.

The Bond Issues.

On next Tuesday the voters of Pittsburgh will pass upon the question whether the city shall issue $5,000,000 of bonds for filtration of the city water supply and $2,000,000 of bonds for reduction of the grades on Grant hill. There has been a notable lack of open discussion or excitement concerning this election and it is difficult to predict the result. There ought to be no question about the issue for the purification of the water supply, for every week's vital statistics give evidence of the penalty paid for delay in this matter. Enteric diseases are frightfully prevalent and increasing. Suppose the estimates are, as some claim, needlessly large, is it not better to vote the money than to go on suffering the heavy financial drain involved in hundreds of preventable cases of disease every year, not to mention the inestimable losses and sorrow by deaths from those diseases?

Filtration is urgent. The estimates cover a plant and foundation that will meet the requirements for at least half a century. It is cheaper to provide now for future expansion than it will be in the years to come. Delay since the first issue of bonds has cost the city millions. There is economy in promptness both in filtering the supply and metering the service and no voter should hesitate about casting his ballot in the affirmative for this issue.

Hump removal is neither urgent nor necessary. It is desirable. It is possible it may be done more cheaply now than at any time in the future. That phase is worth considering. The improvement will be of value to the community, but not in such measure as enthusiastic advocates are declaring. There is not now much active opposition to the project, because the chamber of commerce investigation gave the public definite data concerning the probable cost. That cost will likely exceed the official estimates, but the public is tolerant of increases to the amount of one-half of original estimates, though unwilling to plunge where there is no limit. The greater part of the opposition to the hump reduction project has been due to the policy of reticence adopted by Director Bigelow, and the votes polled against the issue of bonds may be charged to the same cause.

Labor on the Canal.

One of the most serious problems in connection with the Panama canal is that of labor for its construction. This has attracted the attention of many high authorities and a good many useful suggestions have been made. One of these comes from Gen. Peter C. Hains, in an article in the North American Review. Gen. Hains thinks the number of laborers that will be required has been overestimated. He puts the figure at 10,000. While he does not specify, it may be assumed that he means that number all the time. Not all who go there will survive, and not all who live will stay for the completion of the work. It may require a reserve equal to the total number employed at any one time. Gen. Hains does not believe the importation of Chinese coolies will be sanctioned by the American people, though that would be the easiest way out. He advances, instead, the suggestion that a few men, say 2,000, may be had from the West Indies and the remainder from among the colored men in the south.

This suggestion is well worth considering. There is a surplus of common labor in that region and we may judge from events that it is not particularly welcome to remain there. It ought not to be difficult to get 10,000 men in the south for good wages to go to the isthmus. Another advantage in getting labor from that source is that the colored men are amenable to sanitary rules. They have been tried in the army and not found wanting. They withstand the influences of tropical climates quite well. These are points of prime importance in the consideration. The Chinese coolies present much the same advantages, but there is the objection that would take on political significance, even if the exclusion act did not operate to prevent.

It can be taken for granted that conditions will be different from what they were when the French company began the Panama project. First of all there has been a vast improvement in dredging machinery. The steam diggers of today will do the work of many men and require the attendance of few. Those men may work in accord with the rule of the tropics, which limits the hours of labor to about five a day. That will conserve their health so the tropics should be no more severe upon them than the temperate zone. Of course, we do not mean by this that the Panama malaria does not still add an additional element of danger. Sanitary science has made important progress since the canal work was begun. This factor is indefinite, but should count for the saving of many lives. This again returns to help out Gen. Hains' estimate that not so many men will be needed as the popular estimate has called for. The general is high authority on engineering matters and has taken into account all the conditions, no doubt. At any rate, he has made an interesting contribution to the literature of the subject.

A Kind Gentleman.

There is a good deal of kindness in this world if one but looks for it. It crops out at unexpected times and in unexpected places. It is well at times to give thought to this fact by way of relief from the cares and worries of life and especially when one is feeling the touch of what he may deem an unkind fate. We are prompted to these remarks by a small news item that has floated out from Philadelphia, relating how a London real estate dealer who had noted that losses in stocks and bonds would compel some of the first families of the Quaker city to close their palatial homes and economize for a spell, arranged a list of castles, manor houses and villas in old England that may be rented, which he mailed to a score or more of the unfortunate. The item concludes, quoting the agents' letter, as follows:

"A majority of places on the list are owned by men of title. Many of the places are of historic interest, while all are in excellent condition. What a delightful glimpse of English country life a sojourn here will give. We can guarantee titled neighbors in many cases."

One castle was offered at $45 a month.

Here is opportunity for the hard hit Philadelphia financiers to rest from their labors, live cheaply as neighbors to the titled nobility and enjoy association with ancient castles, with all their legends. If this were not enough to revive the spirits of investors in Consolidated Lake Superior, there is in addition the mild suggestion that their own misfortunes are as nothing compared with others of high birth and noble lineage. At any rate the Philadelphia financiers are not compelled to eke out scanty incomes by renting their palaces at ruinous rates to those who have been more fortunate. They may recoup by merely closing their establishments.

This long-distance kindness of the London man commends itself. It is both thoughtful and considerate. People who are not financially perplexed rent castles, so there is no suggestion in his act that enforced economy is understood or implied. It would have been in bad taste for him to write to persons not personally known to him and advise contemplation of the miseries of others as a means for taking the sting out of misfortune. But it is in exquisite taste to present a long list of baronial holdings on the renting market because owners have not sufficient ready cash to maintain them. Altogether this real estate man has displayed a genius for consolation, coupled with a keen scent for business in his line.

Populist Ticket Named.

There is little that is new in the product of the Peoples party national convention, except Thomas H. Tribbles of Nebraska for vice president. He is new and unknown, but it may be assumed he is a thorough-going Populist from the propaganda for fiat money to the government ownership of public utilities. We do not know if he is red-headed. Thomas E. Watson of Georgia, the candidate for president, is not new. He is, red-headed—also optimistic. The worst that any one can say about Mr. Watson is that he is a middle-of-the-road Populist and proud of it. We hope Mr. Tribbles is equally reputable, in which case the two Toms will make a personally popular ticket.

Of the platform adopted yesterday it may be said that it adheres throughout to the socialist doctrines advanced in previous campaigns. There is some amplification of the plank on organized labor, which is designed to entice a share of the labor vote to the Populist ticket, and special emphasis is laid upon the demand for government ownership of railroads and telegraphs and the dictum that all money should be issued direct from the government without the intervention of corporations or individuals. There is no specific call for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, which may disappoint a few Bryan men who are ready to fall back into the Populist ranks again.

As a matter of fact, the Peoples party is not likely to cut much of a figure in this campaign. It passed the height of its influence several years ago, when Bryan carried it into the Democratic party and drove out the old-line Democrats. It will never again poll as many votes as it polled in the dark days following the depression of 1893. The return of the Democratic party to saner views on the money question may cause some accessions to the Peoples party vote this year, but not sufficient to restore it to its position a decade ago. Therefore, neither its platform nor ticket is of much importance.

Heroes of the Jim Bludsoe type are not so rare after all. Amid all those scenes of brutal cowardice which characterized the officers and crew of the General Slocum, it was her engineer who bravely stuck to his post until he ran her ashore on North Brother island. And now, in the wreck of the Norge, the act of another such hero comes to light all the more luminous from the tragic fate which was his. When all was confusion on the boat; when even the captain himself was so unnerved that he could not give coherent orders, it was Engineer Jans Peter Janson who bade a calm farewell to his relatives on deck and, refusing the chance of escape offered him, said simply that he must return to his duty in the engine room. Thus he died. The history of both marine and railway disasters, indeed, shows that engineers are usually made of heroic stuff.

Democratic opinion is in a nebulous state at present, says the Public Ledger. Yes, but there'll be plenty of stars when Col. Bryan gets bumped.

Those people who want to put clothes on the Iggorotes probably fear to face the naked facts as they exist in the Philippines.

The Republican platform may have come out of cold storage, but it's certain that's where the Democratic platform is going.

See what weeks of advertising can do for an article which only a few weeks ago was almost unknown outside of Esopus.

The Indiana man who claims to be able to generate life by chemical process will be badly needed in St. Louis p. d. q.

It'll probably be more satisfactory now to count noses than other parts of the human anatomy.

It is said that Bryan is willing to take what he can get at St. Louis. Where will he have it?

If the Pops had held their convention on the Fourth of July there'd have been more of them.

Talked of In Gotham

By ALEXANDER DODDS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 5.—The traction problem is paramount in the minds of all New Yorkers. In Wall street the financier racks his brain over the probability of a consolidation of the surface, elevated and underground interests. The populace is frenzied over a five-cent fare to Coney Island. New York is always more or less exercised over some problem, but it has been some time since the rich and poor alike have found interest in a common cause. Traction lines have had a busy week in the "street," according to the brokers, and it you ask the police in the neighborhood of Kings highway they will also intimate that there has been something doing on traction.

It is hard for the average Pittsburgher to appreciate just what a trolley protest means here, for the rebellion of the Straphangers' league was only a vigorous, orderly kick against gigantic corporation abuses. But to see a mammoth traction car stop in the center of a busy thoroughfare and witness swearing men and shrieking women tumbled out by husky officials, it leads one to ponder over the right and wrong of it all. As many as 1,000 persons were ejected forcibly from the cars in one day and the police have been kept busy quelling miniature riots by the disgusted pleasure seekers. Instead of having a derogatory effect on the street railway shares, the price is good and Metropolitan stock advanced nearly nine points during last week. The officials of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company are attempting to belittle the seriousness of the situation, but Mayor McClellan tonight announced that he intended to order an investigation into the legality of a 10-cent fare to Coney Island.

Baby Was in Panthers' Cage.

Those who decided to pay the extra fare to Coney Island yesterday afternoon were treated to rather a novel sight. Ivy Elisabeth Bostock, the 4-year-old daughter of the animal man, who says she is going to be an animal queen, got leave of her father to sit in the cage for over an hour with three cub panthers. It wasn't a very perilous feat, but it made a very pretty picture and the Fourth of July crowds paused before the cage to pay the young "animal queen" the tribute of their admiration.

Brooklyn Bridge's Fame on the Wane.

After all the risks of Steve Brodie and hosts of others to make the Brooklyn bridge the most famous of leapers' retreats, the fad gives immediate promise to fade away. Clarence Smith, who lives in Brooklyn and works in a brewery, jumped from an elevated railway station this afternoon and the police have sent out a general alarm to prevent the habit of eliminating stairs in descent to the street becoming popular. Smith is in the hospital, but he is happy for he did not take a dare of two of his companions. Strange as it may seem, when the fact that thousands upon thousands of people of all classes use the "L" trains every day, this is the first record the police have of an elevated railroad jumper.

When he recovers at the hospital Smith is assured a term on Blackwells island. He not only endangered his own life, but the lives of those on the street below him.

Their Grin Is Broad and Long.

It was a glorious Fourth for the gentlemen who wait upon customers at Sheepshead Bay. For the customers it was anything but glorious, especially those who depend on favorites to win races and get returns. Seven races and only one favorite a winner is the record. It is not often that the bookmakers get such a turn in their favor, for holidays are usually disastrous to the fraternity, but all are happy today, for the killing was enough to make even the smallest of the talent smile. However, the sport was tip-top for the lovers of racing and anyone who managed to scratch out a winner from the seven races was well repaid for his outing.

Will Reward Deeds of Valor.

Kaiser Wilhelm is determined to reward three heroic women who risked their lives to save passengers on the ill-fated General Slocum. He has cabled to the German consul here for the names of three nurses whom he may honor for their courage and unselfishness. The request has been turned over to Health Commissioner Darlington, but he is not ready yet to name the courageous trio. There were so many acts of heroism during the burning of the big excursion boat that Dr. Darlington does not want to seen an injustice done. As the ancestors of almost every victim of the General Slocum had been subjects of the kaiser, and as he is also the head of the Lutheran church, he has been greatly interested in every detail of the disaster.

Where Is Hoe's Papa?

A bright-eyed little fellow who wore a large straw hat and a blue and white sailor suit, stood at Broadway and Fulton street at noon today watching the cars whiz by. Policeman Slipreck, ganging his age at about three years, gathered him in as a "stroller." He hadn't had much attention paid to him for several days, and he told the sergeant at the Old Slip police station that his name was Hoe. He ate some candy and a sandwich and then journeyed across the street with a brass buttoned guide to see the fire horses. There he stayed until he got sleepy and then the policeman took him back to headquarters. A call for the lad by his parents is said to be improbable.

Swearing Off Put Up the Rate.

When the board of aldermen received the tax ledgers this afternoon they were surprised to find that there has been an increased energy upon the part of many to "swear off" their personal taxes. This unexpected development will cause an increase in the tax rate. The figures show that while the assessed value of the realty has increased $263,912,953 during the year, the personal assessments have decreased $55,787,214. Resident corporations who were originally put down as owning $2,209,207,090 of taxable property, have sworn off $2,146,919,450, leaving only $62,298,250 on which they will pay taxes directly to the state.

Floating Hospital Makes First Trip.

With its cargo of sick babies the Helen E. Julliard, the floating hospital connected with the St. Johns guild, started today on its first trip down the bay to the seaside hospital at New Dorp, S. I. The trips of the St. Johns guild are enabled by voluntary subscriptions and the hospital at the seaside is also kept up by the same means. Since the recent disaster to the General Slocum, the Helen E. Julliard has been so plentifully equipped with fire fighting apparatus that she is as safe as any boat can well be.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

And then it rained.

Of course, it always rains after there has been a lot of shooting.

You may have heard that rains invariably follow battles, or you may know it to be a fact, for a fact it is.

Soldiers used to think it was a wise and very kind provision of nature, for the wounded are always feverish and their prayer is for water. No matter how hard and heavy the rain the wounded fellows fairly revel in it.

And as for the dead, they don't mind it and their friends recall that old saying: "Blessed are the dead that the rain falls on."

Those who escape death and wounds and have to go marching on do not welcome the rain after a battle, particularly if it keeps it up for a day or two, as is usually the case, for marching through mud and rain, doing picket duty in a steady drizzle and sleeping on wet ground is not the thing it is cracked up to be by those who write on the gloriousness of a soldier's life.

* * * * *

But, as usual, the scientist butts in and takes all the romance, the glory and the mystery out of the phenomena of rain after a battle or after a really noisy and smoky Fourth of July celebration.

He tells us that it is brought about by the moisture given off by combustion of the materials which constitute gunpowder. And you may know there is a lot of it if you were in the artillery, for after the discharge of a gun moisture will develop until it drops from the muzzle.

Even the squirrel rifle or shotgun gets wet inside after a few shots unless carefully swabbed out.

And that we are told that the fine particles of carbon blown into the air from the muzzles of guns form nuclei around which the moisture in the air gathers until a drop forms and becomes heavy enough to fall toward the earth.

May it not have been the smoke from so many burning brush piles, log heaps and dry leaves, back in the early days while this country was being cleaned up, that brought seasonable rain? No doubt the vast areas of timber and foliage helped, but the smoke was there in plenty, also.

* * * * *

"It ain't no use to murmur nor complain,
It's jest as cheap and easy to rejoice;
When God sorts out the weather and sends rain
Why, rain's my choice."

We have wondered whether Brother Riley ever had a field of clover cut and about ready to transport with its fragrant sweetness to the empty mow, or a load or stack of the same succulent, nutritious material lacking the two top loads, when a rainstorm of the 83d and last degree came up and converted the splendid stuff into a ruined mass of melodorous corruption.

We say we have wondered whether, under such circumstances, Brother Riley would dash into the barnyard and swing his hat in hilarious glee because of the utter ruin.

Nit.

Yet the man's sentiment is all right. The shower that blackened the few loads of hay caused King Corn to shake his silken tresses and bear aloft his kingly crown with sturdy joy, while the fetied air from the decaying grass was supplemented by the delightful aroma of the fragrant buckwheat blossoms.

Compensation—can't get away from it.

During the winter just passed it snowed, but while it snowed it rained on business. Business wasn't good. If you should meet a merchant who said business was humming merrily along at top speed throughout the winter, he is to be regarded as a very fortunate individual—or a liar. If any of the latter are in business, perish the thought. This is where we ring in our text: we find "It's jest as cheap and easy to rejoice."

We don't think much of the yap who always sees disaster on the horizon, and we want to wear the "smile that won't come off." We think the year will be one of solid success in business, more prosperity for a larger number of people and less unusual success for a few.

So brace up, old friend, and don't invite failure for the lack of a little nerve.

MIFFLIN, JR.

North Hope, Pa.

Where is North Hope, Pa., anyway?

It must be somewhere, and something of a place, else it wouldn't have a philosopher like "Mifflin, Jr." Indeed, the philosophy reads like that of a senior. Maybe it is both.

But be that as it may, or be North Hope where it may, the philosophy is good, and one cannot help feeling that the philosopher is a good sort of fellow.

Our forefathers held that there was no use grumbling and complaining in those glorious revolutionary times—glorious to us, but rather strenuous for them. Maybe they did grumble some, and complain a good bit, but they struggled on and fought on and won out all right.

Are we so degenerate that we cannot, or will not, follow where they led?

* * * * *

It hath been written, or it appears as handwriting upon the wall, that men must work, and we have learned there can be no excellence without it.

And if we could only get it into our heads that work, or even downright toil, is neither slavish nor degrading, but rather ennobling, helpful and healthful, we would be ever so much happier and this old world of our's would begin putting on the airs of paradise.

And why not a paradise—a prelude to heaven? This earth is capable of it, and heaven is perfectly willing. Isn't man competent to do the rest? He thinks he is the biggest thing on earth, and what he can't do is hardly worth doing.

About the truth of the matter is that he doesn't like to work, at least not any too well, and goes around worrying and wailing about it. Was that what gave Kingsley the cue for his famous poem, "The Toiler's Portion"?

Three fishers went sailing away to the west,
Away to the west as the sun went down;
Each thought of his home, and of those he loved best,
And the children stood watching them out of the town.
For men must work, and women must weep,
And there's little to earn and many to keep—
Though the harbor bar be moaning.

Three wives sat up in the lighthouse tower,
And they trimmed the lamps as the sun went down.
They looked at the squall and they looked at the shower,
And the night-rack came rolling up, ragged and brown.
But men must work, and women must weep,
Tho' storms be sudden and waters deep—
And the harbor bar be moaning.

Three corpses lay out on the shining sands,
In the morning gleam, as the tide went down,
And the women are weeping and wringing their hands
For those who will never come back to the town.
For men must work, and women must weep,
And the sooner it's over the sooner to sleep,
And good-by to the bar and its moaning.
—Charles Kingsley.

THE MIRACLE.

When I have walked into the fields alone,
Sick of the idle babble of men's speech,
Somehow all reconciled my soul has grown
When I have heard a feathered parson preach.
Hardened to what the flowers have to teach
And heard the giant trees their praise intone.

Does God not somehow dwell within His works,
The bird, the tree, the flower, the leaf of green?
Is He not tenant of the yielding sod?
Surely divinity within them lurks
And I have touched, even as the Gadarene,
The very garment of the living God!

Convention Humor

They are telling a rich one on Tom L. Johnson at the St. Louis convention, says the New York Tribune. It is alleged that the erstwhile leader who was bumped so hard at the recent Ohio state Democratic convention, sought to placate some of his political enemies by bringing them to St. Louis in his private car. Two of these guests are men from lowly walks of life. No sooner had they arrived at convention headquarters than they filed a notice of contest against Mr. Johnson as a delegate. The story leaked out and yesterday the genial Tom put in a good share of the day buying cigars for gaying acquaintances.

"The tough feature of it all is," said Johnson ruefully, "that if I hadn't brought these two men along they wouldn't have been able to get here at all."

Ex-Senator David B. Hill, who is conceded to be the whole thing at the convention—at least for the present—has his hands so full managing the intricate network of wires which he has fashioned that he hasn't much time for anything but serious matters. His corrugated brow was forced to relax a little yesterday, however, when a friend called his attention to a paragraph in a St. Louis paper. The topic under discussion concerned the ex-senator's political record, says the Tribune's correspondent. No doubt the writer had said: "Mr. Hill's term of office expired in 1897," but the luckless typesetter and proofreader had allowed it to appear: "Mr. Hill's germ of office expired in 1897."

When the sentence was called to the attention of Leader Charles F. Murphy of Tammany hall, he promptly declared that Mr. Hill's germ of office has not expired and never will expire.

William Jennings Bryan had hardly reached his rooms at the Jefferson Monday when he was honored by a visit from the proud parents of triplets, who had named their youngsters respectively William, Jennings and Bryan Taylor. When the visitors had departed Mr. Bryan confided to a group of correspondents the fact that he possesses the pictures of about 500 namesakes, among them two sets of triplets in South Carolina, one set in Illinois and one in Montana, besides the Missouri set.

"In 1900, after I had made a speech out in Wisconsin," said Mr. Bryan, "a man came to me and said he had named his boy for me. I asked him how old his boy was, and he said 12 years. I asked him how that was, and he replied:

"'Oh, his name was Grover Cleveland, but we changed it.'"

A picturesque figure in the Kentucky delegation, says the New York Herald, is Urey Woodson, one of the leaders of the Parker forces in the south. To a group of friends yesterday morning he declared that the estimate placed on the Hearst boom reminded him of a nightmare that once afflicted a bibulous gentleman who had endeavored to drink up the available supply of bourbon in the Blue Grass state.

"One night he retired," said Mr. Woodson, "and after spending several hours in a vain endeavor to sleep was surprised to see, as he thought, the door of his room open and a 14-foot elephant with pink eyes and green tusks, enter. The door closed behind the pachyderm, which marched slowly over to the bed and then reared up on its hind legs as though about to fall upon and crush the unfortunate Kentuckian. Fortunately for him, he awoke at this critical juncture and was very much relieved to see the elephant back out through the keyhole. Now a great many Democrats have regarded the Hearst boom as a 14-foot elephant, but mark my words, on the very first day of the convention they will see that animal back out through the keyhole of the convention hall door."

John Sharp Williams, the temporary chairman of the convention, has been in St. Louis for a week, says the New York World. When he arrived he registered at the Inside Inn, one of the high priced hostelries within the world's fair grounds. Yesterday, when some of Mr. Williams' Mississippi friends sought to find him they learned that he had paid his bill at the hotel and had not been seen around there for two or three days. After a long search they finally located the missing leader in a modest little boarding house. They expressed their astonishment that he should have chosen such inconspicuous quarters, but Williams drawled out:

"Well, you see, boys, I want to stay through this convention if I can, and after my first experience of a day or two I concluded I had to economize a little to make my funds last me."

And now some of the congressman's enemies are broadly hinting that this remark of Williams' was nothing more nor less than an open bid for the Populist nomination.

There is a habit peculiar to southern gentleman, the New York Times points out, of which some of the hotels in St. Louis are fully cognizant. What the Hoffman house is to New York Democrats the Laclede at St. Louis, is to the Democracy of Missouri. In the rotunda of the hotel there are handsome circular writing desks around the pillars, and over every one of these is hung a sign, which reads:

"Don't put your feet on the desk."

Because of his striking resemblance to Henry Clay, Representative Sulzer of New York, is a marked man at any gathering which he attends. There are those, however, who profess to be unable to see any such resemblance as that ascribed to Mr. Sulzer, and one of these sceptics yesterday told this story of the New Yorker to a correspondent of the New York Times.

"Sulzer heard that there was an old negro barber in Washington who in his youth had shaved Henry Clay. He went to him for a shave, expecting the barber to say something about the resemblance. When the shave was nearly over, and the old darky had said nothing, Sulzer could hold in no longer.

"'Sam,' said he, 'do I remind you in any way of Henry Clay?'

"Sam put the razor back in its case with great deliberation, but hesitated for some time before answering. Finally he replied:

"'Well, sah, I think yo' does, sah. Yo' breff, sah, is powahful lak Mr. Clay's.'"

Every convention is infested more or less with cranks, some of whom are decidedly near the line that separates sane people from that class popularly denoted as "bug house." One of this latter variety walked into Tammany headquarters Monday with a suggestion for Mr. Murphy, says the New York Herald.

"The way to give the party a winning ticket is to name Folk for president and McClellan for vice president," he shouted.

At that moment Congressman Cockran came into the rotunda and was pounced upon by the daffy one, who, buttonholing him, said confidentially:

"You know I am Mr. Folk myself, and now, Mr. McClellan, couldn't you let me have a quarter so we can go downstairs and celebrate our nomination jointly?"

The Death Roll

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. Elizabeth Crossland, aged 81, of Washington, Pa., is dead.

Mary Ellen Post, aged 60, is dead at her late home in Claysville, Pa.

Albert Smith, a young business man of Washington, Pa., died yesterday, aged 29.

Mrs. William Rodgers of Monongahela, Pa., died yesterday from typhoid fever. She came from Scotland 10 years ago.

Fred E. Buffington, aged 55, one of the oldest passenger conductors on the Erie system, is dead at Meadville, Pa., from a paralytic stroke.

William O'Hara, aged 84, a native of Eckhart and a member of company C, Maryland volunteers of the Spanish-American war, is dead at his late home in Cumberland.

Maj. Henry Leighton Marrit, formerly vice president of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, is dead at his late home in St. Louis of pneumonia, aged 68. Deceased was born in Guilford, Me., April 4, 1836.

Mrs. Julia A. Jacobs, for 50 years a resident of Youngstown, O., died yesterday. She was 83 years old. Five children survive, Grant S. Jacobs, city treasurer; J. A. Calvin of Hollidaysburg, Pa.; G. A. Calvin, Mrs. E. H. Grant and S. B. Jacobs of Youngstown.

William Pottinger, aged 56, a contractor who lived alone in a log cabin on the outskirts of Chester, W. Va., was found dead in bed Monday. The coroner investigated and returned a verdict of death from natural causes. Pottinger leaves several children living in and near McKeesport.

PERSONALS

Hugh McClindon of Black Diamond, a member of the district executive board of the United Mine Workers, left last night on a trip to England, Ireland and Wales. While abroad he will inspect the conditions of the miners and upon his return will make a written report to the United Mine Workers. The principal matter to be investigated is the method of mining coal by machinery. Of late years electricity has been harnessed to mine the coal and bring it to the surface. Nearly every year the United Mine Workers are called upon to adjust a scale of wages for a new coal mining machine. There are six different machines in use in the Pittsburgh district.

The Rev. S. Edward Young, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, accompanied by his family, left last night for Lake of Bays, Canada. They intend spending several weeks at the Canadian pleasure resort.

The Rev. D. Samuel Toy, an evangelist of Philadelphia, passed through the city last night on his way to St. Louis. He has been called there by a combination of several churches to conduct a series of revival meetings. He expects to work there for six weeks.

Joseph E. Carnahan of Canton, O., president of the Carnahan Tin Plate Company, president of the Carnahan Enameling works and president of the Beger Steel Company, arrived in Pittsburgh last night on a business trip. He was accompanied by Judge A. A. Thayer and Henry C. Milligan. Mr. Carnahan said last night that the steel industry was recovering from the slump which happened a few months ago. By fall, he says, business will be in a normal condition.

A correspondent of the London Chronicle tells of an incident he witnessed in the theater of the Crystal Palace, where Cardinal Manning was addressing an immense meeting of members of the League of the Cross, a temperance organization, which was very near his heart. HAYS WILL TODAY SIGN AGREEMENTS

Mayor Gives Peculiar Reason for Approving Contracts With New Depositories.

HE CONSULTED W. B. RODGERS

"I will sign the bank agreements tomorrow," said Mayor Hays yesterday. "I had a talk this morning with Solicitor Rodgers, and he said I had better sign the agreements so that if there was a desire on the part of any one to contest the legality of the agreements in court the question could be brought up. Mr. Rodgers did not go into the legality of the matter particularly, but said the agreements were in regular form."

Mayor Hays did not attempt to justify his course in signing the agreements or to defend the legality of the agreements or the resolution adopted by councils in selecting the new city depositories. He said his only reason for signing the papers was to give Controller Larkin, or some other person, a chance to test the matter in court.

Mayor Hays went on record strongly in favor of the filtration and bump bond issues which are to be voted on next Tuesday.

"If the people want filtration, it is their opportunity now to get it by voting for the $3,000,000 bond issue, and the bump bond issue should also carry. I want to see both bond issues go through, and I believe they will," he said.

Controller Larkin is preparing a statement against the bond issues, which he will give to the public tomorrow. The controller will show how the proposed bond issues will increase the millage next year.

PRISONERS EXPECTED TODAY.

Detective Leaves St. Louis With A. J. Pennington and Two Women.

Superintendent of Detectives McQuaide received a telegram from Detective William Riley at St. Louis yesterday, saying that he would arrive here at 7 o'clock this morning with A. J. Pennington and two women who were arrested there a week ago on charges of conspiracy to defraud. They are alleged to have absconded after contracting a number of bills in this city.

Pennington was a promoter and is alleged to have been organizing a company to manufacture automobiles while here.

SOUGHT SWEETHEART'S LIFE.

Phillip Carey Arrested for Threatening Girl in Restaurant.

Phillip Carey, aged 25, of South Eighteenth street, was locked in the Central station last night on a charge of assault and battery, on the information of Annie Green, before Magistrate Stewart. It is alleged that the girl refused to consider Carey's attentions. She is employed in the Wabash restaurant in Liberty avenue as a waitress.

BRIDE HAD BEEN SHOT, BUT WOULD NOT TELL HOW

Mrs. Angelina Wier, aged 17, of Rankin, a bride of a few days was brought to the Homeopathic hospital last night at 10 o'clock suffering from a severe bullet wound in the left leg just above the knee. Although accompanied from her home to the hospital by her physician, Dr. Glenn of Rankin, and her husband, Jeremiah Wier, she absolutely refuses to tell how she wounded or who fired the shot. She says, however, that it was not her husband. She cannot speak English. The bullet is thought to have been fired by a former lover during her husband's absence.

SUPPLIES FOR THE SUPPER WERE LATE IN ARRIVING

The people in St. Barnabus Home, in the Brownsville road, were probably short of rations at supper last night. During the day George Allen, an employe was sent to the city with a wagon to get supplies for supper. At 10:30 last night the wagon was seen standing in the road a couple of miles from the home by a policeman. An investigation proved that the driver was in the wagon sleeping. He was locked up and a policeman drove the wagon with the delayed supplies to the home.

HERO OF FIVE WARS DYING IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Gen. Thomas B. Howard of the confederate army, a hero of five wars, is dying here. He is a native of Wilmington, N. C., where he was born in 1826. He participated in the Seminole and Creek Indian wars, the war for Texan independence, the war between the United States and Mexico and the war of secession, in which latter war he rose to the rank of brigadier-general and held an important command in Texas.

Father Is Sent to Jail.

Because he disowned his sons, Adam, Andrew and David, Andrew Tennant of Wilkinsburg yesterday endeavored to prevent them from using the name "Tennant Brothers" over their meat store at Glenn and Swissvale streets. He entered the place and protested. A scuffle ensued, in which the father was injured. The latter was arrested, and at the hearing last night before Burgess Keye was committed to jail for 30 days.

Mayor Vetoes Resolution.

At the meeting of the Bellevue borough council yast evening Burgess Martin returned with his veto a resolution increasing the salary of the sewer inspector from $2 a day to $60 a month. An attempt to adopt the resolution over the burgess' veto failed. The annual garbage contract was let to the Allegheny Garbage Company for $3,600, which is $900 more than was paid last year.

TO SHAKE HANDS OF OLD ENEMIES

Americans and Mexicans, Who Once Shot at One Another, Meet in St. Louis.

PRESIDENT DIAZ ARRANGES

Chauncey F. Sargent of Bellwood, near Altoona, was in Pittsburgh yesterday completing arrangements for the participation of Pennsylvania survivors of the Mexican war in the annual encampment to be held in St. Louis on September 15. Mr. Sargent was wounded in two battles of the Mexican war, receiving the second wound at the storming of the castle of Chapultepec. He will be 76 years old this year, but he looks to be no more than 55, being hale and vigorous in appearance.

"Pennsylvania sent two regiments to the Mexican war," said Mr. Sargent. "I enlisted in Greensburg as a member of the company which Westmoreland furnished. There are about 100 survivors of the war still living in Pennsylvania. My company was mustered in December, 1846, left Pittsburgh in January, 1847, and returned in August, 1848, with only 37 survivors—a high rate of war mortality for a year and a half.

"I know of only two Pennsylvania survivors, besides myself, who will attend the reunion of the National Mexican War Veterans' association in St. Louis, but I hope that a good many more will go. They need not communicate beforehand with anyone. The first day's session will be held in East St. Louis, where the veterans will be met by a reception committee and badges will be given them. It will be an interesting occasion, for there, for the first time in the history of the organization, we shall be met by the Mexican survivors of the war. Our president, J. C. Carlton of Bedford, Ind., was in Mexico and met President Diaz three years ago. Diaz was one of the cadets who fought so bravely against us at the storming of Chapultepec. Senor Diaz was much interested in the proposition to hold an international meeting, and his personal representative will be there with other former Mexican enemies of ours. Our encampment will be held in the Mexican building on the exposition grounds. Mexico day and Mexican War Veterans' day will be held on the same day, September 16, and Gen. Lew Wallace will deliver the address of welcome in Spanish and English."

The meeting that made the arrangements for the encampment was held in Terre Haute, Ind., on June 7. The following committees were appointed:

Reception committee at East St. Louis, where the first day's session will be held—Samuel Johnson, Frank C. Smith and Mayor Cook of East St. Louis; J. Nick Perrin of Belleville, Ill.; William Boone Major of Odessa, Mo.; George T. Barney of Elkhart, Ind.; J. G. Craddock of Paris, Ky.; Chauncey F. Sargent of Bellwood, Pa.; W. F. Reed of Ransas City and A. L. Ogg of Greenfield, Ind.

Committee on finance—LeRoy Wiley of Paris, Ill.; George T. Barney of Elkhart, Ind.; W. C. Haines of Philadelphia, Pa.; J. Nick Perrin of Belleville, Ill., and Jerry Woods, Gosport, Ind.

Committee on badges—J. C. Carlton of Bedford, Ind.; Mrs. Moore Murdock of Ft. Worth, Tex., and W. L. Duncan of San Francisco, Cal. Mrs. Murdock is national secretary of the association. She is the daughter of a veteran and takes an active interest in the work of the association.

BLAST FURNACES BUSY THROUGH THE SUMMER

The eight blast furnaces of the Edgar Thomson plant of the Carnegie Steel Company, at Braddock, will continue operating on pig iron through the summer. Three of the furnaces are off. One of the furnaces is making ferro-manganese, and will continue to do so. None of the four stacks of the Carrie blast furnaces at Rankin are to be banked down, and neither are any of the four stacks at the Duquesne Steel Works plant.

Will Talk Pittsburgh.

Members of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association of Pittsburgh will leave this city tomorrow morning on the first trade extension excursion, to be given under the auspices of the association. The party will visit 15 cities and towns in West Virginia. The party will leave over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in a special train at 10:30 a. m. and will be away four days. The purpose of the trip is to allow the members of the association to meet personally the merchants of West Virginia and bring to their notice the benefits of buying from Pittsburgh business houses.

For Oakdale Flood Sufferers.

As a result of the recent flood at Oakdale, a relief committee has been organized to solicit supplies for the sufferers consisting of James McB. Robb, president; John Meldrin, secretary; Mrs. James McB. Robb, Mrs. S. L. Will, Mrs. Charles O'Day and Miss Beth Buchanan. The armory hall, in State street, is the headquarters, and donations of money, clothing or food will be accepted, as many persons yet are not fully provided for. A dance will be given Wednesday night in the armory hall for the benefit of the sufferers.

Register Fell on Passengers.

W. J. Benson of West Pittsburgh was badly cut on the head by a cash register, which fell from its fastenings in a city-bound Crafton and Ingram traction car, near the West End yesterday morning. After his injuries were dressed Benson, who was badly stunned, was removed to his home.

Hurt While Collecting Fares.

Michael O'Tool, a conductor on the Monongahela division of the Pittsburgh Railways Company lines, had his head badly cut by striking against an iron pole on the Homestead bridge while collecting fares yesterday from the running board. O'Tool lives in Talbot avenue, Braddock.

BIGELOW GAVE HIS CONSENT

Bitter Fight in Court Leads Monongahela Company to Remove Property.

The city docks on the Allegheny river, at the foot of Eighth street, were dismantled yesterday by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company, as the result of the bitter dispute in court between the Monongahela company and the Saw Mill Run Coal & Supply Company.

The Saw Mill Run company has a suit in court asking for an injunction to restrain the [illegible] and the Monongahela company from interfering with its use of the docks. In its reply to the answer to the suit, the Monongahela made serious charges against former Councilmen Peter J. Donahue and John Martin. Martin is now the dockmaster. The charge of the company was that an attempt was made to blackmail and to extort money in return for the privilege of using the dock.

Director Bigelow yesterday gave the Monongahela company his consent to the removal of all the hoisting machinery and the coal bins which the company claims it owns. The removal of the machinery and coal bins leaves nothing of the dock except the bare platform. When Philip Flinn was forced by the city to give up the dock about six months ago, he sold the old hoisting machinery to the Monongahela company. The Monongahela company replaced the old machinery with a new hoist and built the coal bins where the coal was deposited after being hoisted from the barges to be loaded into the wagons. The city claimed that by agreement with Flinn the hoisting machinery belonged to the city, but Director Bigelow has waived all claim to the ownership of the machinery.

John Martin, the dockmaster, said yesterday that he would lease and put up a new hoisting apparatus and new coal bins on his own account at once. He said the dock would be maintained for public use, but when he was asked if more than one coal company would be given the use of the dock, he said:

"It will be done if it is possible, but more than one company can hardly use the dock at the same time. When the dispute arose with the Saw Mill Run Company, the Monongahela company would not use the dock nor permit the other company to use it. It kept a barge load of coal at the dock and made no attempt to unload, thus preventing the other company from getting to the dock."

Martin said a dockage fee of 16 cents per 100 bushels was charged on all coal hoisted to the dock, and that the dockmaster received 75 per cent of this fee and the city 25 per cent. He is investing in new machinery, in the hope that it will pay him this winter.

Masons to Lay Corner Stone.

The corner stone of the new Masonic building, at Main and Broadway streets, Carnegie, will be laid at noon tomorrow. Right Worshipful Grand Master James W. Brown of this city, assisted by officers of the grand lodge of Pennsylvania, will have charge of the ceremonies. Prominent Masons of this section will make addresses. The building will be five stories high, of brick and stone, and will cost $85,000. The Masonic Hall association of Carnegie will own the building.

Read Mr. Dooley on "The Carnegie Hero Fund" next Sunday in The Sunday Gazette.

BOUNDARY LINE IS IN DISPUTE

United States Acquires Small Affair of Kind Along With Its Canal Ship.

WILL NOT BE TROUBLESOME

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.

There is an American-Costa Rican boundary dispute in Emryo. Costa Rica, which for years disputed with Colombia the sovereignty of a narrow strip of land extending from the recognized Costa Rican boundary 40 miles south along the Caribbean coast of the Isthmus of Panama, watches with anxious eye the purpose of the United States to establish naval and coaling stations contiguous to the terminals of the canal.

Senor Calvo, the Costa Rican minister, called on Secretary Hay last Thursday, but said that this was a mere leave taking for the summer.

No appropriation has been made by congress for the establishment of naval stations, but Chiriqui lagoon is looked upon as an admirable site. Of course Guantanamo, Cuba, will be the great point of naval rendezvous.

Costa Rica has hoped to settle its boundary dispute with Colombia, which made a counter claim to the entire Mosquito coast extending along the Caribbean seaboard as far north as Cape Gracias a Dios—a claim which if ever validated would have deprived Costa Rica and Nicaragua of any Atlantic ports.

One of the questions with which Mr. Barrett, the United States minister at Panama, will deal with is the boundaries between Panama and her neighbors, Colombia on the south and Costa Rica on the north. The latter is naturally apprehensive about its chance of gaining sovereignty over the aforementioned strip of land if the United States wants it for a naval station. Although Chiriqui lagoon is not within the canal zone, the United States could acquire it from Panama under the following provision of the canal treaty:

"To the end of the efficient protection of the canal and the preservation of its neutrality, the government of the republic of Panama will sell or lease to the United States lands adequate and necessary for naval and coaling stations on the Pacific coast and on the western Caribbean coast of the republic at certain points to be agreed upon with the president of the United States."

Inasmuch as the territory in dispute could be more conveniently governed by Panama than by Costa Rica, it is more than likely that Costa Rica would relinquish its claim for a consideration. The desire of the United States will, as usual, entirely influence the Panama government in this matter.

SAME MAN INSPECTED SLOCUM AND NORGE

Steamship Company Is Also Implicated—Greatly Overloaded the Vessel.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 5.—Henry Lundberg, the local steamship inspector, who certified to the safety of the ill-fated General Slocum, also gave the lost steamship Norge her last inspection. The survivors of the Danish steamer, like those of the Slocum, declare that the life-saving apparatus was antiquated and rotten, and that hundreds of lives were lost on that account.

That the officials of the Scandinavian-American Line are equally implicated is shown by the facts that even Lundberg gave a permit to the vessel to carry only 488 persons, and that the company allowed 778 persons to board the ill-fated vessel.

Hundreds of relatives and friends of persons who are supposed to have lost their lives in the Norge steamship disaster of last Wednesday were in waiting at the offices of the company, No. 18 Broadway, when it opened at 8 o'clock today. Many had copies of morning newspapers containing lists of the supposed dead, and these they sought to verify.

"I am surprised," said Mr. Jonnson, the agent, "that the people are taking the matter so philosophically. While, of course, the people are keen to their losses, there is none of the intense excitement which usually marks a disaster of this nature."

In the group of waiting hundreds were women who wept and laughed alternately, scarcely knowing whether to hope longer for the best or to give up their loved ones for lost. The sale of tickets for outgoing steamers on this line continues heavy and the sale of prepaid tickets has not abated in any respect.

MURPHY PULLS BACK.

Tammany Leader Says His Attitude Against Parker Has Not Changed.

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—Charles F. Murphy said tonight:

"My opinion of the situation has not changed and my attitude has not. No candidate has been nominated, not even Parker. Before saying anything farther, I propose to await the result of the convention. The action of that body will settle everything, and Tammany will be as loyal to the acts of this convention as they have been to the instructions of the New York state convention."

Asked whether he stood for his lieutenant's statements that there were votes enough to defeat Parker, he said: "I cannot say. Others are taking care of the campaign."

Before the tickets had been distributed tonight, Tammany made complaint that if 800 boomers they had brought with them were unable to get even admission to the hall, they would go home. They blamed the Parker people, who, they said, had planned to keep out all but Parker shouters. National Committeeman Mack denied the charge, and said that Tammany had its fair proportion with other delegates.

HUNT MADE RECEIVER.

John F. Jacobs Sues Detroit Southern Railroad for $9,865 for Building Bridge.

DETROIT, July 5.—On the petition of John F. Jacobs, a bridge contractor of New York, Judge Swan entered an order in the United States circuit court today appointing Samuel Hunt receiver of the Detroit Southern railroad.

Similar action was taken at Cincinnati during the day, Judge Thompson of the federal court there entering an order appointing Mr. Hunt receiver for the Ohio interests of the road. Mr. Hunt is president of the road.

Mr. Jacobs has a lien of $9,865 56 for erecting a bridge over the Scioto river near Waverly, O. The Detroit Southern entered an appearance and consented to the receivership. Mr. Hunt's bond was fixed at $50,000.

ONE VOTE IS ASSURED FOR GENERAL MILES

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—The Kansas delegation held their caucus today, and after selecting their committeemen canvassed for presidential preferences. It developed that the delegation was badly split. David Overmeyer, chairman of the delegation will deliver a speech, placing Gen. Nelson A. Miles in nomination for the presidency and will vote for him, and the balance of the delegates will vote about as follows: Hearst, 11; Parker, 6; scattering, 2.

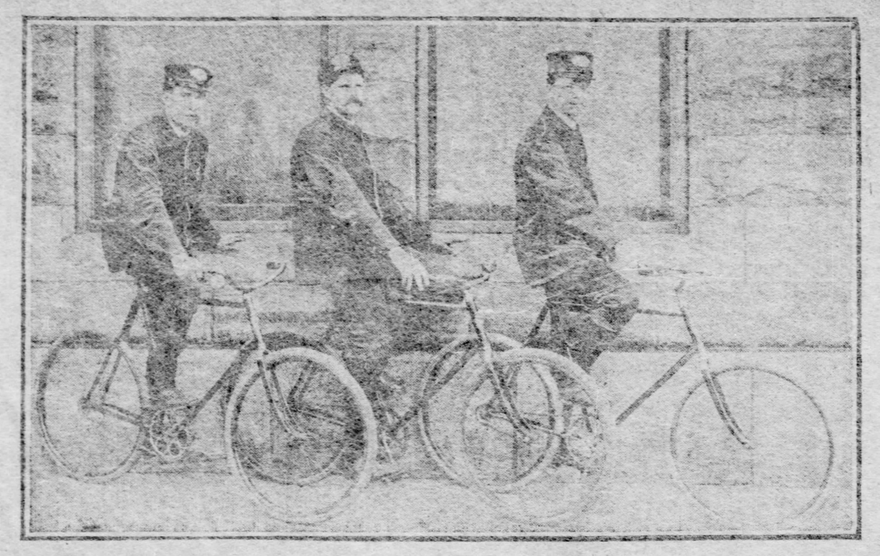
Officers Who Take the Time on Swift Automobilists



In his crusade against automobilists who drive their cars beyond the speed limit Superintendent of Police Wallace has as his chief allies the mounted squads of the Oakland and East End police stations. These men are all well trained and are mounted on either bicycles or horses.

The group in the accompanying picture shows Officers P. McGinty, J. W. Bennett and J. F. Toole, whose duty it is to see that the speed limit is maintained in the Oakland district. To make doubly sure of their work these men have measured off half-mile stretches on some of the more important thoroughfares and they also carry stop watches.

Just where the measured places are they will not tell as this would be playing into the hands of the motor car drivers. Their plan of campaign is this: When an automobile comes bowling along the streets at a speed which looks to be faster than the law allows, the officers pedal along in the wake of the machine until one of the measured places is reached. Then they have recourse to the stop watches and by timing the auto for a half-mile they know exactly at what speed it is traveling. Should the speed be beyond the limit they either overtake the chauffeur or in failing to do this secure the number of the machine and arrests follow.

PASSENGER TRAIN BLOWN FROM RAILS

One Person Killed and Number Injured on Chicago Peoria and St. Louis Railroad.

IS STRUCK BY A TORNADO

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PETERSBURG, ILL., July 5.—An accommodation passenger train on the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis railroad was blown from the track at Oakford, 12 miles north of Petersburg, early tois evening and one person was killed and a number were injured.

THE DEAD.

THOMAS WILEY, Springfield, baggagemaster.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

WILLIAM H. GRIDLEY, Chicago, general manager of the Peoria & St. Louis road, arm broken.

GEORGE A. COLEMAN, Springfield, conductor of train, head cut and bruised.

ERNEST LEIB, Springfield, possibly fatally injured.

HENRY R. CHANEUR, Springfield, head cut.

THOMAS HOGAN AND WIFE, Springfield.

—— LINN, Chandlerville, Ill.

HENRY J. EICHANEUR, Petersburg, Ill.

BEN SWAYZEE, mail clerk, Petersburg.

The train consisted of two coaches, a baggage car and the engine, and all but the engine were hurled from the track down a seven-foot embankment, turning over twice in the descent and landing in a splintered mass of debris. The accident occurred just a few rods from the bridge over the Benjamin river.

The work of relief began immediately, and, owing to the remarkable escape of nearly all the small number of passengers aboard, those who were injured and pinned in the debris were speedily revived and at once given attention. Relief trains were hurried from Springfield and Havana and the more seriously injured were taken to hospitals.

The engineer, who escaped injury, said he watched the gathering storm close as his train sped along, as he feared from the appearance of the clouds that a tornado might result. As the train approached Oakford the clouds suddenly seemed to concentrate and drop, apparently coming directly toward the train. Realising that the train would encounter the tornado if it proceeded, the engineer quickly shut off steam and came to a halt.

The approaching tornado, when about a mile away to the southwest and coming northeast, suddenly swerved farther toward the north and the train was directly in its path. Instantly the engineer opened the throttle in a wild endeavor to rush beyond the zone of danger, and again the tornado swerved and headed directly for the flying train. The roar was heard plainly above the rattle of the train. Steam was crowded on and like a rocket the light accommodation, jumping and pounding on the rails, dashed ahead in an endeavor to cross before the cyclone and pass in safety. Suddenly, with a crash that was heard above the rumble and roar of the tornado, the train was struck broadside.

The coaches were torn from the engine, lifted into the air and hurled from the embankment into the ditch. The engine alone remained upon the rails.

The engineer and fireman hurried back to the wreck and began pulling out passengers. Those who were uninjured immediately assisted and within a remarkably short time the dead express messenger Thomas Willey and the injured passengers had been taken from the debris to hastily improvised shelter. The engine was then hurried on to Petersburg where a relief train was speedily made up and, bearing physicians, hurried back to the scene.

The wrecked cars took fire, but the flames were extinguished before any headway had been made.

As soon as possible the injured were placed aboard the relief train and taken to Springfield and Havana, and those whose injuries were of a serious nature were placed in hospitals.

General Manager H. W. Gridley, who suffered a broken arm, remained on the spot and directed the relief work, as did Conductor Coleman, who was cut about the head and face.

Parker Gets Alabama.

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—The contest for national committeeman between H. D. Clayton, the incumbent, and E. K. Campbell, which engages the interest of the Alabama delegates rather more than the presidential nomination, is at a deadlock. Each received 11 votes at the meeting of the delegation tonight, every delegate being present. The delegation resolved to support Parker.

FILIPINO DELEGATES MAKE STRONG PROTEST

Demand That the Democrats Promise to Redress Alleged Wrongs.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—The Philippine delegates met soon after the national committee and drew up the following protest to the convention:

"It is understood that the national committee will recommend that the Philippine delegation be seated in the national convention merely as a matter of courtesy and that the delegation be denied the right of vote and speech. The Democratic delegation from the Philippine islands believes that for the good of the Democratic party and as a matter of justice to the people of the Philippines, their voice should be heard in the councils of the party. There is no doubt that the Filipino people look to the Democratic party for assistance. In the platform adopted in Manila on the 30th day of April, 1904, and framed by Democratic representatives from every part of the islands, the people of the Philippines stated to the Democratic party their grievances, their needs (particularly for unrestricted trade with the United States) and their demand for redress. That platform should be considered by the national convention before it adopts a national plank with respect to the Philippines. The Philippine delegates urge upon the convention as a matter of reason and justice that due consideration be given to the platform.

The platform is given in full as part of the protest. It asks for a form of territorial government similar to that in Porto Rico and the Hawaiian Islands at the earliest practicable date; declares its belief that the Philippines and the United States are firmly united; demands a definite statement of policy; condemns the Republican policy as being responsible for the ruinous depression in the islands; asks for free trade with the United States on the same basis as Porto Rico; deplores the fact that money interests have been able to prevent the sugar and tobacco interests from being developed; requests that the incoming of American capital be made more attractive; declares for a nonpartisan government in the Philippines and for civil service; requests the largest possible measure of home rule and the delegation of all important powers to the Philippine commission, and commends the work of the army and navy as having pacified the islands.

From what could be gathered from the delegation, it seems that they feel that the failure of the Philippine platform to declare for the independence of the islands is largely responsible for their treatment.

GUESTS OF ALGER.

Secretary Hay and Senator Fairbanks Spend Night in Detroit Enroute to Jackson.

DETROIT, MICH., July 5.—United States Senator Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana, candidate for vice president on the Republican ticket, arrived here today, three hours late, in a private car from Toledo, over the Michigan Central railroad. Senator Fairbanks, who is in the city en route to Jackson, Mich., where tomorrow the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Republican party, "Under the Oaks," will take place, will be the guest of Senator R. A. Alger while in this city.

Secretary of State John Hay, who is to be the orator of the day at the Jackson celebration tomorrow, arrived in the city this afternoon. His train was also late. Secretary Hay joined Senator Fairbanks at Senator Alger's residence, where both were entertained tonight. They will leave for Jackson at 8:30 tomorrow morning.

WILLIAMS MAY BECOME PERMANENT CHAIRMAN

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—The permanent chairman of the convention has not yet been decided upon, and there seems to be no disposition to meddle with the prerogative of the committee on permanent organization. The names most frequently suggested are those of champ Clark of Missouri and Patrick A. Collins of Boston. There is a strong and growing sentiment in favor of making the temporary organization permanent and allowing John Sharp Williams to preside over the convention from start to finish. Mayor David S. Rose of Milwaukee has been mentioned in connection with the position, but the movement in his behalf is not especially energetic.

CANDIDACY OF HEARST WILL NOT BE WITHDRAWN

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—The Hearst managers were assuring all who visited their headquarters today that they still had hope of so organizing the opposition to Parker as to prevent his nomination. They laughed at all suggestions that the name of Mr. Hearst would be withdrawn, and expressed the hope that they were yet able to draw Gorman into the melee and to prevent his friends from going to Parker's support. "Pennsylvania's action did not surprise us," they said. "We have always counted it in the Parker column." Gorman's closest representatives here gave no encouragement to the Hearst view that he would aid them.

CHOOSE THEIR UNIONS.

Socialist-Labor Party Declares Against Sort Headed by President Samuel Gompers.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Unequivocal opposition to "labor unions of the stamp of the Gompers unions," was expressed in the report of the committee on the attitude of the party toward trade unions, at today's session of the national convention of the Socialist-Labor party.

The committee stated that these unions tended too much toward capitalism and conservatism. The committee approved of the social trade and labor alliance, and extended congratulations to the alliance's officers. The approval of the party was also accorded the American labor union, a Rocky mountain organization. The committee reported progress in other directions.

The report was laid over, no action being taken.

EXPECTS TO SEE FATHER HONORED

Judge Parker's Daughter Will Occupy Box at St. Louis Democratic Convention.

IS GUEST OF MRS. MANNING

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—Mrs. Charles Mersey Hall, daughter of Judge Parker and his only child, will witness the Democratic national convention from a box that has been reserved for Mrs. Daniel Manning, president of the board of lady managers of the Louisiana Purchase exposition. Mrs. Hall came to St. Louis last Sunday to see the fair, and, incidentally, the convention, as Mrs. Manning's guest.

Much has been made of her in St. Louis society, and the verdict passed upon her is distinctly one of approval. Her brother's death, when a lad of 14, was a severe blow to Judge Parker and Mrs. Parker. Mrs. Hall, who married an Episcopal clergyman, whose church is in Kingston, has always been her father's companion.

"To me my father is the best man in the world," she said today. "He is my ideal."

Mrs. Hall bears a strong resemblance to the judge in feature and complexion. For years before her majority she was accustomed to take long walks with him through the country about his farm. At Kingston she shares his likes and dislikes, and he has often made her his confidant. Mrs. Hall is extremely retiring in disposition, although the possibility that she may one day in the near future be a member of the White House family, has naturally attracted curiosity to her.

She has prudently evaded all attempts to draw her out, or make her talk. She hopes to see her father nominated for president, and in her mind there is no doubt whatever of the wisdom of such a step. If he is nominated she believes, of course, that he will win.

She is tall and slender of figure, and walks well. She has brown eyes, light hair, like her father. It is thick and heavy, and she wears it high on her head. Her features are regular, with nose and ears small and well-shaped, and a forehead that is both high and broad. Her mouth is small and distinctly the mouth of a woman, with the lips usually parted in a slight smile. She has two children, a boy, Alton Parker Hall, and a little girl, Mary McAlister Hall.

It is not generally known that David B. Hill was responsible for giving the boy his distinguished father's name. Judge and Mrs. Parker had made up their minds to christen him after the judge's grandfather, whose name was John. Mr. Hill had insisted that it would be doing the child a great wrong to deprive him of his grandfather's name and send him into the world comparatively unidentified. Judge Parker yielded to these representations, and Mr. Hill, who was godfather to the child, bestowed the silver cup that he had threatened to withhold if his wishes were unheeded.

Mrs. Hall has the rare faculty among women of attracting other women. Her modesty and tact have made her friends since she came to St. Louis.

TEN THOUSAND ATTEND SALVATION CONGRESS

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, July 5.—Members of the Salvation Army, by the thousands gathered at the Crystal palace today from early morning. Processions representing the various sections under the banners of the different nationalities and led by bands, marched to the palace. By o'clock the grounds and buildings were overrun. The interest of the day centered in a booth in the mail hall, which was packed.

The platform presented a picturesque scene. Representatives of every country were massed in halls under flags of all nations. Gen. Booth, who was the central figure, was given a tremendous ovation. The attractions of the day, including an exposition by the different sections of the work of the Salvationists, concluded one of the greatest days in point of numbers ever seen at the Crystal palace. The attendance was estimated at 100,000 persons.

This was the closing big event of the congress and the rest of the week will be devoted to conferences regarding the future work of the army. It is understood that the delegates from the United States and Canada will visit Paris before returning to their homes.

WOMAN FATALLY SHOT BY AN UNKNOWN MAN

BUTLER, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—While Mrs. Catherine Dimeyeki was sitting in a window of her home, in Mulberry street, yesterday, a man passing the house pointed a revolver at her and fired. The bullet entered her head and lodged between an eye and ear. She was taken to the Butler County General hospital and has not been able to permit the removal of the bullet. Her condition is serious. Her assailant escaped.

Lightning Killed Live Stock.

WASHINGTON, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—While Samuel Ward was milking a cow in his brother's barn this morning, the building was struck by lightning. The cow was instantly killed and Ward was shocked but will recover. The barn, with three other cows, a calf, several horses and a large quantity of grain, hay and produce, was totally destroyed, entailing a loss of several thousand dollars. William Iams of Amity was seated on a ladder when the lightning struck and was hurled across the barn.

Three Deaths by Violence.

STEUBENVILLE, O., July 5.—(Special.)—Coroner Campbell was summoned to Crow Hollow today by three violent deaths. An Italian goat raiser, named Attabal, was shot in the neck and his jugular vein severed, causing almost instant death, in a shooting brawl with Foles. John Brown, a brakeman, was killed by falling between two cars at Bradley mines. J. H. Wood, a section boss, sat down on their railroad track at Bergholz and was killed by a freight train.

Two Fatally Hurt in Runaway.

FREEPORT, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—Carl Coleman and his mother-in-law, Mrs. T. Shuster, were badly injured in a runaway here yesterday. The horse became frightened and upset the buggy, throwing the two out. Coleman was crushed by the wheels and is paralyzed. The woman has three ribs broken and is injured internally. Coleman will not recover and Mrs. Shuster is also in a serious condition.

Toy Balloon Causes $40,000 Fire.

ZANESVILLE, O., July 5.—(Special.)—The Findess & Heckel tannery was burned to the ground between 2 o'clock and daylight this morning, as the result of a burning fragment of a toy balloon falling upon it. The loss is $40,000, with insurance of $18,000. The night watchman tried to fight the flames for half an hour, before turning in the alarm, else the building might have been saved with only a trifling loss.

Fatally Injured by Cannon.

ELLWOOD CITY, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—Several young men late last night were firing a cannon over which they placed a tin can. They amused themselves by jumping over the can. The cannon went off as George Erhart was making the jump. The can was torn to pieces, many of which entered his legs, abdomen and neck. He is not expected to live.

Motive for Suicide Unknown.

KITTANNING, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—John W. McCracken, aged 24, of Garretts Run, committed suicide this morning at 5 o'clock by drinking four ounces of carbolic acid. Mystery surrounds the case, as there is no known motive. McCracken was a machinist, employed at Ford City, and boarded at his sister's, where he drank the poison.

FILIPINOS IN GREAT WRATH

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—The Democratic national committee held this afternoon what, in all probability, will be its last meeting. The representatives of subcommittees, appointed to hear contests in the states of Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Maine, New Jersey, Ohio, South Dakota and the District of Columbia, were heard and concurred in. Not one contest was successful. The majority of these will go before the committee on credentials. In the Illinois case, which is by far the largest and most important, the committee submitted a report which, omitting a brief statement of the nature of the different contests, reads as follows:

It is the opinion of the committee that the national committee, in cases like the present, should recognize the credentials of the regular officers of the only state convention held. In some of the congressional districts there was evidence to show that questionable methods prevailed. In some cases it appears that delegates selected by district caucuses were replaced by persons who had not been selected as the delegates of those districts and in some instances it is at least doubtful whether the substitutions were properly made.

"It would require long and exhaustive inquiry to ascertain the facts. Such an investigation is impracticable, and in our view such would be against the province of this committee. We are unanimous in the opinion that for the redress of the alleged grievances in these contests the convention itself and not the national committee is the proper forum."

On motion of John T. McGraw of West Virginia, Palmer Woods of Honolulu was declared a member of the committee to succeed William Cornwell, deceased. Mr. McGraw then brought much woe upon the delegates from the Philippines by securing the passage of a resolution providing that the delegates from those islands and Porto Rico should be given each six seats in the convention, but no votes until their status had been fixed by the convention.

The Philippine delegates, who were waiting the action of the committee in the hall outside, left in great wrath, declaring that they had been denied admission to the convention, and they "guessed they were not wanted." They held this opinion for several hours after the adjournment of the committee, but the situation was finally made clear to them, and they were satisfied.

Clark Howell of Georgia submitted a strong resolution commending the work of the retiring National Chairman, James K. Jones, and other officials of the committee. It was unanimously adopted, and after Mr. Jones had made a brief address, expressing his thanks for the appreciation of his work, speeches praising his work, and that of the other committee officials, were made by Committeemen Clayton, Mack and others.

CZAR GRANTS FINLAND LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Directs New Governor General to Make Peace With the Finnish People.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 5.—In confirming the appointment of Prince John Obolensky as governor-general of Finland, the emperor sent an autograph letter to the prince relative to the situation there. This letter, which is in the nature of an imperial rescript, was published today. The emperor therein expresses his conviction that it will be possible to maintain the local autonomy and the privilege of legislating for herself enjoyed by Finland since the union with Russia.

The appointment of Prince Obolensky does not carry with it the command of the army. It is believed, on good authority, that this omission is preliminary to the incorporation of the district of Finland into the St. Petersburg district, the commander-in-chief of which is Grand Duke Vladimir, uncle of the emperor.

Prince Obolensky is an able administrator. He displayed great energy as governor of Kharkoff and effectively suppressed the labor troubles in that government. Several attempts were made upon his life while governor of Kharkoff. The emperor rewarded his services at Kharkoff by conferring upon him the rank of lieutenant-general of marines in 1903.

HUNDRED WERE POISONED BY EATING ICE CREAM

HARRISBURG, July 5.—More than 100 persons living at Lykens, Williamston and Wiconisco were poisoned by eating ice cream yesterday at a picnic near Lykens. Physicians were called upon to administer to the sufferers and all are now beyond danger. The theory of the physicians is that the milk used in making the ice cream was impure.

Elks Contribute to Slocum Disaster.

The committee in charge of the Elks' benefit for the General Slocum sufferers have completed their report of moneys received and expenses. Their statement has been audited and approved by the committee appointed by Mayor Hays. The detailed statement shows the amount of cash received to have been $1,226; the expenses, $274.26, showing a net balance of $951.74, which is now in the hands of E. J. Small, treasurer of the Elks' committee.

Camp Meeting at Tarentum.

At the Tarentum camp meeting grounds Evangelist H. H. Eyland is now preaching and giving stereopticon lectures on "The Life of Christ." The regular camp meeting season will begin there on July 28, under the leadership of the Rev. C. M. Miller, assisted by the Rev. Ralph Bell.

Three Houses are Burned.

Three houses, 17, 19 and 21 Townsend street, were damaged by fire yesterday morning. Before the firemen arrived the interiors of the three places were destroyed. The damage is estimated at $2,500.

THINKING FOLKS

need food that will keep brain and nerves well nourished else the brain grows dull and tires quickly.

Suppose you spend a few minutes studying the subject and a few days on an easy pleasant trial of GRAPE-NUTS food that will furnish a clean cut argument to drive the facts home.

A strong, sturdy, money making set of brains can be built on Grape-Nuts and trial proves it.

There's a reason.

July Stock Reduction Sale

Made Necessary By Extensive Rebuilding Operations.

July is here—always a month of stock-clearing in this store—when prices are deeply reduced to effect clean-ups of all the summer merchandise. This July the orders are imperative—our extensive rebuilding demands that stocks be condensed immediately. The workmen are tearing down the Smithfield street front—dust and dirt will ruin many goods if they are not closed out immediately—we would rather stand a loss and give the public unheard values than have merchandise exposed to dust. Prices are now cut ¼, ⅓, ½ and less than ½—such value giving is unprecedented.

MR. BOLL WEEVIL IS UP AGAINST IT

His Executioner Arrives in New Orleans in Charge of Dr. O. F. Cook.

SOMETHING DOING IN DIXIE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.

Despite the fact that Ross L. Clark, a cotton planter living near Houston, Tex., has applied for an injunction to restrain Dr. O. F. Cook of the agricultural department, from bringing into Texas the ants imported from Guatemala to kill off the boll weevil, it was stated at the department here today that any chance of the injunction being granted was not feared, and that the experiment would begin at once. Dr. Cook arrived in New Orleans from Guatemala today, bringing with him in good condition 80 colonies of the mysterious ants.

Beverly T. Galloway, chief of the bureau of plant industry, under whose instructions Dr. Cook imported the ants, said today:

"This Guatemalan ant is not a vegetarian; it is a regular cannibal ant and preys only on the weevil. It will not eat the leaves or any part of the cotton plant. When let loose in a cotton field the little animals do not attack a single plant in a body, but distribute themselves over the entire field and mount the cotton plants in groups of three or four. Wherever we have experimented it has been found that the habitat operates in a most orderly manner. The ants are to be taken at once to our own experimenting grounds in charge of Prof. Hunter and will be used on our own cotton. Exhaustive experiments will be made there until it has been learned exactly how to handle them and how to avoid any possible danger. Until this is done the work will be confined to government property, then the benefit of our discovery will be offered to anyone who wants it.

"We have every reason to believe that our experiments will be successful. This ant was discovered by Dr. Cook, who is our tropical botanist, while on a trip to Guatemala to look into the rubber industry. He found there cotton growing and searching into the existence of the boll weevil and thought at first that he had discovered a grade of cotton that was immune to the depredations of that insect. After carefully investigating, however, he discovered that the cotton owed its escape to the presence of these little ants. The connection between the weevil and the ants undoubtedly dates back many years and is well grounded. The ants are very fond of the liquid that is found in what we call the nectaries of the cotton plants. After the weevil has gotten in its work on the blossom it exhibits no nectar is forthcoming. Consequently the ants set up a watch for the weevil and without damaging the plant whatever by their presence guard it from that destructive pest. They kill the weevil by stinging it to death. Yet they will not sting persons or other insects. In fact Dr. Cook says he has found that they appear to be half domesticated and would crawl over his hand and eat food thereon.

"The ants are found only in a most out of the way part of Guatemala which must be approached part way by water and then over the mountains on mule back. Dr. Cook had some difficulty in capturing enough of the ants to serve his purpose and then it took him some time to gather together a sufficient quantity of old bottles in which to carry the insects. He sent agents throughout all the surrounding villages and bought every old bottle he could find, and bottles were at a premium in that vicinity for a while. The only way to carry the ants was to pack them on mule back and take them over the mountains and it was found very difficult to do this and not kill them. The bottles were filled half full of earth with stones so intermixed that the earth would not be shaken about so as to crush the insects. Of course they had to be fed each day also. After many trials, however, Dr. Cook succeeded in landing at New Orleans with 80 colonies of the ants in good condition. I am sure I do not know how many ants is meant by 80 colonies, but I suppose many thousands."

JUMPS FROM GLENWOOD BRIDGE TO AVOID TRAIN

An Unknown Man Leaps into Monongahela River and Drowns.

In order to escape being run down by a Baltimore & Ohio train, an unknown man jumped off the Glenwood bridge into the Monongahela river late Monday evening and was drowned. His body was found at that place yesterday, but there was nothing on it by which it could be identified.

The man was walking over the bridge and was seen by the crew of the steamer Voyager. He was about in the center of the bridge when a train appeared. The boat crew said the man deliberated for a moment, and realizing that he was about to be run over, he walked off the edge of the bridge deck and jumped into the river.

The pilot steered the boat over to where the man fell in the water, but the body did not come to the surface again. The Voyager steamed to Walton's coal landing and the crew reported the accident to Joseph Green, a watchman. Green immediately got a boat and grappling hooks and tried to rescue the man. He was unable to find him that night, and yesterday he secured the assistance of J. F. Lynch and after grappling for several hours they recovered the body.

The man was about 35 years old, 5 feet 9 inches in height and weighed about 150 pounds. He was dressed as a laborer, wearing a blue suit of clothes and a pink striped shirt. He had blue eyes and brown hair and mustache.

Herman H. Hudepohl, aged 74, of Creighton, near Tarentum, died at his home yesterday from injuries received by being struck by a train on the West Penn railroad near his home Monday. He was a machinist in the Pittsburgh Plate glass works. He was a resident of Creighton since 1850.

SEVENTEEN MORE SURVIVORS FOUND

Fishing Vessel Picks Up Boat Load from Ill-Fated Norge.

DRIFTED IN OCEAN STARVING

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ABERDEEN, SCOTLAND, July 5.—Another boat containing 17 survivors of the ill-fated Danish steamer Norge, which foundered off Rockall reef, 280 miles from the Scottish mainland on June 28, was landed at Aberdeen tonight by the steamer Trawler Large bay.

Six hundred and 27 persons are still missing. The contingent now be cared for at Aberdeen consists of passengers, the third mate of the Norge, the quartermaster, a steward, a lamp trimmer and one of the crew. They drifted at the mercy of the Atlantic for 60 hours when both water and food were gone and when the occupants were almost too exhausted, even to hope, the Trawler hove in sight. This was on July 4, when the boat was about 30 miles off St. Kilda.

Those reached had eeked out on two biscuits per day. When they started from the ill-fated ship there was only one small cask of fresh water in the boat. Before the Large Bay fell in with them this and the biscuits had been finished and the pang of hunger had set in. They weathered a gale and continued as best they might, striving to reach the coast of Scotland against the heavy seas. They constructed a crude sail and the men had scarcely strength to hold the oars.

When the survivors were dragged on board the trawler the fishermen were obliged to forcibly prevent them from eating and drinking too much. Many of those rescued have severe wounds sustained from the decks of the sinking ship. The legs and arms or others are swollen from exposure and from salt water. On their arrival at Aberdeen the survivors were taken to the sailors' home.

The third mate states that three other boats started with that rescued by the Largo Bay. One of these contained 32 persons, including several women and children. Another boat had 15 men with the second mate in charge. The third boat had 10 men on board. The survivors parted company with the three boats on July 3.

For these boats the British gunboat Leda, the government fishing cutter Jackall, a steamer chartered by the Danish consulate at Glasgow and several other vessels are deligently searching.

The bodies of three children rescued from the Norge only to die on shore were buried today on the shore at Stornway amidst pathetic scenes.

COPENHAGEN, July 5.—A subscription in behalf of the relatives of the victims and of the rescued passengers of the Norge, was opened here today. Among the first donors were American tourists. Touching scenes were witnessed again today in the offices of the United Steamship Company. The wives of two of the emigrants lost on the Norge attempted to commit suicide by drowning, but they were saved at the last moment.

Crown Prince Frederick, who is regent in the absence of King Christian, has received condolences from several sovereigns.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The anxiety of many among the hundreds who have haunted the office of the Scandinavian-American Steamship Company since yesterday awaiting news of the ill-fated steamer Norge, was relieved today when a partial list of the survivors at Stornoway was received from the home office of the company at Copenhagen. It has been known since yesterday that 28 survivors of the disaster had been landed at various points along the British coast. The list received today was as follows:

Arder Kopkin, Rinke Risman and five children, Meier Selischich, Yudel Zeirnitow, Ibrahami Scharf, Edward Behm, Wilhelm Hansen, Johanna Mehr, Karl Mathisen, Mrs. Mathisen and two children, Mrs. Isidor Hansen, Miss Hansen, Ingrid, Esther and Andrea Hansen, Inya, Gudrun, Einar, Harriet, Harold and Snyvid Hudgensen, Anton Alson, Miss Sivertsen, Heinrich and George Rahr, Carl Eske, Mathilde Lund, Olaf J. Olsen, Nechame and Aron Chatzkelowicz, Jache and Chaje Hode Ginsberg, Mojscho Israel, Mirriam and Chaje Esther Wechsler, Hirsch Lew, Sam and Simon Kochlin, Schmuel Logan, Johanna Kodt, Chaje and Schmuel Choltz, Herman Werner, Jorden Knudsen, Christian Christiansen, Anders Jensen, Carl Henderson, wife and two children.

CHICAGO, July 5.—Temporary insanity, the result of the loss of his family in the Norge steamship disaster, is given as the cause of the alleged suicide of Otto Hanson, who has been found dead on the Chicago & Northwestern tracks in Evanston. About a month ago Hanson sent for his family to come to Evanston to live.

TREAT 530 PATIENTS.

Quiet Fourth in Philadelphia, but Doctors Are Reasonably Busy Never-the-Less.

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—(Special.)—Patriotism, accompanied by happy gatherings, death and painful injury, had its vent yesterday in what many consider the calmest Fourth since King was mayor. The flawless weather since Saturday took thousands of merrymakers on a three days' holiday out of town under the confliction of the coroners of other counties and states.

In spite of this, the list of casualties was greater than that of last year. One victim, a little girl, lost her life as the direct result of fireworks. Her dress caught fire and she was burned to death. A canvass of the hospitals shows over 530 patients treated as a result of burns and other injuries.

WABASH DEATH LIST NOW NUMBERS TWENTY

LITCHFIELD, ILL., July 5.—S. E. Sheppard, cashier of the Hunker bank at Hunker, Ill., injured in the Wabash wreck Sunday night, died today, and several more of the wounded cannot recover. This makes the total dead 20. Taree of the dead are still unidentified. The coroner's jury, after examining a few persons who saw the wreck, adjourned until Friday.

YOUTH KILLS MAN WHO KEPT HIM FROM DANCE

Victim Knocked Down and Kicked to Death—Murderer of Prominent Family.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WARREN, PA., July 5.—Orrie Filer, aged 30, of Youngsville, near here, was assaulted and killed by Harry Webb, aged 19, early this morning. Filer refused Webb admittance to a dance hall. The latter declared he would "fix" Filer. Meeting him on the street, shortly afterward, the quarrel was renewed. Webb struck Filer in the face and knocked him down. He then kicked him to death, breaking his neck. Coroner Pierce's jury returned a verdict against Webb and he was arraigned by District Attorney Clark of Warren, before Justice Mead, and held for trial on a charge of murder. Filer leaves a widow and three small children. He was highly respected. Webb is a son of Arthur Webb, a prominent manufacturer. Neither of the men were intoxicated.

MET HORRIBLE DEATH ON HIGH RAILROAD BRIDGE

POTTSVILLE, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—Caught by a fast freight train on the high Pennsylvania railroad trestle, which spans a chasm 100 feet deep between New Castle and St. Clair, Charles Mallis, aged 40, met a horrible death today. The man was nearing the lower end of the structure and the train was upon him before he was aware of its approach or the crew perceived him. It was a case of death in a leap from the bridge into the awful depths below, and the same fate if he remained upon the bridge. The harrowing problem bewildered him and he stood paisied with fright until he was struck.

Licenses to Pennsylvanians.

CUMBERLAND, MD., July 5.—(Special.)—The following marriage licenses were granted here to Pennsylvanians: Charles W. Moon and Sarah Tallenfire, both of Youngstown; Robert L. Brinkey of Fair and Reta May Poole of Greensburg; Walter A. Tuning and Ida May Castola, both of Uniontown; Robert Garfield Fetter of Youngstown and Ida Pearl Statle of Keiffer; Regis Edward Geetwald of Nanty Glow and Catherine V. Rodgers of Expedit; Karl J. Shaw and Beagle Shaw, both of Connellsville; Philip Kees and Nettie Margaret Henry, both of McKeesport.

Fight Ended in Murder.

OIL CITY, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—The coroner's jury today rendered a verdict that Alfred Thumwood, who was found dead in an isolated part of the city Saturday night, came to his death from a violent blow delivered by John Lynch, and the latter was locked up, charged with murder. A post mortem examination showed that Thumwood's death was caused by fracture of the skull. He and Lynch fought over a case of beer. Lynch, who is only 18 years old, maintains he used nothing but his fists.

Two Good Gas Wells.

BUTLER, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—The Southern Oil Company is reported to have made two good strikes on its well on the Abe Flick farm, at Coylesville, 10 miles west of Butler, came in yesterday and is said to be putting out 1,500,000 feet of gas a day. The gas is found in the Speechley sand. No. 7, on the Dodds farm, near Brownsdale, had also been completed and is doing four barrels a day.

Lost Job and Committed Suicide.

TYRONE, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—David Schirm, aged 58, committed suicide at his home here about 5 o'clock this morning, by slashing his throat with a razor. He was dead when discovered. Despondency over the loss of his position by the recent railroad suspensions here is given as the cause.

JEALOUSY LED YOUTH TO SHOOT COMPANIONS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

YORK, PA., July 5.—Samuel Vaughn, aged 22, son of William Vaughn, an ex-confederate soldier, who lives in the eastern section of the city, shot two companions, J. Otis Blockinger and William Shuck, this afternoon in a fit of jealousy. Blockinger, who is 19 years old, was shot through the shoulder, near the heart, and Shuck, aged 20, was shot in the hip. The young men had been camping.

They had invited some young girls to visit them and a quarrel ensued. Upon the return home Vaughn borrowed a revolver from a friend, filled himself with whiskey and then went in search of Shuck and Blockinger. His poor aim is probably responsible for saving the lives of both men. They were seriously wounded. Vaughn says he will kill himself before he will surrender.

MARRIED IN PORTO RICO.

Son of Governor Hastings Weds Former Ellwood Girl.

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. W Bryson of Sheridan avenue today received word of the marriage, on June 22, at Auguerre, Porto Rico, of Miss Myrtle May Neice, formerly of Ellwood, and Frank N. Hastings, son of the late Gov. Daniel J. Hastings. Miss Neice went to Porto Rico a year ago to take a position in the public schools, opened by the United States government, while her husband was connected with the government service there. She has contributed many articles for Pittsburgh papers on Porto Rico.

Railroad Employes Reinstated.

ALTOONA, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—All the Pennsylvania Railroad Company employes suspended during the past month at the local freight shops returned to work this morning on full time. In addition many men in other car shop departments have been given employment at the freight shops. An order to construct 500 refrigerator cars will keep the men engaged until winter.

Heavy Loss by Mysterious Fire.

WASHINGTON, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—The grocery store of William L. Woodburn, in Hallan avenue, was totally destroyed this morning by a fire of mysterious origin. The flames had made great headway before discovered. A two-story structure was consumed with all the contents, entailing a loss of $10,000. Little insurance was carried.

Shot Dead by His Landlord.

WELLSVILLE, O., July 5.—(Special.)—Nicholas Granzinico, a boarder at the home of Joseph Gesmonti, had a fight with the latter last night and was shot dead. Gesmonti was placed in jail. He says Granzinico was drunk and insulted him and his young wife and then tried to beat and shoot him.

MATCHES SET FIRE TO BOY'S CLOTHING

With his clothing on fire, John Homer, the 6-year-old son of Samuel Homer of Hannastown, Braddock township, ran through a field to his home, which he reached after nearly all his clothing had been burned from his body. The boy started for a field to see a ball game and climbed over a fence. His coat became fast and while pulling to free himself matches in his coat pocket ignited. He did not discover he was on fire till he reached the ball ground. The boy was burned from the knees to the head and it is also thought he inhaled the flames.

YOUNG ATTORNEY IS KILLED BY HIS CLIENT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEARFIELD, PA., July 5.—Harry M. Shoff, a young attorney of Coalport, was killed by Romey Loymeir while attempting to collect a bill for legal service. Early yesterday Shoff defended Loymeir in an assault and battery case and while on his way home at midnight stopped at Loymeir's to collect his bill of $5.

An argument and fight followed and young Loymeir crushed Shoff's skull. Loymeir gave himself up a short time after the killing.

Shoff studied law under Judge Allison O. Smith and belonged to one of the county's best families. He was 31 years old. Feeling against Loymeir is running high today. Loymeir declares he dealt the blow with his fist and that he did not intend to kill Shoff.

The ragged wound is said to indicate that it was inflicted by a stone or blunt instrument. It is alleged Shoff was trying to get away from Loymeir when the blow was struck. Shoff was well known throughout the county and had been practicing law at Coalport about two months. Loymeir was taken to Clearfield jail tonight.

MANY SERIOUSLY INJURED IN BUTLER ON FOURTH

BUTLER, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—Numerous Fourth of July accidents are reported. Henry Johnston, a boy, was knocked from an overloaded street car and struck on the back of his head, receiving serious injuries. John Dashbaugh of Carbon Center was struck in the eye by an exploding giant cracker and will probably lose his sight. William Graham, aged 13, was burned by a large cracker. John Snodgrass' right side was lacerated and the flesh torn from his elbow by the explosion of a big cracker. Michael Parmiskis' right hand was blown off by a giant cracker. Herman Smith's arm was broken in a ball game.

New Gas Field Opened.

WASHINGTON, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—A new gas field in Washington county was opened today, when a 100-barrel was brought in Morris township. The well is owned by the Dunn's Station Oil and Gas Company. The new location is several miles from any known oil field.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

KITTANNING, PA.—The firemen's street fair at Ford City was opened last evening with 10,000 people on the grounds.

UNIONTOWN, PA.—While playing ball on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at Leith Georges Prosecki, aged 9, was run over by a train and instantly killed.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Lightning set fire to a large barn belonging to Eli Covert, three miles west of this city, and it was completely destroyed. The loss is $5,000.

MEADVILLE, PA.—The body of Guy Gordon, aged 35, was found this afternoon in Conneaut lake. He had fallen from the pleasure steamer Swan on the Fourth. He lived at Shermansville.

BUTLER, PA.—F. J. McDevitt entered suit for $2,000 damages against the road supervisors of Brady township for personal injuries sustained by being thrown from his horse. McDevitt alleges the horse stepped into a defective culvert.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Mrs. Sarah Wolfs was arrested for attempting suicide by jumping into the Neshannock river when she learned her husband was a visitor at a house which the police raided. Mayor Jackson sent her to jail for 10 days.

WASHINGTON, PA.—Rev. Dr. M. F. A. Easton, pastor of the A. M. E. Zion church, has been appointed commissioner general for the state of Pennsylvania for the negro exhibit at the Jamestown exhibition to be held in Jamestown, Va., in 1907.

LATROBE, PA.—Leroy Cox was burned about the face and hands by the explosion of powder with which he was playing. Harry Schitter held a firecracker and let it go, burning him severely and filling his face with powder. Gail Naller shot himself through the left hand with an old revolver.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Chicago at Exposition Park.
Brooklyn at Boston.
New York at Philadelphia.
Cincinnati at St. Louis.

As the small boys are wont to remark, "one was afraid and the other dassn't," was the reason there was no meeting over at Exposition park yesterday afternoon between the Pirates and Colts. There was plenty of time for the clubs to clash with the sun shining down as an accompaniment, but it seems that both sides were looking for an excuse and when a few drops of rain fell about 2:30 o'clock, that was sufficient to call off the game and disappoint hundreds of the fans.

The trouble was that both teams are crippled in the pitching department, and each side welcomed a chance for a day of rest. The playing field was not in bad shape, in fact it was in better condition than it has been at any time this season, and the fans thought a rest after the exertions of the Fourth would do a lot of good and that was all there was to it. Hundreds of the lovers of the game journeyed over to the park only to be disappointed. It would be a wise plan on the part of the officials of the local club to hang out a flag of some kind in a prominent part of the downtown district to notify the public when games are called off, and thus save time and trouble for their patrons.

Manager Dooley admitted yesterday that he is after another pitcher, but cannot make the player's name known until the deal is completed. The club owner lost a chance to secure something wonderful in Joe Gaston, the Beulah wonder, who was at headquarters and notified the club owner that it was his last chance to get him. Gaston says his only trouble is to get batsmen who can handle his throws, as he shoots the ball down with the speed of a bullet. The Beulah wonder was advised to try the Giants or some other team, as the Pirates have a sufficiency of catchers. Smith, Phelps and Carisch. President Pulliam, who was at headquarters, paid a fine compliment to Groundkeeper O'Malley when he stated that the local field is now as fine as any in the league.

Only one game will be played today and the postponed event will not be disposed of until the Chicago team returns to this city in September. The club has created a temporary grandstand, also a band stand, and has made arrangements to have refreshments served on the grounds. There will be music between heats, and a general good time for all who attend. The program of events follows:

Event No. 1, trot—26, Don Shaffer, b. g., F. R. Evans; 10, Hartford Jr., s. g., W. J. Moore; 20, J. C., b. g., L. F. Ross; 5, Cyrus B., blk. g., J. C. Wilson.

The Foster club baseball team had arranged to play two games with the Goehring team of Allegheny on the Fourth, but the latter players could not be gotten away from their packs of firecrackers and as a result the Foster boys and a large crowd of fans were disappointed. About 11 o'clock in the morning three of the Goehring players arrived and with the aid of six bystanders managed to put a team in the field, and were beaten 12 to 8 in easy fashion. The Foster team wants games with 17-year-old teams who are not four-flushes, such as the Goehrings, for games at home. Address the manager, care Foster club, 143 Fortieth street, city. A game is wanted for Saturday next.

Small Price for Africander.

NEW YORK, July 5.—At the dispersal sale of the Hampton stable held at Sheepshead bay today Africander, the champion 3-yearlold of last year and winner of $70,000, was sold to C. Fox for $15,000. He is a bay colt, 4 years old, by Imp. Sir Ruby-Afric Queen. The sale of the Hampton stables here was to dissolve partnership between Dwyer and S. Deimel.

Beville Awarded to Providence.

CINCINNATI, July 5.—The national baseball commission having previously held that awards of all players to major league clubs under the Cincinnati peace compact stand without further appeal, announces that Kansas City had no claim on player Beville and that he was legally released by the American league club of New York to the Providence club.

Rain Spoiled Golf Contest.

Rain again prevented the approaching and putting contests on the limited greens arranged for last night at the Edgeworth club. The events have been postponed to Monday night. Oakmont Country club and Pittsburgh Golf club will play their postponed team match in the W. P. Y. A. series this afternoon on Schenley park links.

Pittsburgh Elks Team Beaten.

The Pittsburgh Elks' team was taken into camp by the Apollo Elks' team and thus given something of a surprize. The score:

PAUL KRUGER'S DEFEAT TOUGH ON THE TALENT

Was Played for a Good Thing at Johnstown, but Went to the Bad—Some Queer Racing.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

JOHNSTOWN, PA., July 5.—Paul Kruger, backed by the talent in the 2:21 trot today, was beaten out by rank outsiders. Susie S., in the third heat, was clearly beaten by Woodmerril, but the judges gave the heat to Susie, notwithstanding the yells of the crowd. Hamilton, the favorite in the 2:12 pace, took the first two heats with ease, but tired out, and did not get near the lead in the remaining two heats. In the 2:20 trot Mallse C. was an easy winner, never being headed by the other racers. John McEwen, in the 2:20 trot, outclassed the field, although Chance for a time was quite a favorite. SCHOLES WON HEAT.

The Canadian Oarsman Working Up to the Diamond Sculls.

HENLEY, ENGLAND, July 5.—The Henley regatta was opened today with unpromising weather. General interest in the event was hardly up to the average, owing to the paucity of foreign entries. There were no entries from the United States and only two from Canada, those of the Argonaut club, Toronto, and Scholes, Scholes. There were no other competitors from abroad. As the Winnipeg's drew a bye they will not row until the final heat for the stewards' cup. The Canadians' appearance, when the racing commenced, were not so numerous as usual and there were fewer housebouts.

L. F. Scholes, the Canadian sculler, won his heat for the diamond sculls today, defeating S. R. Wells of the Bedford Rowing club. Scholes won by four lengths. Time, 9:32.

Rain Stopped Beaver Races.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—The second day's races of the Beaver Valley Driving club opened in good shape this afternoon, but after two heats in the first 2:30, pace, and one heat in the second race, a 2:30 trot, had been pulled off a heavy rainstorm came up and caused postponement until tomorrow afternoon, when the races will be finished. This will end the summer meet of the club.

Pitcher Mueller Sues for Salary.

SHARON, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—Pitcher Mueller, who left the Sharon team to join Jersey City because Manager Moyer fined him $87.50 for jumping the club at Rochester and going to Pittsburgh, has entered suit for the amount. The case will be tried next Friday. John Lang, catcher and utility man, who was with Altoona and Wilmington, Del., last season, was today released by Manager Moyer.

ORT WELLES WON THE STAKE EVENT

Was a Heavy Odds-on Favorite and Had No Trouble Beating Out a Fair Field.

ANOTHER WORLD'S RECORD

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 5.—Ort Welles, winner of the Commonwealth handicap, today added another stake to his list of victories by capturing the rich Lawrence realization stakes, worth $20,945 to the winner, at Sheepshead Bay. He was quoted at the prohibitive price of 8 to 10 and won handily by one length. Mercury, paying 8 to 5 for the place, finished second, with Grazialdo third. THEY GAVE BONDS.

Chicago Bookmakers Take a Step to Prevent More Raids.

CHICAGO, July 5.—To prevent any possibility of a raid on the Hawthorne race track this afternoon by Sheriff Barrett, the 41 bookmakers indicted by the grand jury for accepting wagers on the races at Hawthorne surrendered themselves at the sheriff's office today and gave bonds of $1,000 each for their appearance when wanted for trial. After their bonds had been filed the indicted bookmakers left for Hawthorne, where they accepted bets

SOCIETY

The eighth season of the summer playgrounds and vacation schools was opened yesterday morning in both Pittsburgh and Allegheny. Notwithstanding the rainy morning and the fact that it was the day after the Fourth, there was a pretty good attendance at all the schools, and at some the number of children enrolled almost equaled that on the brightest days last year. Miss Beulah Kennard, the general chairman of the joint committee of women's clubs, under whose auspices this work is conducted, visited both the Minersville school and the playground in the Riverside school. Over 200 children were enrolled in the Minersville school in both the playground and the vacation school, while in the Riverside school the enrollment fell below that of last year, which it was 450. It is expected that it will pick up today and during the other days of this week. In the Columbian Council school, where the number that can be accommodated with comfort is 100, there were 119 children yesterday morning, who came in out of the rain and from their homes throughout the Herron Hill district. Miss Yetta Baumgarten and Miss Welbl are in charge. The work of the vacation school was only partially inaugurated, as the greater part of the time was taken up with the enrollment of the children and placing them in the different classes.

Though the definite reports from the Pittsburgh playgrounds were meager, Allegheny was started fairly on the work of the season, its classes were well organized and the work of the playgrounds and vacation schools is in even now well in hand. Mrs. John Cowley, general chairman for Allegheny, personally visited four of the eight playgrounds opened. In the Fifth ward, where there is always the largest enrollment, there was yesterday an attendance of 300, as many as the teacher could enroll during the morning, while many of the children who could not be enrolled yesterday, will be added to the list of attendants this morning. The millinery class was organized, 75 boys were started on their work of basketry and the cooking class of 20 of the older girls began its course, under the direction of Miss McDermott. In the Fourth ward school, No. 2, art and nature work were taken up. There were so many children in this playground, which is new this year. Basketry was inaugurated, the classes in sewing were started but the opening of the cooking class was deferred until Thursday morning, when Miss McDermott, who has charge of the Fifth ward school again today, will be ready to commence work in the Fourth ward school. The equipment will permit of a class of 16.

In the Eighth ward school the conditions are rather difficult, at present. The carpenters are laying new floors and the plasterers and decorators are working in the building. However, yesterday morning 46 boys were enrolled in the class of basketry, while there was a good attendance in this playground. This is the smallest ward in Allegheny and the number of children in the day school reaches only 250. At the Third ward school the playground overflowed with children, over 400 being admitted and their names taken by the teachers in charge. There is no industrial work in the playground, as the directors asked for a playground only. In the Twelfth ward 225 girls and boys were enrolled and a large number is expected today.

Considering the conditions the attendance at all the playgrounds yesterday was regarded as very good and gives promise of a good season for the children. Friday will be observed as flower day in all the playgrounds and the children in several of the schools will be taken on excursions into the parks, this being in connection with the work in nature study. On Thursday afternoon the teachers in the playgrounds and schools of both Pittsburgh and Allegheny and the chairmen of all committees, will meet in the Grant school, Pittsburgh, at 2 o'clock, when reports of the progress will be given.

Allegheny Pastor Weds in Philadelphia.

A little party of friends and relatives has gone to Philadelphia to witness today the marriage of the Rev. Charles F. Wishart of Allegheny and Miss Josephine Long of Tacoma, Wash. The wedding will take place in the North United Presbyterian church in Philadelphia, the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Anderson, officiating. James Wachob of this city will be the best man and the maids who will attend the bride will be her friends in the east. The Rev. Mr. Wishart has been the pastor of the Eleventh United Presbyterian church in Allegheny for seven years, and his chosen bride has frequently visited here as the guest of his sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Wishart will take a trip up the Hudson and will spend several weeks in Canada, returning to Allegheny, to be at home in the Brighton road after September 1. Miss Long is a sister of Mrs. W. S. Allen in Tacoma, with whom she has made her home. She has just completed a course in domestic science and art in the Drexel institute in Philadelphia and chose to be married in the Quaker City rather than take the long journey to Washington to return so soon to Allegheny as a bride.

Among the guests at the wedding today will be the bridegroom's father, the Rev. W. Wishart, and his daughter, Miss Jeanette Wishart of Allegheny; Mrs. Anna Large of the East End and the Rev. and Mrs. James Walker of McKeesport.

Scarcely a Quorum Present.

A meeting of the juvenile court committee was held yesterday morning, at which the attendance was very small, not even a quorum being present until some time after the hour appointed. Miss Kate C. MacKnight, the chairman of the committee, presided and little but routine business was transacted. The resignation of Miss Edith Chase, the second probation officer, was presented a month ago, Miss Chase wishing to go to California. The resignation, however, was not accepted, and in order to keep her the committee decided to raise her salary to $75 a month, $60 being the salary received by all but Mrs. Allee R. Montgomery, the head officer. Though there are four probation officers, the whole work at present is falling on the shoulders of Mrs. Montgomery and Miss Chase as Miss McCord has been ill for several weeks in the Presbyterian hospital and will be unable to resume her duties for some time, and Miss Emmeline Craighead, the fourth officer, has been granted a three months' leave of absence and is traveling in Europe. Mrs. Montgomery recently returned from the national conference of charities and corruption held in Portland, Me., and gave a very brief report of some of the features of that gathering. Mrs. Montgomery was elected vice president of the National Association of Probation Officers.

Entertainment for Hospital Benefit.

The Ladies' Aid society of the South Side hospital held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in the hospital in South Twentieth street. The lawn fete which was to have been given this summer for the benefit of the hospital was given up a month ago, and yesterday steps were taken to hold an entertainment on a large scale in September. The character of the entertainment has not yet been fully determined. The society yesterday adjourned until the first Tuesday in September, when it will meet in the hospital building. Plans will be completed then for the benefit.

Bronson-Griffin.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth B. Bronson, daughter of Mrs. Lina C. Bronson of Ella street, Wilkinsburg, and H. W. Griffin of the same place, was held yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother. The marriage was solemnized by the Rev. Coleman Byram of St. James' Protestant Episcopal church, and only relatives were in attendance. Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Grace Griffin, a sister of the bridegroom, and Walter B. Kingman of Peoria, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Griffin will go to New York city where Mr. Griffin is temporarily located on railroad signal business. Later in the fall they will return to Wilkinsburg.

Boyle-Wessel.

Miss Sarah Boyle of Wilmerding and Reuben Wessel of Braddock were married at 6 o'clock on the evening of the Fourth of July at the parsonage of St. Aloysius' Roman Catholic church in Wilmerding. The service was performed by the Rev. Father M. E. Ward, pastor of the church. Miss Alice Boyle of Bessemer Terrace, a niece of the bride, was the maid of honor and Raymond A. Buck of Braddock was best man. A wedding supper was served at the home of the bride, and yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Wessel left for the east. They will be at home upon their return in Lillie avenue, Braddock.

Summer on the Isle Urania.

Dr. John A. Brashear and Mrs. Brashear expect to go to Canada next week to spend the summer in their summer home on the Isle Urania, in the Muskoka lake region. Their departure from Allegheny, which they expected to make almost as soon as the Western University commencement was over, has been delayed a couple of weeks by illness, but they confidently expect to get off next week. Their daughter, Mrs. James B. McDowell, and her family, expect to go to Muskoka lake later in the season and the entire party will remain there until September.

Family Reunion in Carrick.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Agnew held a family reunion at their home in Carrick on Monday, the Fourth. A party of friends and relatives went from Pittsburgh and spent the day. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Stuckler, Mr. and Mrs. Niel A. Johansen, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Young of Verona, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Young, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Hotchkins, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Eckert, John Agnew, R. M. Chambers, J. L. Chambers and James L. Herring.

Dinner for Bride and Bridegroom.

A reception was given yesterday by Mr. and Robert Malady at their home, Linden avenue, East Pittsburgh, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Malady of the South Side, a bride and bridegroom of three weeks, who returned home on the Fourth from their wedding tour. The guests included about 50 friends and relatives. A dinner was given in the evening, at which covers were laid for 80 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Malady will live in Knoxville.

Smith—Mansell.

Miss Cordelia W. Smith of Hazelwood and Irving V. Mansell of McKeesport were quietly married yesterday morning by the Rev. E. E. Mansell, father of the bridegroom. Mr. and Mrs. Mansell left immediately for their wedding trip. They will be at home after October 1 in their new home, 1060 Huey street, McKeesport.

An Allegheny Girl Engaged.

Mr. and Mrs. William McKown of Allegheny announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret McKown, and Ralph Vincent Rikill of Wilkinsburg. The wedding will be held in the early fall at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McKown in Perrysville avenue, Allegheny.

Notes of Society.

A leap year donation party was held last evening at the Lawrenceville branch of the Young Women's Christian association.

Miss Gertrude M. Page of Erie and Miss Susan Z. Ralph of Beaver Falls are visiting Mrs. R. M. J. Dodds in Oakwood street.

The Suburban club of Crafton gave a dance at Oakwood park last night. John C. Ross and Arthur Walker were the committee in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas of the East End gave a Fourth of July house party at their summer home, "Lake Lawn," Point Chautauqua, N. Y. The party included Miss Alice S. Thomas, Miss Anna M. Thomas, W. Harvey Thomas, Walter S. Cooper of Sewickley, Harry D. Duff of the East End, John G. Hill of New York city and Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Thomas of Wilkinsburg.

SOME REPUBLICANS ARE IN VERY QUEER DILEMMA

City Administration, in Trying to Make Breach in the Republican City Committee, Unfairly Makes Their Position Difficult.

Members of the Republican city committee who may also happen to be city employes, need not be surprised if the administration should discharge them during the next few days, as the administration served William Beat and Samuel Marshall of the Sixteenth ward.

Beat was an inspector in the construction bureau and Marshall was a street foreman. They were discharged by Director Bigelow on June 30. There are several other members of the Republican city committee employed by the city and their fate may become known after the conference, which the mayor and the directors of the departments and Murry A. Verner are to hold today.

As fast as the administration learns that it cannot gain over the members of the Republican city committee, who happen to be city employes, it will discharge them. The men are in a strange predicament. If the ward associations should learn that they whom they have elected city committeemen have gone over to the Citizens leaders, they will meet and elect others in their places. If the city committeemen should be discharged by the administration, and should later be reinstated, their ward associations will suspect them of having promised their aid to the Citizens leaders and will throw them out and elect others in their place, when, of course, the first ones, having lost their usefulness in the administration, will be discharged again. Only when they have their ward associations at their back are city committeemen of use to the Citizens leaders, therefore, to evolve some scheme by which to gain over the ward associations is one of the object of the conference among the Citizens party's leaders, besides the main object of securing control of the Republican county committee. Where the ward associations are obstinate, their city committeemen will be discharged from the city's service and the same fate will overtake all Republican employes who hold with the recalcitrant associations.

Whatever ward associations are thought to be amenable to "reason" will be well treated by the administration, for enough city employes will be discharged to make places for the members of such ward associations and their friends. Thereby the Citizens party leaders hope to build up a strong faction in the Republican city committee, hoping that other ward associations, seeing how well certain ones are treated by the administration, will see the error of their ways and go over to the Citizens leaders.

The association in the Sixteenth ward could not be cajoled, and, therefore, Beat and Marshall were discharged from the municipal service.

TOURISTS HOME FROM ST. LOUIS

Pittsburghers to Show Their Appreciation of Courtesies Extended by Wabash.

MOCK CONVENTION ON TRAIN.

The trainload of people, guests of the Wabash railroad officials, who were taken to St. Louis on the first passenger train that traveled over the new Wabash line out of Pittsburgh, will show their appreciation of the courtesies extended them in a befitting manner. During their journey home yesterday the guests held a meeting on the train and decided to secure a suitable memorial to be presented to Joseph Ramsey, Jr., president of the Wabash; J. W. Patterson, president of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal, which is the new line; C. S. Crane, general passenger agent of the Wabash, Fred H. Trustram, assistant general passenger agent; and W. D. Holliday, assistant general freight agent.

A committee was appointed to receive funds to make the purchase. The committee consists of Sheriff J. W. Dickson, chairman, Hon. W. B. Kirker, secretary-treasurer; Samuel McElroy, member of Pittsburgh common council; Joseph G. Armstrong, member of select council; John F. Semmelrock, common council; Prothonotary Maj. J. B. Hamilton, J. P. Moore, state representative; W. W. Stoner, assistant city solicitor of Allegheny; Austin Seach, representing the newspapers; John Graebing, city assessor of Allegheny; Louis Bichler, traffic manager of the Carnegie Steel Company.

The committee received $900 while on the train, and before the present is purchased it is expected that twice that amount. Many of the guests remained in St. Louis and they will be given the privilege of taking part in the presentation.

The committee will meet in the office of Sheriff Dickson on Friday afternoon to decide on what to secure for the board. It is probable that a bronze tablet, on which will be inscribed the names of the officials to be honored, will be the article selected.

The ride from St. Louis to Pittsburgh was a long one and, in order that it might not be tedious, various amusements were indulged in by the party. The principal one was a mock, or, rather, a rump, convention. To make it realistic, it was called the Buttinsky party.

The Hon. W. B. Kirker was made permanent chairman, and the nominees were Capt. John Drayo, aged 86, who was selected president because of his youth and vigor as shown during the trip, and Robert W. Herbert, a local newspaper man, was chosen vice president. On account of the train arriving in Pittsburgh as the convention was proceeding, no dark horse was presented.

The party had breakfast at Toledo and luncheon was taken on the train.

HAPPENINGS OF A DAY.

—Eighteen cases of typhoid fever and two of diphtheria were reported in Pittsburgh yesterday.

—The house of William Martin, 1044 Laurel street, Allegheny, was damaged $500 worth by fire yesterday.

—The new police signal service system in Millvale was placed in operation yesterday for the first time.

—John Briney of River avenue, Allegheny, is charged with stealing and kicking Henry Patterson, a neighbor.

—Mrs. Annie Dumblousky and her son Martin are in jail charged with using a poker on John Wishinsky, a boarder.

—Antonio Visco, while at an Italian wedding at Grecopole, near Turtle Creek, got into a fight and had his belly stabbed by some unknown guest with a stiletto.

—Samuel Clark of Bell avenue, McKees Rocks, a puddler in the Lockhart mill, was severely cut about the head by iron falling from the overhead trolley track in the mill.

—Charles Homer and Homer made an information against Mike Ardish, charging him with malicious mischief because he threw matches on her clothing and set fire to them. She was pretty badly burned.

—The Allegheny board of school controllers last night lacked three of a quorum, and in order to wind up the remainder of last session's business a few bills were ordered paid. The board will hold no meeting in July.

—While picking cherries from a tree on her farm in Braddock township yesterday, Mrs. Molly Green, aged 51, of 1035 Ross avenue, Wilkinsburg, fell about eight feet to the ground, breaking her right leg and right kneecap. She was alone and lay two hours before being found. On account of the nervous shock her condition is regarded as critical.

—Edward Herron of Third street, Rankin, was held up in front of his home yesterday morning by two white men who tried to take his watch and chain, but after a battle he managed to retain possession of his valuables.

—George King was cleaning a revolver yesterday at Oakhill, near East Pittsburgh, and did not know the weapon was loaded. He got a bullet in the shoulder, but the wound is not serious.

THUNDERSTORM STOPS TROLLEY

Atlantic City Is Given Good Wetting, but No Great Damage Is Done.

CROWD RAPIDLY DWINDLING

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Young's Ocean Pier.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 5.

The Fourth of July crowd which was here during the last few days has dwindled down to a few noldovers. The railroads were kept busy last night and today in running sections of trains from here to accommodate the vast throng in returning home. The boardwalk was not thronged today by the crowds of pleasure-seekers as it was over the Fourth, neither was the beach sand longer in evidence, or the bathers.

The city was visited by a severe thunderstorm this evening, crippling the trolley service in Atlantic avenue for about an hour. However, there was no serious damage.

Pittsburghers at the Gladstone include Mrs. M. T. Nixon, Thomas N. Nixon, W. G. Collenger, W. H. Blurr, Master James Burr, S. R. Cooper.

E. A. Ritenour is staying at the Morton.

M. J. Meafey and C. E. Galligher are spending a short time at the Grand Atlantic.

C. H. Cook spent the Fourth at the Wiltshire.

Frank H. Lockhead, A. M. Lockhead and C. C. Lockhead are at the Rossmore.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cassidy and J. M. Cassidy are guests at the Seaside.

W. R. McKay is at the Stickney for a few days.

James Davis is at the Austin.

B. Talcott and J. B. Houseman are late arrivals at the Borton.

Victor Lewis is at the Chester Inn for an indefinite stay.

Miss Male Jamison is staying at the Seabrooke.

Samuel Thornton, wife and children are spending several weeks at the Fredonia.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Chester, F. W. Chester and H. H. Chester are registered at the Altamont-Dunlap Hall.

J. W. McGarry and Frank S. Roberts are late arrivals at the Dunlop.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Conway are spending a few days at the Osborne.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Ford are sojourning at the Worthington.

Mrs. Challante and maid are at the Hotel Chelsea.

W. C. Steller and J. E. Hayes are spending the week at the Fredonia.

F. G. Gold is a guest at the Ponce de Leon.

William J. Mitchell Jr., is registered at the Chelwode.

Pittsburghers noticed on the beach in bathing today were Charles Hanks, George H. Packer, George F. Collins and William Flinn.

MINERS ARE TO AID.

Expected to Buy Many Tickets for Orphans Picnic in Calhoun Park.

Fifty thousand miners, members of the United Mine Workers of America, will receive an appeal sent out by Patrick Dolan, president of the Pittsburgh district, asking them to donate their time, talents and money to the cause of the picnic which will be held at Calhoun Park, July 9. The picnic is for the benefit of the 900 orphans at St. Paul's orphan asylum, Idlewood. This notice was decided upon yesterday afternoon at a meeting held in the office of Mr. Dolan, Arrangements were made. Among the leaders in mining circles present were President Dolan, Uriah Bellingham, vice president; Frank McKenna, M. Kerrigan, Thomas Dunn, Andrew Davidson, Hugh McLinden, Henry O'Neil and Thomas Sheehan, members of the executive committee; William Little and Edward McKay, national organizers, and Anthony J. Kivaterski and Vicor Buzzi, local organizers. The national and local organizers and officers were instructed by President Dolan to devote their time to soliciting aid for the picnic.

The plan of action decided upon is for the organizers to send letters to each of the 250 locals of the district and pay personal visits to the mines and attend as many meetings as possible. The organizers will take tickets to all of the mines and an effort will be made to sell one ticket to each member of the organization.

This afternoon the presidents of the various ladies committees of the several parishes will meet Father Lynch at Calhoun park at 2:30 o'clock to draw for the location of the several parish tables.

PRESIDENT MOYER IS RELEASED ON BOND

DENVER, July 5.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, was released from custody by Sheriff Bell on a $10,000 bond in his office this afternoon after furnishing bond for $10,000 on the charge of murder and inciting riot filed against him at Cripple Creek. Moyer has been a prisoner 103 days and during the greater portion of that time confined in the bull pen at Telluride on the plea of "military necessity."

HOUSEBOAT BLOWN UP; TWO PERSONS MISSING

LAWRENCEBURG, IND., July 5.—James Wilson's houseboat, moored a mile below town on the Ohio river bank, was blown up with dynamite early today. Wilson's wife and infant child are believed to have perished in the ruins. Wilson has been drinking for several days and it is known that he and his wife have been quarreling. He has disappeared and no trace of the bodies of the woman and child have been found.

MAN KILLS HIS FATHER FOR INSULTING MOTHER

HOPKINSVILLE, KY., July 5.—Mack Hern of Paducah, aged 28, shot and killed his father, James Hern, aged 60, a saloonkeeper. The dead man had been divorced and married again, and the son took offense at remarks made against his mother and they exchanged blows. Later young Hern walked into the saloon and shot his father, saying: "I killed two fathers if they talked about my mother." This is his explanation.

BOY HURLED THROUGH WINDOW FROM SWING

Albert Elder, aged 10, was painfully injured while swinging in the yard of his home, 309 Walnut street, Homestead, yesterday afternoon and nearly bled to death before a physician arrived. The boy was swinging high in the air when one of the ropes on the swing broke and he was thrown through a kitchen window of his home, cutting several deep gashes in his right leg and arm.

TWO KILLED IN WRECK ON READING RAILROAD

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—A head-on collision on the Philadelphia & Reading railroad today at Frankford, a suburb, resulted in the killing of two passengers and the injuring of a score of others. The dead are George B. Cotton, aged 50, and Henry Black, aged 35 years. Two of the injured are in a serious condition.

Alleged Forger Caught far from Home.

NEW YORK, July 5.—(Special.)—The district attorney's office received word from Buenos Ayres this morning that Charles E. Forbes, alias Irving B. Humphrey, had been arrested in that city and awaited the action of the New York authorities. Forbes was cashier for G. W. Cole & Co., At the district attorney's office it was said that Forbes secured about $15,000 by forgery.

Two Yale Men Drowned.

EAST NORTHFIELD, MASS., July 5.—Two Yale students, J. L. Goodwin of Burnside, Conn., and Ralph W. Armstrong of Harveyville, O., were drowned in the Connecticut river late today. They were in bathing and neither could swim. Goodwin got beyond his depth and Armstrong attempted his rescue.

Italian Ambassador Arrives.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The Italian ambassador to the United States, Baron Mayor Des Planches, and the Baroness Des Planches and Salvator A. Pratt, Spanish commissioner to the St. Louis exposition, arrived today on the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II. from Bremen.

MACHINISTS ARE GIVEN REDUCTION

Manufacturers Notify Workmen of a 10 Per Cent Cut and Open Shops.

REFUSED TO ARRANGE SCALE

The machinists throughout this district have had a reduction of 10 per cent. Notices were posted in the various works yesterday to that effect. In addition to this, all plants, shops and factories will hereafter be operated as open shops, the manufacturers and the International Association of Machinists failing to agree upon a new wage scale, which ended the last of June. About 10,000 men are affected.

The Manufacturers' association virtually controls the machinists' wages in this territory, and despite their efforts to arrange a new scale with the men, they have been compelled to call off all negotiations. The representatives of the union were asked to confer with the Manufacturers' association some time ago. The officials of the union met the manufacturers, but claimed they had no power to act, as a conference of that kind is left to a special wage committee appointed for that specific purpose. Since that time the manufacturers have asked for a joint conference, but the union failed to appoint a committee.

The matter terminated Sunday, when the union claimed the Manufacturers' association violated last year's scale on several occasions, and that it was the time appointing a committee to arrange another scale. As soon as the manufacturers learned unofficially that the union did not intend arranging a new scale, they decided to declare open shops and the reduction.

The workmen claimed that the minimum rate of wages last year was fixed at $3.7½ a day. Some of the workmen were previously getting a great deal more than the minimum, but when the new scale went into effect the high-priced men were discharged and then hired again at the minimum wage. In this manner the manufacturers gained more than was given in the advance from $3 to $3.7½.

Some of the union men claim they will not accept the reduction, while others say they will work for the $3.70 a day until better times come, when they will retaliate on the manufacturers.

Nothing has been done towards settling the moulders' scale. Two conferences have been held with the Manufacturers' association, but at each one a deadlock resulted. The manufacturers claim they will force a reduction and an open shop.

CHAUTAUQUA

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 5.—(Special.)—It rained heavily all morning and Chautauqua presented a gloomy appearance to the many arrivals which came by every boat. The weather continues cool and the frequent rains prevent the activity in outdoor sports which otherwise would prevail. The devotional hour, conducted by Miss Miller and Miss Layton of Malvern, Australia, and the organ recital given by Prof. Starnes, were very poorly attended, on account of the rains. In the afternoon Prof. Lockwood gave the second of his series of lectures on "American Men of Letters," Irving being discussed. The lecture was very interesting, as it contained incidents with which even students and ardent admirers of Irving are unfamiliar. Prof. Lockwoods' delivery is entirely conversational and unstudied, and is to many most pleasing on that account. Miss Morrison preached Irving Day in the vatieon. That the pope is enjoying his usual health is proved by the fact that he received Cardinal Macchi and Mgr. Deserclaires in private audience this morning.

GEN. CRONJE MARRIES WIDOW OF BOER SOLDIER

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—Gen. Piet Cronje of Boer war fame was married today to Mrs. Stertzel, widow of a Boer soldier. The ceremony was performed in the Boer camp on the fair grounds and was private. A public reception was held after the day's performance.

President of Haiti Apologizes.

BERLIN, July 5.—A dispatch from Port au Prince, Haiti, says that all the soldiers of the palace guard concerned in the recent attack on the French and German ministers have been severely punished, and that, as President Nord, in a formal audience, apologized to both ministers, the incident is now closed.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Will Run Their Second Special Excursion to the Seashore on Thursday, July 7th.

Morning train leaves Union station, Pittsburgh, at 8:55 a. m., carrying Pullman parlor cars and day coaches, reaching Atlantic City at 8:55 p. m. Evening trains with coaches and sleeping cars at 4:55 and 9 p. m., and with sleeping cars only at 10 o'clock. Rate $10 in coaches only, or $12 in parlor or sleeping car, when accompanied by regular Pullman ticket. Tickets and Pullman accommodations can now be secured at city ticket office, Pittsburgh.

MYSTERY IN WATER CAMP.

Prohibitionist Chairman Hires Hall for Three Days, but Declines to Tell Why.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 5.—State Chairman Newlin of the Prohibition committee, who had charge of the arrangements for the recent national Prohibition convention, today engaged the same hall for July 20, 21 and 22. He declined to say for what purpose the hall was engaged, adding that it would be announced after the close of the St. Louis Democratic convention.

Asked if Silas Swallow, their presidential candidate, had declined to make the race and a second session of the national convention would be held, he refused to answer. The national executive committee was empowered to fill all vacancies.

POPE'S ILLNESS DENIED.

Pontiff, However, Suffers From Intense Heat in Rome.

ROME, July 5.—There is no truth in the report, circulated in the United States by a news agency, that the pope suffered from an attack of palpitation of the heart this morning. The heat in Rome this year is unusually suffocating and enervating. All the leaders of the Roman aristocracy are complaining. The pope also feels the heat, especially as this is the first summer he has spent in Rome.

The pontiff, however, is exceedingly well situated, as the heat cannot be said to penetrate even the thick walls of the vatieon. That the pope is enjoying his usual health is proved by the fact that he received Cardinal Macchi and Mgr. Deserclaires in private audience this morning.

NEW YORK STOCKS STRONG AND TRADING MORE ACTIVE

Union Pacific, Pennsylvania and Steel Preferred Were Leaders in the Advance—Prices Closed at the Highest of the Day.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The resumption of business in the New York stock market yesterday after the triple holiday was attended by an increase in the volume of trading and higher prices all around. Wall street had the benefit of strong quotations from London, where the advances ranged from ½ to 1 per cent, as compared with the close last Friday. On this side the market opened fractionally higher, and then a period of hesitation occurred accompanied by a slight reaction. It looked as though the day was to be a repetition of the many that had prevailed for the past three weeks. Early in the afternoon, however, strength appeared in Union Pacific, and under the leadership of that stock the whole market responded. Union Pacific rose from 88⅜ to 91⅜, the highest quoted on this movement, and closed near the top. Southern Pacific advanced nearly 1 per cent to 48, and Atchison rose 1¼ per cent to 74½, closing at 74¼ bid. During the final dealings St. Paul displayed great strength and advanced from 143⅜ to 145⅝, giving color to the current reports that Standard Oil interests were in sympathy with the general movement.

While the western and southwestern stocks were advancing other prominent issues were also strong and higher. The street had not had an opportunity since last Saturday to express through the market its opinion of the Pennsylvania report for May, which showed a decrease of $519,000 gross and $389,000 net on lines directly operated east of Pittsburgh, and the feeling before the opening was that the stock would sell off. It pursued just the contrary course, opening strong and higher at 116 and at the close selling at 116⅝, the highest price touched for weeks. Baltimore & Ohio, Delaware & Hudson, Reading and Ontario & Western were all strong and higher and closed near the best. Louisville & Nashville, which reported a decrease in gross earnings of $96,000 for the fourth week in June and a decrease of $205,000 for the month, advanced from 110 to 111½, and closed at the top.

United States Steel was the strongest of the industrials, and despite reports of decreasing output of iron, all issues advanced. The common stock sold at 10½, the preferred at 56⅝, and the sinking fund bonds at 97. The fluctuations in Amalgamated Copper were smaller than in any other prominent stock, opening at 50 which was low, advancing to 50¼ and closing at 50⅜.

During the early part of the session the traction stocks were most active, with Metropolitan the leading feature. This stock advanced from 115 to 116 and fluctuated rapidly between those prices, closing at 115. Metropolitan Securities opened at 84½, declined to 83¼, rose to 85 and closed at 84. Interborough closed higher at 134½ bid. Brooklyn Rapid Transit fluctuated between 49 and 49¾, closing at 49¾. The friction between this company and its patrons over the matter of charging an extra fare to Coney Island, in the face of a court decision denying the right of the company to make the extra charge, is liable to influence the action against the company and is construed as a bearish factor on the stock.

There was practically but one item of real news during the day that could be construed as decidedly bullish. This was the government report on cotton, showing a condition of 88 per cent, against 85 per cent in June, 77 at the corresponding date in 1903 and 84.7 in 1902. The effect of this report was a sharp decline in the price of cotton to a new low point, the market closing near the lowest. As an offset, the weekly bulletin on crop conditions issued by the Weather Bureau was rather unfavorable all around. During the past week there has been too much moisture in the southwest, which has interfered with winter wheat harvesting; too low temperatures in the corn belt, which has interfered with growth, and unfavorable conditions in the northwest, which affected spring wheat. In Chicago wheat was strong and higher, the market having the benefit not only of domestic conditions, but of reports of unfavorable weather abroad.

From this resume of the day's developments, it can be seen that there was nothing particularly bullish on stocks, but there was a distinct improvement in sentiment, which seemed to be based upon the feeling that the radical element in the Democratic national convention this week would be suppressed, and that the impending presidential campaign would be robbed of a disturbing feature in connection with business.

There was a slight increase in trading on the Pittsburgh stock exchange and the tone of the market was steady to firm. River Coal preferred sold unchanged at 21⅜ and Pittsburgh Coal preferred at 57½. Steel stocks were firm and higher, Crucible common advancing to 4½, the preferred to 36¼, United States Steel common to 10 and the preferred to 56½. Westinghouse Electric advanced to 75¾ and closed at 75⅝ bid, a net gain of ⅝. In the bond list Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville 5s sold at 98¾, an advance of ⅝ for the day. Monongahela Light and Power 5s declined 2 per cent to 101.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Owing to a lack of a quorum yesterday the meeting of the directors of the Monongahela River Coal company to take action on the semi-annual dividend on the preferred stock, was postponed until next Tuesday. The stock sold unchanged at 21⅜. Pittsburgh Coal preferred was also unchanged at 57½.

The strength of the local steel stocks was apparently in sympathy with the advance in the east. Crucible common was in fair demand and advanced to 4½. The preferred was inactive, two small lots selling at 36 and 36¼. United States Steel common sold here at 10 and in New York at 10⅛, the highest price for more than a month. The preferred rallied to 56½.

Westinghouse Electric was one of the strongest stocks, and after selling at 78½, closed at 78⅝ bid, the latter the highest price for more than a month. Air Brake was nominally quoted at 125 bid.

There was a fair demand for Pittsburgh Brewing common, which advanced to 24¼. The preferred, after selling at 45, closed at 45⅛ bid.

A small lot of Philadelphia Company common sold at 38¼, but the stock closed at 38⅜ bid for 100 shares.

There was a good demand for Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville 5s, which sold at 98½ and closed at that price bid, an advance of ⅝ for the day. The first semi-annual coupon came off on the 1st inst., and yesterday's price is practically equivalent to 100⅝, the highest of the year.

American Sewer Pipe sold at 20, a decline of ¼, and closed at 19¾ bid.

The Humboldt Fire Insurance Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of 8 per cent, $4 a share, payable on demand.

The gross earnings of Wabash for the third week in June decreased $80,502.

Official announcement is made that the Third Avenue Railroad Company of New York will pay on July 30 the first quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on the stock out of the rental received from the New York City Street Railway Company.

The Norfolk & Western surplus over charges in June increased $59,000. For 11 months the surplus increased $37,000.

London was the principal buyer of Union Pacific at the opening yesterday. It is said that the stock of Union Pacific owns about 12 per cent earned on the common stock.

The gross earnings of Canadian Pacific for June decreased $50,000, and for the fiscal year decreased $184,000.

A Boston dispatch said: "Financial people here are getting ready to extend their congratulations to 20 Broadway for the manner in which the dividend declaration through Mr. Belmont has been managed. It is, however, regarded as a mistake to have had the hand of the Standard Oil so openly shown as in the delivery of Pennsylvania's 60 votes through Mr. J. M. Guffey of the J. M. Guffey Petroleum Company, whose oil interests both in Texas and Pennsylvania are closely associated with the Standard Oil Company."

"More than once we have pointed out that the great objection to securities of public service corporations, regarded as media for private investment, arises from the fact that the bulk of them have been in the making so overpaid with what is dishonest capitalization that fair returns of interest on this capitalization can be obtained only by unjust exploitation of the general good. There always comes a time when this exploitation is stopped by public opinion, and when that time comes the innocent security holder has to suffer."—Wall Street Journal.

Corporation lawyers are much interested in the recent decision of the supreme court of Illinois extending local taxation to cover manufacturing corporations. A class of corporations heretofore exempt from taxation in Illinois and usually exempt in other states in which the manufacturing is carried on, are affected. The opinion of the court is that the exemption of manufacturing and certain other corporations from local taxation is class legislation and thereby void. In Illinois it is estimated by the counsel for the Cook county board of assessors that this opinion will add $50,000,000 to the taxable corporate property in the city of Chicago.

There is clearly an increasing investment demand for railroad and industrial stocks and the more active and successful trading element is working for higher prices.

At the biennial meeting of the stockholders of the Peoples Savings bank the following board of trustees was re-elected: D. McK. Lloyd, Thomas Whitman, Robert Wardrop, J. D. Lyon, Edward E. Duff, J. Painter, Jr., Hon. Edwin H. Stowe, W. J. Moorhead, George W. Crawford, William R. Thompson, Henry R. Rea, W. L. McClintock, W. K. Shiras, Thomas Patterson, George E. Painter, D. Herbert Hostetter, D. Lee Wilson, T. H. B. McKnight, John H. Dickelson, Jr., W. G. Gregory, Benjamin Thaw, Calvin Wells, John G. Holmes, Henry Chalfant and James K. Duff.

The Manchester Savings Bank and Trust Company of Allegheny has declared an initial quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent. The bank has a capital of $125,000. The original surplus was $26,000, to which $5,000 was added on July 1.

The Allegheny Bridge Company has declared a dividend of $1.50 a share.

The Central District and Printing Telegraph Company has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 2 per cent.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The Pittsburgh and Duluth Development Company is exploring with great speed the central part of its ground, lying west of the Calumet and Arizona. One drift is being driven northwesterly across the center of the company's ground to the corner of the Hope claim of the Calumet and Arizona, a distance of 2,500 feet on Pittsburgh territory. At one point, in the Bellflower claim, this drift will be 2,025 feet below the surface. It is reported that this drift, which is now just inside the company's territory in Sunnyside claim, is meeting exceptionally fine and promising formation. Preparations for sinking to the north, a drift to begin which will go straight to the shaft, and this drift will be 1,800 feet long. It should be in ore, for it is in the company's best looking territory. The shaft is sinking and north of it a drift is running westerly to the Hope claim. The Pittsburgh and Duluth must be taken over and paid for in August, unless an extension is arranged, and the company is very anxious to find what it has before that time.

At the 710-foot level of the Junction Development they have cut a station and are starting a drift toward the Calumet and Pittsburgh shaft, which is 2,600 feet away, but most of the distance has been covered by a drift driven by the Calumet and Pittsburgh on the 910-foot level. As the shaft progressed below this station, a change in the character of the ground is expected.

A small hoist has been placed at the bottom of Irish Mag shaft of the Calumet and Arizona, and it will be sunk to 1,500 feet at once.

Water is coming in more and more rapidly on the 1,100-foot level of the Lake Superior and Pittsburgh. Openings for another 100-foot lift, one large pump from the Calumet and Pittsburgh has been placed and another is to be added. The two will handle 450 gallons a minute from that depth. It has been found that the ore encountered on the 1,000-foot level extends at least 85 feet farther down, as it has been followed that far in a winze and continues as strong and rich as ever. At about 30 feet down in this winze a boulder of barren rock was cut through. At this mine a four-compartment shaft will be sunk between the Cole and No. 5, and a fourth near the Allee claim in the southeastern part of the property. The former of these two will open a large ore body on the 1,000-foot level. The second is for hoisting work. A station will be a large shaft, as the indications at that part of the mine are as good as anywhere upon its surface.

Both the Copper Queen and the Calumet and Arizona smelters are making copper at the rate established earlier in the year. The latter has made this year to date, practically six months, 34,000,000 pounds of copper, which 99.2 per cent fine, or 15,170,000 pounds refined. Late in the year this rate may be slightly increased, but the additional smelter capacity now begun cannot do much good before next year.

There is no truth in the report that the Calumet and Arizona is to erect a plant for the treatment of its native copper here. Smelting facilities for the large ore supply for the combined mines has not been settled, and it will not be announced until it is proved that the properties require a smelter and until the companies have made exploration as to water and other factors of importance.

TWO APARTMENT HOUSES ASSURED

C. C. Hamilton Will Build One and the Atlas Land Company the Other.

DEAL FOR CHURCH PROPERTY

The information leaked out in realty circles yesterday that C. C. Hamilton, the real estate broker, is the buyer of the Dennison lot at Reserve and Baum streets, which was sold last week for $20,000. When the sale was made it was announced by the Land Title & Trust Company, which negotiated the deal, that a large apartment house would be built on the site. Mr. Hamilton confirmed this statement yesterday and said that a surveyor would start at once laying out the site. The approximate cost of the apartments to be erected will be $70,000. Instead of having one building to cover there will be three separate buildings each three stories high, two of which will face on Rebecca street and one in Baum street. These will cover practically the whole lot, which is L-shaped, having a frontage of 90 feet in Rebecca street and 46 feet in Baum street, running through to the rear of the old residence of G. McDowell, which is at the corner. Last year Mr. Hamilton built two apartment houses in Braddock and Westmoreland avenue, Swissvale, which cost $85,000, and he now contemplates a four-story apartment in Millvale avenue, East End. The site which he has just purchased is considered one of the best in the entire East End district, as the lot is well adapted for the erection of the same style two regarding apartments, and the location insures easy renting of flats at good figures.

Another Apartment House.

Another apartment house deal became public yesterday in connection with the sale of 69x116 feet at the northwest corner of Meade street and Lexington avenue, East End. The lot belonged to Robert Powell and W. T. Graham and was bought by the Atlas Land Company, through the office of John A. Sharp, for $3,500. Plans are now being prepared for a three-story brick apartment house to cost $75,000. It will contain 12 flats of six rooms each, and will be modeled after the Akron apartments at Craig street and Center avenue, which are owned by John Shirley and Mr. Seeley and are regarded by renting agents as model buildings of their kind. Work will be started at once.

It is reported on good authority that a deal is still on foot for the property of the Hebrew Church of the Tree of Life at the east corner of Fourth avenue and Ross street. The property has a frontage of 80 feet in Fourth avenue and 60 feet in Ross street. It is said that the congregation has held the property at $80,000, but that the present offer is for about $50,000. The location, near the Fourth avenue station, is considered ideal for flat buildings, as it has a rear frontage in George alley. The name of the intending buyer could not be learned.

News in Building World.

These building contracts have been awarded to local architects within the past few days: Sibley P. Hockert to Cochran & Davis, the masonry brick and stone dwelling in addition to Forty-fourth street, to cost $50,000; Eichenlaub & Madden to L. H. Feldhoun, the three-story brick apartment house on the plan of Newport, Stitter & Co. in Shady avenue, East End, to cost $30,000; James Campbell to D. H. Crisman, a three-story brick and cement house for Graham Circle, Wilkinsburg, on Maple avenue, to cost $10,000; James T. Steen to the W. S. Tyler Company, the ornamental iron work on the brick and stone addition to the Dollar Savings bank in Fourth avenue.

Architect Edward E. Klee has plans for a double three-story brick and stone bank and office building to be erected in Main street, Mt. Pleasant, at a cost of $65,000. The first floor will be occupied jointly by the First National bank and the Citizens Savings and Trust Company of Mt. Pleasant. Bids will be taken about July 20.

Architect N. Campbell is preparing plans for a three-story apartment house to be built in Ingram for Dr. J. S. Crawford at a cost of $25,000.

Milby & Reed are taking bids on a brick veneered house in Grandview avenue for Joseph A. Langhans, to cost $12,000.

S. A. Dickie & Company of the East End will take bids July 14 on two center hall brick houses in Walnut street to cost $18,000 each.

W. E. Kaufman is having estimates made by Architects Smith, Westerly & Austin of New York, on a brick residence in Moorewood avenue to cost $12,000.

Decision in New York.

A decision of unusual interest to architects, contractors and builders, has just been handed down by the supreme court of New Jersey. The state board of agriculture in that state issues licenses to architects. Recently the board refused to grant a license to Norman J. Raymond of Jersey City, on the ground that he was not an architect, but merely a builder. When the case was brought into court it was shown that the applicant for a license in addition to failing to have studied architectural construction and had satisfactorily constructed 37 buildings after plans and specifications drawn by himself. The court held that such an interpretation of the law constituted him an architect and ordered the license issued.

Many architects objected to the decision in that it did not recognize the necessity of an architect being a graduate of a technical school. This, it was urged, would be a serious blow to the exclusiveness which is the chief asset of many architects who have been graduated from well-known architectural schools. Just now the architects of Pittsburgh are again discussing the matter of requiring a license for every practicing architect in the city which, it is believed, will do away with many builder-architects who have no technical knowledge or an excellent natural ability. Whether such a law could be enforced with justice to all is doubtful as the recognized ability of men outside the profession proper would seem to entitle them to do work hardly less meritorious than the diplomas of architects whose work has been manifestly inferior.

MILLFEED BREAKS; PINEAPPLES JUMP

Coffee is Tending Upward—New Plums Come—Limburger Cheese Declines.

There is a break in millfeed at last. Neither bran nor middlings were wanted very much last week and demand was so limited yesterday that reductions were made in quotations. Heretofore the local market did not justify a reduction: buyers of all kinds have been protesting on account of the unusually high prices. The change is $1 per ton on middlings and $1 50 lower on bran. Mixed feed was not out of the local hay market and quotations have been reduced further. There are about 100 cars of hay in the Manchester yards and receipts yesterday were heavy. Oats are going down also, and quotations have been reduced. There have been few changes in the price of wheat during the past two weeks and the local flour situation may still be called easy.

Grocers are busy filling orders for fruit jars. The demand keeps up well for sugar, as is usually the case about this time of year. There is a brisk trade in fruit butters of all kinds. The coffee market is very firm, and indications are that prices will further rule the near future. The Brazil crop just finished was estimated at 15,000,000 bags, but has turned out less than 10,500,000 bags. The coming crop is not likely to be more than 9,000,000 bags.

New North Carolina wild plums arrived yesterday and sold at $1 50 and $2. The potato market is firmer. Arrivals of new potatoes yesterday were 40 cars. Peaches are moving very freely and yesterday's arrivals, 21 cars, were heavier than on any previous day this season. Tomatoes are scarce and wanted, but three cars being consigned yesterday. Melon cars are arriving in big quantities and the supply is ample. Sixteen cars of bananas came in and 15 cars of cabbage arrived. Green beans are wanted. Pineapples have burned and are quoted $1 higher. The market was poor all around in this line. Nearly everything was cleaned up before the holiday and business is generally dull for a while after July 4. Poultry continues about the same as last week. Limburger cheese is quoted lower, while the old stock is entirely out of the market. Swiss cheese is wanted.

The Boston market was quiet yesterday. Sales at the exchange in Grant street exceeded 200, but buyers are few at present. Nearly all the sales were made on drivers, there being little use, apparently, for draught stock.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

Receipts for Monday and Tuesday: Pennsylvania, 49 cars oats, 47 cars hay, 15 cars corn, 8 cars feed, 1 car oats and bran; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 7 cars hay, 2 cars oats, 1 car feed, 1 car corn; Lake Shore, 2 cars oats, 8 cars hay, 3 cars corn, 3 cars corn and oats.

Jobbers charge an advance of 6 cents a bushel and $1 a ton for ear and millfeed from warehouses in less than carload lots.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, July 5.—The wool market may be said to be strong and active, with a firm advance under way. Some large sales are noted, all the big mills being in the market. Approaching the new clip in a conservative manner, manufacturers are now apparently carried away by the situation and are anxious to secure the best lots. Pulled wools are quiet and territory grades active. In foreign wools there is little doing. POOR HARVEST WEATHER BULLS WHEAT MARKET

Reduction in World's Supply Also Has Tendency to Boom Prices in Grain Pits.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 5.—Wheat opened strong. Among a variety of bullish factors that influenced traders at the start were poor weather in the southwest and the large decrease in world's shipments. Since the adjournment of change on Friday, rains had been quite general in the southwest, greatly delaying harvesting. Reports from Russia were especially favorable to bulls. Shipments for the week from Russia showed a falling off of over 1,000,000 bushels, and those from the Danubia country were reduced by half. The amount on passage was nearly 5,000,000 bushels less than a week ago. A revised estimate of the French crop made a considerable reduction in the total yield. Foreign grain markets were affected by the bullish statistics, particularly Liverpool, closing up ½@¾c net. Under these influences there was an active demand for wheat here, small shorts being the principal buyers. As the session advanced the market gained additional strength. An official forecast of bad weather in the southwest caused fresh anxiety to shorts in view of a strong market at Kansas City. At times the pit was almost entirely bare of offerings, and buyers had to materially bid up prices before orders could be filled. The only bear factor of any importance was the Ohio crop report, which made the condition of the crop 59 against 54 last month and 75 a year ago. Primaries to-day reached at 85@85½. Notwithstanding the fact that there was considerable liquidation going on during the last half hour, the market closed strong. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 165,000 bushels. The amount on passage decreased 3,976,000 bushels, and the visible supply decreased 507,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 876,000 bushels, compared with 979,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 885 cars against 290 cars last week and 762 cars a year ago.

The strength of wheat created some firmness in corn, but there was no great amount of bull enthusiasm manifested. The volume of business was small, interest of traders being centered in the wheat pit. Local receipts were 265 cars, with 49 of contract grade.

The oats market was not inclined to sympathize to any extent with the bullishness of wheat—in fact speculative interest was rather inclined to depression, the volume of trading being extremely small. There was a slight demand for July from shorts and local bull traders bought small lots of September. Local receipts were 224 cars.

Provisions were firm early on a good demand from packers resulting from a bullish hog market. On the advance commission houses were liberal sellers, causing a decline. Later in the day a rally occurred on the strength of grains. The market closed steady.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 14 cars; corn, 287 cars; oats, 105 cars; hogs, 28,000 head.

WATSON LEADS POPULIST HOST

Man from Georgia Unanimously Nominated for President After Allen Withdraws.

NEBRASKA RUNNING MATE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., July 5.—Thomas E. Watson of Georgia was unanimously nominated for the presidency today by the Populist convention, and Thomas H. Tibbles of Nebraska was named for the vice presidency. Senator Allen positively decined to allow his name to be presented to the convention as an aspirant for the presidential nomination.

The committee on resolutions in its report to the convention reaffirmed adherence to the basic truths of the Omaha platform of 1892 and of the subsequent platforms of 1896 and 1900. The platform then says:

"The issuing of money is a function of government, and should never be delegated to corporations or individuals. The Constitution gives to congress alone power to issue money and regulate its value. We therefore demand that all money shall be issued by the government in such quantities as shall maintain stability in prices, every dollar to be a full legal tender, none of which shall be a debt redeemable in other money.

"We demand that postal savings banks be established by the government for the safe deposit of the savings of the people.

"We believe in the right of labor to organize for the benefit and protection of those who toil, and pledge the efforts of the People's party to preserve this right inviolate. Capital is organized and has no right to deny to labor the privilege which it claims for itself. We feel that intelligent organization of labor is essential, that it raises the standard of workmanship, promotes the efficiency, intelligence and character of the wage earner. We believe with Abraham Lincoln that labor is prior to capital, and not its slave, but its companion, and we plead for that broad spirit of toleration and justice which will promote industrial peace through the observance of the principles of voluntary arbitration.

"We favor the enactment of legislation looking to the improvement of conditions for wage earners, the abolition of child labor, the suppression of sweat shops and of convict labor in competition with free labor, and the exclusion from American shores of foreign pauper labor.

"We favor the shorter work day and declare that 8 eight hours constitutes a day's labor in govern ment service, that eight hours should constitute a day s labor in factories, workshops and mines.

"As a means of placing all public questions directly under the control of the people we demand that the legal provision be made under which the people may exercise the initiative, referendum and proportional representation and direct vote for all public offices with the right of recall.

"Land, including all the natural sources of wealth, is a heritage of all the people, and should not be monopolized for speculative purposes, and alien ownership of land should be prohibited.

"We demand a return to the original interpretation of the Constitution and a fair and impartial enforcement of laws under it, and denounce government by injunction and imprisonment without the right of trial by jury.

"To prevent unjust discrimination and monopoly, the government should own and control the railroads and those public utilities, which in their nature are monopolized. To reduce the cost of service to the consumer, the government should own and operate the general telegraphs and telephone systems and provide a parcels post.

"As to those trusts and monopolies, which are not public utilities or natural monopolies, we demand that those special privileges which they now enjoy, and which alone enable them to exist, should be immediately withdrawn. Corporations hereafter the creatures of government should be subjected to such governmental regulations and control as will absolutely prevent them from profiteering, and the taxation of monopoly privileges, while they remain in private hands, to the extent of the value of the privileges granted.

"We demand that congress shall enact a general law uniformly regulating the powers and duties of all incorporated companies doing interstate business.

The platform was adopted unanimously.

Among the members of the national committee are: Ohio—Hugo Preyer, R. H. Hennelin. Charles Jenkins. Pennsylvania—Theodore F. Ryder, J. F. Cowell, P. H. Feller.

SENATOR BEVERIDGE CALLS UPON PRESIDENT

Mr. Roosevelt Is Getting News from Democratic Convention by Direct Wire.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 5.—Senator Beveridge of Indiana called on President Roosevelt today and spent several hours with him discussing the situation in his own state and the campaign generally. The matter of Senator Fairbanks' resignation from the senate, he said, was not discussed by them. Mr. Fairbanks has stated very positively that he does not intend to resign.

Senator Beveridge left for New York on the 2 o'clock train. He has been visiting Joseph Sears at his summer home near Sagamore Hill, and said his visit to the president this morning amounted to nothing more than a friendly call. He is on his way to the Maine woods, where he will remain until August.

All sorts of rumors were going about yesterday afternoon concerning a telegram the president is said to have received from Hackensack, N. J. It was said that while the telegram came in the form of a Fourth of July congratulation, it was couched in language that might be construed as a threat. Secretary Loeb said no telegram of the sort had been received. The secret service men laughed at the rumor and said they had not been informed that any telegram had been received.

The president and all of his boys spent an hour at target shooting this afternoon. No records were broken. All of the president's family are now at home except Miss Alice Roosevelt.

The president will get news direct from Sec. Taft's office in Washington while the Democratic convention is in progress. As fast as bulletins are received here in the Oyster Bay office they will be telephoned to the president's house at Sagamore Hill.

Fire Routed Many Tenants.

Fire damaged the three-story frame apartment house owned by H. S. Leighton, in John street, Braddock, yesterday morning, and threatened the lives of a score of people living in the building. The fire started in a bath room and its origin is unknown. The loss on the building is $500 and a similar amount on the stock of plumbers' supplies of H. S. Leighton, who occupied the first floor of the building.

Mortgagee Buys Worcester Spy.

WORCESTER, MASS., July 5.—The Worcester Spy plant was bid in at public auction this afternoon for $10,000, by Edward Clark of Natick, the mortgagee. This was the only bid on the property. Mr. Clark will hold the plant until he finds a purchaser. The plant was mortgaged for $16,000.

Held for Juvenile Court.

Charles McCollough and William McVittie, aged 13, of Braddock, were held for the juvenile court by Justice Frank B. Redman of Braddock, yesterday. They are charged with entering the tobacco store of J. M. Lubic, in Braddock avenue, and stealing a large quantity of goods.

Horne's New Department of Sheet Music.

The Joseph Horne Co., always ready for any innovation demanded by the public, yesterday introduced their department of sheet music.

The purpose is to have the very latest popular music, both instrumental and vocal, on sale for underprices, which is a feature of this popular store. Not only will popular music be sold, but all the well known classical music can also be bought.

The new department is situated on west mezzanine and is easy of access, as it is right on the same floor with the public parlor. It is presided over by a gentleman thoroughly conversant with the wants of the multitude of musical people, and every new song or instrumental piece will be ready the moment it comes from the publisher's hands.

VICTIM OF GREEK DUELLO WELL KNOWN IN PITTSBURGH

MINISTER S. STAIS.

S. Stais, the Greek minister of worship and instruction who was killed a few days ago in a duel with M.Hadji-Petros, a member of the chamber of deputies, was well known and liked by the Greek residents of Pittsburgh. Michael Patrikios of Wylie avenue knew the dead minister, and furnished the photograph reproduced above. M. Stais was born in the Ionian Islands 44 years ago, and had been in office 13 years. He leaves a widow and children. He was a professor in the university of Athens and president of the international Olympian games. He also had an enviable war record gained in the campaign against the Turks. For his services to his country he was decorated by the king.

FOURTH OF JULY WOUNDS REQUIRE PROMPT CARE

City Physician B. A. Booth Says Victims of Toy Pistols Will Contract Tetanus If Not Properly Treated at Once.

"Unless the victims of toy pistols have their wounds attended to immediately, tetanus, or lockjaw, will develop within the next 10 days."

This was the statement of City Physician Booth yesterday.

"Parents and physicians cannot be too careful of their treatment of the Fourth of July accidents," he added. "If the proper precautions are taken, tetanus germs can be checked."

Over 42 persons in Allegheny county were injured by toy pistols Monday. There were about the same number last year, and of those 23 died from tetanus. It takes from five to 10 days for the disease to develop and Dr. Booth maintains immediate treatment of Monday's victims is necessary to prevent death.

Dr. Booth said the wound should be thoroughly cleaned. All the burnt tissue, wadding and powder should be removed, and if possible, a center opening should be made to allow free entrance for air and drainage. The wound should be loosely padded and bandaged. Anti-tetanus serum should be injected at once in the spinal canal. In 12 hours the injection should be repeated. If tetanus should develop, the patient should be placed in a dark room with deadened floors, his ears should be plugged and every possible means should be taken to avoid disturbance which might start spasms.

Acting Superintendent of Police Alexander Wallace is pleased with the result of the police work during the celebration. The day passed with few accidents and little disorder. Supt. Wallace said the small list of accidents was partly due to the few celebrations in the city parks. With the exception of the pyrotechnical display in Schenley park during the evening, there was no other event that drew a large crowd.

During the fireworks display Supt. Wallace had 200 policemen scattered along Forbes street from Brady street to Craig street. There were 109 policemen in Schenley park at the time. There were a few robbery reports made to the superintendent during the day, but outbreaks of disorder were few. Supt. Wallace stationed three policemen about the base hospital in the city to prevent boys from putting off firecrackers and other explosives near those institutions. The officials of the hospitals said the patients were not disturbed.

THREE NEGROES ATTACK JERSEY FARMER'S WIFE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

TRENTON, N. J., July 5.—There was intense excitement in Burlington county, south of Trenton, today following the dual crime of three negroes, who robbed and then attacked Elsie Bittle, wife of Charles Bittle, a farmer, living near Burlington.

News of the outrage spread throughout the community, and almost before the negroes had left the immediate scene of their crime, a posse of farmers was on their tracks. Bittle, returning from Burlington, where he had been delivering milk, met the excited crowd, and was almost crazed with grief and rage when he learned the cause. He at once joined in the search, arming himself with a shotgun.

One section of the avenging party sighted two black men running towards a woods. Several of the pursuers opened fire. One of the negroes screamed in pain and bloodstained leaves and grass afterwards showed that he had been wounded. The pair, however, escaped. In the meantime, accompanied by a neighbor woman, Mrs. Bittle drove to Burlington and made formal complaint before Squire Smith. She swore that one of her assailants was Aaron Timber, a former employe of her husband, another was Byron Fox, and the third was unknown to her.

Fox and a negro who gives his name as Tom Jones were arrested in Burlington. They denied any part in the crime.

WALL AROUND CAPITOL.

Harrisburg Residents Have It Reduced to Four and Half Feet.

HARRISBURG, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—Instead of a "Chinese wall around Capitol park," the heighth of the proposed coping will be four and one-half feet in Fourth street and two and one-half feet in Third street. This fact was developed at a meeting this afternoon between Joseph M. Huston of Philadelphia, architect for the new capitol, and designer of the Capitol park improvements; the board of public buildings and grounds and a special committee of Harrisburg citizens.

The Harrisburg citizens were entirely satisfied with the explanations of Mr. Huston's plans and it is doubtful if any further action will be taken to prevent the construction of the wall.

EARNINGS OF WABASH SHOW GOOD INCREASE

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—The financial statement of the Wabash railroad, issued at the general offices here today, for the fiscal year ended June 30 gives a gain of $1,885,020 in the gross earnings over the previous 12 months. The total gross earnings from all sources were $23,013,745.85. The gross passenger earnings were $7,048,689, an increase of $900,011, or 14.7 per cent, over last year. The freight statement shows an increase in gross earnings of $794,949, or 5.5 per cent, over the previous year. The total gross freight earnings were $14,068,105.

BEAVERS MUST STAND TRIAL IN WASHINGTON

NEW YORK, July 5.—George W. Beavers, former superintendent of the bureau of claims and allowances of the post-office department, will be taken to Washington for trial under the indictments found there by the federal grand jury for alleged acceptance of compensation for securing a government contract for book typewriters. This was decided in Brooklyn today by United States Judge Thomas, who held that the reasons given for the removal of Beavers were valid.

STEAMSHIP PASSENGER FLEECED BY GAMBLERS

Western Merchant Catches Them Using Signals and Publicly Accuses Them.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 5.—With the arrival of the North German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II. this afternoon from Bremen came a story that last night, while off Nantucket, three of the saloon passengers playing cards in the smoking room of the ship were astounded when an onlooker announced that two players had been found to fear the other.

The announcement caused great excitement, and it appeared as if serious trouble would occur. Those with cooler heads prevailed, however, to allow the matter to rest until the ship reached her pier.

As also was sliding into her slip a note fluttered from the promenade deck to the feet of a number of baggagemen. They picked it up and say that it read:

"If there are any detectives on shore will they please get ready to arrest three gamblers who have been fleecing passengers on board."

The note was unsigned and it was passed to a uniformed policeman on duty at the agency. He read it, and, with the remark that he could do nothing, walked away. No attempt to make any arrests was made by the police. The men who accused the two players was C. A. Stonehill, a wealthy western merchant.

The men had a system of signals, Stonehill said, and he was so astonished at first to realize that anything wrong was going on that he could hardly believe his suspicions were correct. After seeing the operation repeated several times, however, he became convinced and made the fact known.

The steamship made the passage in five days, 19 hours and 10 minutes over the course of 3,170 miles, at an average speed of 25.78 knots. Capt. Hogeman said the ship took an extreme southerly course. On her outward voyage the Kaiser Wilhelm II. broke the hourly speed record of 24.58 knots an hour. The best run on that trip was 564 miles in 23 hours and 10 minutes, averaging about 24.35 knots an hour. ALEXANDER DODDS.

BIDS FOR STATE BRIDGES.

Half Million Dollars to Be Spent for New Structures.

HARRISBURG, PA., July 5.—(Special.)—Eight county bridges are about to be erected by the state at a combined cost of more than $500,000, to replace those destroyed last winter by the ice and floods. Thirty-five bids for the construction of these bridges were received and opened today by the board of public buildings and grounds, of which Gov. Pennypacker is president.

The bids are being tabulated by the secretary of the board, John E. Scott, for presentation at a meeting next Tuesday, when the contracts will be awarded. The Penn Bridge Company of Beaver Falls is the lowest bidder for six bridges, as follows: Dauphin, Wayne county, $7,221.06; Sharpsville, Mercer county, $23,630; Mofavia, Lawrence county, $62,875; Goodman, Wayne county, $6,295; Blakeley, Lackawanna county, $11,960; Acid Factory, Wayne county, $5,122.

The King Bridge Company, Cleveland, O., was the lowest bidder for the bridge to be built at Danville. Its bid was $138,500. The Pennsylvania Steel Company of Steelton, bid $140,000 for the bridge at Ulster, Bradford county, its bid being the lowest.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR RAILROADS

Traffic on Pennsylvania as Great Now as in 1902, Says Mr. Joyce.

OPERATING COST IS HIGHER

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square. NEW YORK, July 5.

Vice President Prevost and Traffic Manager Joyce of the Pennsylvania railroad, who have been actively investigating the traffic situation, say that business is picking up and that the outlook is much brighter than it appeared a few days ago.

"I have no fear of the future," said Mr. Joyce today, "and I find that the traffic on the Pennsylvania railroad is as great now as it was in 1902."

This statement causes much surprise in view of the fact that the Pennsylvania management has been exercising great economy in the matter of operating expenses, cutting down the number of employes and reducing days of shop work.

It is pointed out, however, that the expenditure of running railroad increased 10 to 30 per cent during 1903, in consequence of the higher scale of wages and the advance in the cost of materials. The Pennsylvania business in 1902, while good for that period, would not have been considered satisfactory with expenses of operation as they were two months ago. With the extensive retrenchments recently ordered by President Cassatt, there is reason to believe that the Pennsylvania will close the current year without serious loss.

H. W. Ashley, assistant to President Ramsey of the Wabash, said today that, in his opinion, much of the retrenchment now planned by the railroad companies throughout the country will be found to be unnecessary. He sends the signs of the times as propitious, and bases his calculation on the May and June earnings of the Wabash and Ann Arbor lines, which, he says, were almost as good this year as in the banner year of 1903. Mr. Ashley thinks that business conditions will justify a reinstatement of many of the dismissed employes within the near future.

"To sum up the situation," said Mr. Ashley, "the depression in railroad traffic has appeared only in spots, and cuts no figure in the general estimate of the outlook."

One result of the recent falling off in freight traffic has been the bringing together of railroad owners and managers in an effort to induce congress to pass some kind of a pooling bill. A general conference of the principal railroad presidents in this country will probably be held early in the fall to take concerted action in the direction of the desired legislation. The railway men want to be allowed to pool their freight earnings under such restrictions as may be established by the interstate commerce commission.

TO DISCUSS PRICES.

Members of Steel Billet Association to Meet Today, but No Changes Are Expected.

NEW YORK, July 5.—(Special.)—Members of the Steel Billet association will meet tomorrow to consider prices for the third quarter, and possibly, for the entire last half of the year.

The pool members are of the opinion that prices will be reaffirmed at $23 a ton. The strongest argument in behalf of reaffirmation is that even a radical reduction would probably not stimulate trade.

A member of the steel plate pool says that it has practically been decided to reaffirm prices. The meeting is expected to be harmonious, notwithstanding the fact that one or two small companies will argue in favor of a slight shading in certain classes of material.

HOUSETOPS SUCCEED BRIDGE

Two Women and One Man Take Suicidal Leap in New York.

NEW YORK, July 5.—(Special.)—Two women and a man sought death today by leaping from the tops of houses. Both women were instantly killed. The man will probably die. Several suicides and attempts at suicide were, in the opinion of physicians, due to the intense heat. During the day 13 persons were overcome.

What promised to be a record-breaking day in point of heat was somewhat tempered toward sunset, when a thunder shower, accompanied by high winds, caused the mercury, then hovering in the eighties, to drop 10 degrees suddenly to 70 degrees and cleared up the moist and oppressive atmosphere.

Held for Shooting Child.

Joseph Orri of McKeesport was held for felonious assault and battery yesterday by Alderman L. N. Morgan of that city, and in default of $300 bail was sent to jail. He will be held to await the result of injuries to the 4-year-old son of John Pierpot, who is now in the McKeesport hospital with a bullet wound in his abdomen. It is alleged that Orri fired the shot. The latter denies the charge.

Narrow Chests.

The old theory that consumption was inherited is utterly discredited by modern medical science. The germs of consumption must be received from without. These germs are everywhere. They are constantly being received and cast out by the healthy system. It is the narrow chested whose inheritance is weakness who fall a prey to consumption because they are too weak of lung to resist and throw off disease.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes weak lungs strong. It cures obstinate deep-seated coughs, bleeding lungs, weakness, emaciation and other conditions which if neglected or unskilfully treated find a fatal termination in consumption.

$3,000 FORFEIT will be paid by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y., if they cannot show the original signature of the individual volunteering the testimonial below, and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing, thus proving their genuineness.

"In the spring of 1900 I was taken with hemorrhage of the lungs, and became very weak and short of breath, lost flesh and had no appetite," writes Mr. R. L. Robinett, of Nexen, Tenn. "I was persuaded to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first few bottles seemed to do me but little good. Thought I would soon be a victim of that dreaded disease, consumption. But almost gave up in despair when my friends persuaded me to give your 'Golden Medical Discovery' a fair trial. I commenced its use. I weigh 160 pounds now, and when I commenced I only weighed 120 pounds. If any one doubts this statement I will be pleased to answer any inquiry."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." Nothing is "just as good."
